

FRENCH PRESIDENT SHOT DOWN

City's Birthday Party Ends Tomorrow

ENTIRE DAY OF MERRIMENT IS IN STORE HERE

Inauguration of First President to Be Reenacted in Afternoon

CLOSES FESTIVE WEEK

Amos Storey, First Mayor of Appleton, to Reappear "in Spirit"

Appleton's seventy-fifth birthday party and tomorrow. A gala week of celebrating comes to a close with a whole day of merriment and a schedule of events which combines the sublime with the ridiculous.

The first folks down town Saturday will find at least one of the comedy bands of musicians has preceded them. Clowns, too, will somersault and cut up in and out of stores and along the street. The seventy-fifth taper has been lighted on the city's birthday cake, and the 200th birthday of the first president has been acknowledged as becomes an old American city, with parades, displays, pageants, inspiring music and spectacles. Saturday comes a day for fun. For, even in the children's birthday parties, after the cake is lighted, the presents opened, and the congratulations made, there is always a less formal time for games and fun.

Twice during the day the clowning will be interrupted. At 1 o'clock Mayor Goodland expects a distinguished caller. It is rumored that Amos Storey, first mayor of Appleton in 1857, will return in character to the city to give the present mayor to enter this carriage and escort him over the celebrating city that he might behold the transformation which the years have wrought. And all those interested citizens who wish to make that historic trek with the two mayors are urged to do so. It may be a yarn to tell in days to come and it may be a trip rich in compensations as it passes industries and institutions, parks and playgrounds and unveils the mighty resources and assets of a city too little known even by those who have helped to build it.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon, one of the most dignified and inspirational moments of the eight-day celebration will be offered free to the public on the plaza before Lawrence Memorial chapel.

There is a setting historically correct and with colonial dunes and damask in their evening taffetas their powdered hair and with their tiny parasols and other revolution period hallmarks adding the picturesque touch of color, George Washington's inauguration will be reenacted.

The ceremony will be brief but it is certain to be memorably impressive. Daughters of the American Revolution, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Carl Neidhold, have taken this project as their own and with the coaching of F. Theodore Cook, dramatic coach, have assembled a notable little company and a thrilling picture. Youngsters, and students as well as all adults should schedule their Saturday events, the general committee suggests, so that nothing will prevent their witnessing the first inauguration.

Will Repeat Oath

At the strains of "Hail to the Chief" prescribed from early days as presidential etiquette, George Washington accompanied by John Adams, the first vice-president, Governor St. Clair, secretary Otis, and Baron von Steuben who taught so gallantly in the American cause, will appear before the first time in American history, the oath which made him president of the United States. Turning then to the crowd he will read his very brief inaugural address. The 120th Field Artillery Band under Edward F. Mumm, will resume the program of patriotic airs, the concluding serious episode of the week of the celebration observance, will go away rewarded by the inspiration and picture which their memories will retain according to those who have prepared the scene.

The company which will present the first inaugural in the open air

Esther Lutzow Chosen Queen Of Appleton's Jubilee Celebration

With a lead of over 500,000 votes over her nearest opponent, Miss Esther Lutzow won the Jubilee Queen contest after the final vote was checked this afternoon. Her total vote was 1,911,550. Miss Kathleen Noel with 1,409,900 votes was runner up, and Miss Betty Malloy, who polled 1,324,400 votes came third. Winner of fourth place is Miss Betty Meyers who garnered 1,135,350 votes, and fifth place was won by Miss Dorothea Wonders, whose total was 1,041,750.

$2,000,000 PIER RAZED BY FIRE

Second Pier on Hudson River Menaced as Flames Sweep Beyond Control

New York — (AP) — Fire raged for hours through the $2,000,000 Cunard pier in the Hudson river at 13th-st today and just before noon, with the pier threatening to collapse at any moment. The flames were still out of control and steadily spreading to other waterfront property.

The fire started early in the morning in rubbish under Pier 54, a steel and concrete structure extending 1,000 feet into the Hudson.

By noon the flames were creeping steadily along the concrete soiled piling on which the river piers rest, toward the sister pier at 12th-st and had advanced through a wall of water to ignite a two-story office building on West-st connecting the piers at 12th and 14th-sts with the 13th-st structure.

WOMAN PERISHES IN BURNING HOME

Eagerness to Save Household Goods Results in Death Near Kenosha

Kenosha — (AP) — Mrs. Emma Phipps, 70, was burned to death today when fire destroyed the home of her son-in-law, Herman Mousman, 25 miles west of here.

The woman's death was attributed to her eagerness to save furniture in the flaming frame building. Several times she dashed through fire and smoke to some cherished possession.

Finally her son-in-law forcibly restrained her. But in the confusion she slipped away and made one more trip, presumably to get canned goods from the basement. Her body was found by Coroner A. B. Schmitt.

NYE HITS AT EFFORTS BY "PROPAGANDISTS"

Washington — (AP) — Senator Nye (R., N. D.), said in the senate today that "propagandists" have driven congress into an "hysteria" of effort to balance the budget.

Nye mentioned Marie Thorpe, editor of "The Nation's Business," as the source of much of what he referred to as "propaganda" in favor of reducing government expenditures and balancing the budget.

Thorpe's weekly radio addresses have brought letters to congressmen protesting against government expenditures. Nye said the theory presented by Thorpe and others was that the budget must be balanced, not with the aid of "those whose wealth has grown so tremendously since the war, but by cutting expenses."

SEAT 1,600 AT EACH COOKING SCHOOL CLASS

Lawrence Memorial Chapel Ideal for Eleventh Annual School

This year's Appleton Post-Crescent Cooking school beginning Monday, May 16, for four days at Lawrence Memorial chapel, will be without question the finest school held in this city since the first humble cooking classes were started 11 years ago.

Beginning with a handful of interested women in the small auditorium of Appleton vocational school, the increasing attendance through the years prove the education values and popularity of these free cooking schools. The Appleton Post-Crescent Cooking school has grown from a few hundred participants to thousands. Need for more room sent the school to the Elk's auditorium where the attendance steadily increased until that building was too small for the more than 2,000 eager women. When more than 4,000 women attended the school in the high school auditorium last year, the problem of adequate space again faced this newspaper.

Thus it is that with this year's unusual program, Lawrence Memorial chapel was obtained to accommodate thousands of whom the nationally known culinary expert, Fannie Hamilton, will attract to the four afternoon classes.

THREE SOLDIERS DIE IN CROSSING SMASHUP

Battle Creek, Mich. — (AP) — Three enlisted men members of Battery D, Third Artillery, Fort Sheridan, Ill., were killed shortly before noon today when the truck in which they were riding was struck by a Michigan Central passenger train near Augusta, Mich. They were enroute to Camp Custer for the annual spring training maneuvers.

Captain Kenneth M. Anderson, adjutant at Camp Custer, said the three men were registered as Corporal Levine, Private Huston and Private Kraft, all of Fort Sheridan. He said identification had not been made.

NEW VATICAN ENVOY IS NAMED IN FRANCE

Paris — (AP) — Francois Charles Roux, former minister at Prague, was named ambassador to the vatican today replacing Joseph de Fontenay.

The action was taken at a meeting of the council of ministers which was attended by Premier Andre Tardieu, who left his home for the first time since he was taken ill of laryngitis early last week.

LIVESTOCK MEN ASKED TO ATTEND HEARING

Madison — (AP) — Livestock shippers and farmers throughout Wisconsin today were asked by the department of agriculture and markets to appear before the Public Service Commission May 10 when a proposal to increase intra-state livestock shipping railroad rates will be considered.

Norris For Roosevelt If Party Names New Yorker

Washington — (AP) — That veteran independent warhorse from the wide spaces of the northwest, Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, will bolt the Republican pasture once again to support Franklin D. Roosevelt if the Democrats nominate him.

He gave assurance last night that he would back the New Yorker, even as he in 1928 he supported for Alfred E. Smith against President Hoover.

"History," he said, "has demonstrated that I was right in opposing him (Hoover) four years ago. He has not done anything he said he was going to do."

Senator Huey Long (D., La.) had said Norris would do this in passing through Atlanta yesterday. In the same breath he pledged his own support and practically that of the Louisiana delegation of 20 to Roosevelt.

It was Norris who about a year ago started talk by asserting that a "Progressive" conference here that

Bonus Plans Rejected By House Group

Ways and Means Body Also to Report Adversely on New-money Bills

Washington — (AP) — All plans for cashing the $2,000,000,000 soldier bonus were rejected today by the house ways and means committee on a 15 to 10 vote.

The committee further voted to report the new-money bills to the house adversely. This action creates a parliamentary situation that will delay any effort to force a house vote through a discharge petition.

MEANS JAILED ON GRAFT COUNT IN LINDY CASE

Accused of Obtaining $100,000 Through False Pretenses

Washington — (AP) — A federal grand jury today heard evidence on charges that Gaston B. Means received $100,000 on false representations that he could return the kidnapped Lindbergh baby and will announce next Tuesday whether an indictment will be returned.

Within an hour, the grand jury heard the weird story of allegations that Means received the money from Mrs. Edward P. Mean, estranged wife of the publisher of the Washington Post, but failed to produce the baby kidnapped March 1.

ADOPT COMPROMISE REVENUE MEASURE

Washington — (AP) — The bulky, far-reaching revenue measure adopted by the senate finance committee today accepted a compromise tax plan designed to produce over a billion dollars in revenue.

The plan, carried to Capitol Hill by Secretary M. W. Clegg, was estimated to yield $1,664,000,000 in the 1933 fiscal year. It again changed the income rates to provide for normal taxes of three per cent on the first $4,000; 5 per cent on the next $4,000 and 9 per cent on income over $12,000.

CAUSE OF EXPLOSION SOUGHT IN ONTARIO

London, Ont. — (AP) — The cause of an explosion which killed one man and injured ten at the wholesale fruit plant of C. C. Cattanach and Sons last night was sought today by authorities.

One conjecture was that ether fumes used to hasten the ripening of tomatoes exploded. Another was that a furnace in the banana ripening room blew up.

MAY APPEAL FOR FUNDS FOR MISSIONARY WORK

Atlantic City, N. J. — (AP) — Methodist Episcopal delegates today faced the task of deciding whether the first message from their general conference to the church at large would be an appeal for $1,000,000 to support the financially harassed missionary, philanthropic and educational program of the denomination.

JAPANESE TROOPS WITHDRAWING FROM SHANGHAI DISTRICT

Shanghai — (AP) — The vanguard of what remains of the powerful Japanese army at Shanghai, estimated at 30,000 men, today began evacuating the area about the city from which it drove the Chinese in the last fierce battle of the "war."

The evacuation, which is in accordance with the truce agreement signed yesterday by Japanese and Chinese officials, is slated to continue increasingly each day until the entire Japanese force has retired to the areas assigned to it under the truce. The movement is expected to be completed within one month.

Racine Judge Considers Fate of Charles Harvey, Embezzler of $38,000

Racine — (AP) — Municipal Judge E. R. Burgess today had under consideration the case of Charles Harvey, 32, assistant bank teller who confessed taking $38,000 from the American Trades and Savings bank where he was employed last December.

Harvey, through Jacob Weisman, his attorney, entered a plea of guilty and threw himself on the mercy of the court. Weisman made a plea for leniency and placed Dr. Herbert D. Williams, Chicago psychologist, on the stand to testify as to the youth's emotional nature.

STOCK PRICES CLIMB SHARPLY ON EXCHANGE

New York — (AP) — Stocks made their best gains in some time today coincident with Washington news which Wall-st labelled as "constructive."

Progress toward a tax bill agreement in the senate's finance committee, the house ways and means committee decision to report adversely legislation for a cash bonus, and President Hoover's budget message were the chief developments to which brokerage houses attributed the rally.

DOUMER NEAR DEATH AFTER ATTACK BY ASSASSIN NEAR ELYSEE PALACE AT CAPITAL

Paris — (AP) — At 8:30 tonight President Doumer underwent a third transfusion. Loss of blood from a severed artery under his arm was causing the doctors considerable concern.

Paris — (AP) — At 6:45 this evening the senior surgeons attending President Doumer left the hospital after pronouncing his condition "very satisfactory." The president's nephew said the patient's chances now were largely a matter of his advanced age, since no vital spot had been struck. He said the president had shown some improvement in the past two hours.

DOUMER NEAR DEATH AFTER ATTACK BY ASSASSIN NEAR ELYSEE PALACE AT CAPITAL

Paris — (AP) — President Paul Doumer, 74-year-old head of the French republic, was critically wounded today by an assassin identified as a "white" Russian.

Two blood transfusions and a trepanning operation were performed immediately and the doctors held out some hope that the president might recover.

The police hammered at the assassin until they learned that his name is Paul Gougouloff, that he had come from Monaco especially to commit this crime and that his motive was revenge for the French refusal to intervene in Russia against the Bolsheviks.

DOUMER NEAR DEATH AFTER ATTACK BY ASSASSIN NEAR ELYSEE PALACE AT CAPITAL

This evening the ministry of the interior issued this statement: "Today at 3 o'clock President Doumer, during a visit to an exhibition by war veteran writers, was the victim of an attempt on his life by a Russian anarchist who appears to be not in full possession of his faculties."

"The president was struck by a bullet in the head and another in the shoulder which caused a flesh wound. He was taken to a hospital where he received the attentive care of leading surgeons."

M. Doumer had come from the Elysee palace with Claude Farrere, the noted author. Together they entered the grand hall of the Baron de Rothschild foundation near the palace.

Farrere walked with him up the grand staircase where the president paused to sign a copy of a book by a contemporary author.

Then the president moved over to a table and stood talking with Farrere and Madame Farrere.

Assassin Fires

Suddenly a man sprang seemingly out of nowhere, leveled a pistol at the president and fired five times.

M. Doumer's knees crumpled. He sank to the floor. Farrere sprang forward. The assassin's pistol was still smoking in his hand. He raised it and fired twice. Farrere stopped with a bullet in the arm but lunged forward again and grappled with the man.

Paul Guichard, director of the Paris police, ran forward, and the assassin fired again. The bullet struck Guichard in the arm.

By this time a dozen police surrounded the man and a crowd gathered about them.

As the crowd grew it became an infuriated mob. The police had the greatest difficulty protecting their prisoner, but at last they got him away. At police headquarters they found him as Paul Gougouloff, a Russian physician. Someone heard him shout as he fired: "Die for the Fatherland!"

Meanwhile, back in the exhibition room, Farrere and others bent over the president. He was already nearly unconscious, but he mumbled a few incoherent words as they lifted him, placed him on a stretcher and carried him to the Hotel St. Louis.

Parlor Operation

The doctors there performed an operation immediately and there was a blood transfusion.

It was impossible immediately to get all the facts but there were reports that the president had died; that he was dying, and that his wounds were not so serious as had been thought at first.

One of the surgeons, a Dr. Gosset, said he had examined the president and had discovered that none of the bullets had penetrated the brain and that he expected M. Doumer to recover.

From police headquarters came word that when they searched the assassin they found in his pocket a notebook with the phrase printed in pencil in letters an inch high: "This day I killed the president of the French Republic."

Premier Andre Tardieu was the first man to reach the hospital after the news had gone about. Former Premier Caillaux came soon afterward, and then there was a stream of distinguished personages.

Madame Doumer, who gave four sons to France in the war, was

Congress Leaders Lash Back At President For His Demands

HOOVER URGES PROMPT ACTION ON U. S. BUDGET

Accuses House Leaders of Undermining Public Confidence

BULLETIN

Washington—(AP)—President Hoover is going to carry to the country the drive he opened yesterday on congress for prompt balancing of the budget. A new statement directed to the public in preparation at the White House. The president is represented by advisers as determined to go through for vigorous and prompt action on Capitol hill. He called on leaders during the day including Senator Watson of Indiana, the majority chief.

Washington—(AP)—In emphatic and sharp language President Hoover yesterday demanded of congress that it enact an effective budget-balancing program without further delay. Enumerating specific acts he accused the Democratic-managed house of representatives of undermining public confidence and undoing the benefits of the reconstruction program.

By contrast with the usual lackadaisical reception of presidential messages, this one lashed both branches of congress into an immediate fury, evoking from the Democratic leaders bitter words of blame for the president and his aides, drawing from administration supporters equally sharp recriminations.

Bolled down, what the president demanded was that an adequate and equitable tax bill be passed; that expenditures be reduced by $700,000,000 or more; that through cuts in appropriations, mainly by giving him legal authority to reorganize the government with a free hand. He demanded that the appropriations committee be accompanied by authority to shift amounts between bureaus to prevent inhuman discharging of thousands of government employees.

He accused the house of damaging the reconstruction program by destruction of the original tax program; that this was a $132,000,000 road building bill; passing the veterans' widows and orphans pension bill while refusing to sanction cuts in allowances for ex-soldiers as provided by the economy bill; virtual destruction of the later measure; failure to make possible adequate reduction of government expenditures and commensurate cuts in appropriations; passing a bill ordering the federal reserve board and the treasury to peg the value of the dollar; and the threat (through the bonus or other pending legislation) of enacting laws looking to uncontrolled inflation.

Hoover Assailed
To this indictment the Democrats flung a counter charge of Illinois, jumped up with the charge that this was the president's "first speech in his campaign for reelection." The senate leader, Robinson of Arkansas, took the floor to say the plight congress finds itself in never would have developed if the administration had not made unaccountable errors in presenting its estimates of the budget. He said that not general advice but specific suggestions were required. Others joined in.

They met with ready and hot replies. Representative Snell, Republican leader, said campaign material or not the Democrats would "have to answer" for the present situation. Senator Reed (R., Pa.) told Robinson the definite suggestions had been presented, often enough, but that congressional courage was lacking. In the ensuing debate he observed that "if this country ever need a Mussolini, it needs one now," immediately drawing upon his head a spirited castigation from Senator Johnson (R., Calif.).

Defends Democracy
"To proclaim a Mussolini is but to echo the cry of every exploiter in this land," "E. J. Connelley" pointed at Reed. "I understand as you understand that democracy sometimes moves slowly. But democracy represents something bigger, something finer, nobler and greater than that which is represented by a dictator on the face of the earth."

The president, besides upbraiding the house, turned an attack upon social and sectional interests, blaming them for exerting pressure to dominate congress, thereby hurting not only the country but themselves. The government cannot be dictated to by organized minorities," he said, such action will undermine all popular government. I know that the actions do not reflect the will of the people, and I refuse to believe that the country is unable to reflect its will in legislation."

JOSEPH FREUND FILES PLEA FOR CLEMENCY

Joseph Freund, former Grand Chute farmer, who was sentenced by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court here in January, 1931, to one to three years in state prison at Waupun for theft of a calf from a neighbor, filed a petition with Governor Philip La Follette seeking executive clemency. The application is to be considered on June 1. Freund was sentenced following a long trial which attracted hundreds of farmers to the courthouse.

CLUB TO OBSERVE SECOND BIRTHDAY

Members of the Twin Willows 4-H club will celebrate their second anniversary at a meeting tonight at the home of Miss Alice Schwabach. Miss Schwabach and Miss Delores Elsmann are on the executive committee. Election of officers will take place at the business meeting. Present officers are: Sylvester Helmann, president; Leslie Hanson, secretary and treasurer; Clarence Kohl, reporter; and Mrs. Wayne Brown, leader.

Hat in Ring EXPECT 50 AT SPRING MEET OF PAPER MAKERS

Northwest Division of Association to Gather Here Tomorrow

Approximately 150 pulp and paper mill superintendents from plants in Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota are expected here Saturday for the annual spring meeting of the Northwest division, American Pulp and Paper Mill Superintendents' association.

The day's program, which includes special entertainment for wives of superintendents, will get underway with registration of delegates at Conway hotel tomorrow morning. At 9:30 a meeting will be held at the Institute of Paper Chemistry with Dr. Otto Kress as chairman. He will deliver an address on the "Aims and Purposes of the Institute." A talk on "Chemistry of Cellulose" will be given by Dr. Harry F. Lewis of the institute, and on "Colloidal Aspect of Pulp and Paper Making" by Dr. Benjamin F. Roland, also of the institute staff. Following this meeting visitors will be taken on a tour of inspection of the building.

W. S. GOODLAND OUT FOR SENATE

Seeks Seat Now Held by Blaine—Opposed by Chapple, Campbell

Racine—(AP)—State Senator Walter S. Goodland, Republican, announced today he is a candidate for United States senate.

Senator Goodland said he would abide by the dictates of the state conservative Republican conference which will be called this summer for the purpose of endorsing candidates.

John B. Chapple of Ashland, and William J. Campbell of Oshkosh, have already announced themselves as candidates for the seat now held by Senator John J. Blaine, Progressive Republican. Both have said they will follow the wishes of the conservative conference.

Goodland was elected to the state senate in 1926 and again in 1930. He has been editor of the Racine Times-Call since 1900 and was mayor of Racine four years. The son of the late John Goodland, judge of the Tenth Judicial circuit for 25 years, Goodland attended high school and Lawrence college at Appleton.

Goodland issued the following statement:

"I have decided to become a candidate for the United States senate and hope to receive the nomination of the Republican state convention. I have made this decision after conferences with many leading Republicans and receiving the assurance of their support. I have also been urged by many friends throughout the state to become a candidate.

"As to the quality of the service I have rendered in the state senate, I would like to state that I formerly introduced and succeeded in passing the budget bill under which the state is now operating; introduced the bill providing for reorganization of the state highway commission, the bill for construction of the state office building that will pay for itself in rentals saved, and the measure providing for the increase in compensation to farmers for condemned cattle under the tuberculosis test from about 50 to 75 percent. I was also instrumental in securing the Orthopedic Hospital for Crippled Children at Madison.

"I will become a candidate for the senate only as a straight Republican. If elected I would go to Washington to serve in the state senate with the administration in power for constructive legislation. As I view it, the most essential issue before the people today is to reduce the excessive burden of taxation in all forms of government."

ANNUAL MEET WON BY RIETZ

First Place Awarded to Senior in Extemporaneous Contest

Howard Rietz, senior, placed first in the fourth annual Bolton-Rietz extemporaneous contest at Appleton high school Thursday afternoon with his subject "Seeing Red," a general discussion on communism in the country.

Charles Herzog, in a discussion on the prohibition question, won second place. The other speakers were Chester Dorschner, who spoke on the relief corps; Jacob Schiller, whose subject was "Kidnapping, the Red Smuggle" and "German Beckman on "Increasing Cost of Government."

Mr. Rietz received a silver loving cup and will represent Appleton high school at the Fox River Valley Extemporaneous contest in Marinette on Wednesday, May 11. Eight high schools in the valley to participate in the Marinette contest include East and West Green Bay high schools, Oshkosh, Marinette, Sheboygan, Fond du Lac, Manitowish and Appleton high schools.

Judges at the local contest were Rexford Mitchell of Lawrence college, Mrs. John Engel, Jr., and Roger Tuttrup. During the time the judges were preparing their decisions Merrill Mohr and Carlton Erick presented vocal and violin solos, accompanied by Miss Ellen Meyer.

The extemporaneous contest, named in memory of two outstanding high school students, Ted Bolton and Carlton Roth, who drowned in Lake Winnebago, is the final forensic activity at Appleton high school. Miss Ruth McKenna, high school teacher, directed the event.

CLARK AT SPRING CAMP CONFERENCE

M. G. Clark, valley council boy scout executive, left this morning for Rockford, Ill., to attend the final sessions of the annual spring camp conference of Region Seven. He was accompanied by H. W. Whinnfield, Sheboygan executive.

EXPECT 50 AT SPRING MEET OF PAPER MAKERS

Northwest Division of Association to Gather Here Tomorrow

Approximately 150 pulp and paper mill superintendents from plants in Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota are expected here Saturday for the annual spring meeting of the Northwest division, American Pulp and Paper Mill Superintendents' association.

The day's program, which includes special entertainment for wives of superintendents, will get underway with registration of delegates at Conway hotel tomorrow morning. Following this meeting visitors will be taken on a tour of inspection of the building.

A stag luncheon is scheduled for 12:30 at the North Shore Country club followed by a golf tournament on the club course. Cards also will furnish entertainment in the club house.

Plan Banquet

A joint banquet for superintendents and their wives is scheduled for 6:30 in the evening, with Harold A. Skinner, chairman of the Northwest division, presiding. R. M. Radsch will act as toastmaster and the address of welcome will be given by Mayor John Goodland, Jr. The principal speaker at the banquet will be Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of Lawrence college. Greetings will be extended by Roy Kelley, president of the association; Allen Abrams, president of the Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry, and Fred Boyce, "father" of the superintendents association.

Shopping and sight tours will be conducted for visiting women Saturday morning. At 12:30 tomorrow afternoon they will be entertained at a luncheon at Conway hotel and at 2 o'clock at the home of G. E. Buchanan. A dancing party will climax the day's program at one of the popular places near Appleton.

Officers of the Northwest division are Mr. Skinner, chairman; Frank J. Timmerman, vice chairman; and Wallace Shymanski, secretary and treasurer. Members of the convention committee are: Alfred Agrell, Peter E. Jones, Dr. Kress, Mr. Radsch, W. E. Buchanan and Mrs. Eric D. Lindberg.

$970 VERDICT IN CRASH SUIT

Jury Awards Sum to Kaukauna Man Who Sued Driver of Auto

A jury in municipal court yesterday afternoon awarded damages of $970 to Arthur Borchardt, Kaukauna, in his suit for $3,850 against Mike Wolfe, Kaukauna. The suit opened yesterday morning before Judge Theodore Berg and went to the jury about 3:30. A verdict was returned shortly after 5 o'clock.

The suit grew out of an automobile accident on April 11, 1931, when Borchardt was injured. Borchardt accompanied Wolfe to Green Bay, where both men were employed. When in Green Bay, Wolfe's car stopped because of trouble and was parked. Arrangements were made to have the machine towed to Kaukauna by Walter Manfias, also of Kaukauna, and Borchardt claimed he accompanied Wolfe on the return trip at Wolfe's request.

On the way back the Wolfe car started to smoke and Wolfe opened the car door and jumped out and the driverless car went into the ditch. Borchardt was thrown out and injured when the car toppled on him.

CHARGE MAN DROVE AUTO WHILE DRUNK

Two Who Accompanied Driver Charged With Drunkenness

Three Kaukauna men, two charged with drunkenness and one with drunken driving, are being held in the county jail pending their arraignment in municipal court before Judge Theodore Berg this afternoon. The men are: Jack Normile and Arthur Hagany, charged with drunkenness, and John Hagany, charged with drunken driving.

The three were arrested about 10 o'clock last night after a car driven by John Hagany had crashed into the railing on the bridge across the power canal on Main-st. The front of the car was badly damaged but none of the occupants were injured. Motorcycle Officer Harold Engerson and Officer Oscar Jahns arrested the trio and they were held in the Kaukauna jail last night. Assistant Chief James McFadden brought the men to the county jail this morning.

CANADIAN AIR MAIL

Montreal—The report of the Civil Aviation Branch of the Department of National Defense shows that Canadian air mail was used more in 1931 than in any other year since 1921. More than 183,000 pounds of mail matter were flown last year as compared with 474,200 in 1930.

Principals in Graft Charges

It was Mrs. Edward B. McLean, above, wife of a wealthy Washington publisher, who caused the arrest of Gaston B. Means several weeks after they had discussed plans for negotiating for the return of the kidnapped Lindbergh baby. Mrs. McLean told Department of Justice officials that she gave Means $100,000, but that no results were forthcoming. Mrs. McLean testified today at a grand jury investigation. At the right is a picture of Means, who has served as a detective, German agent before the United States entered the World war, investigator for the Department of Justice at Washington, star witness of a senate committee investigating Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty's official conduct, and a former convict in Atlanta federal penitentiary.

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

THE DEFLATION OF FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT

When nobody was opposing him, Governor Roosevelt's candidacy looked irresistible, and he is still doing excellently well wherever he runs alone. But in all the actual tests of his strength before the rank and file of the Democratic voters he has fared very badly indeed. There have been three such tests—in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and California, and in all three he has made a poor showing. When one remembers that he has been in sight of the nomination for months, that he alone among the candidates has a nationwide organization, that his name is Roosevelt, that he has sought to identify himself with the discontent of the people, his failure to show popular strength is remarkable. After all the preparation and effort he turns up in California with 30 per cent of the vote.

That is clear evidence, it seems to me, that he is a weak candidate. I do not see how it can be denied that he is weak after three such practical tests in widely separated and varied states. After the Massachusetts primary explanations were offered that Massachusetts was loyal to Al Smith and that Roosevelt had to fight the state machine. But that did not explain why he made such a feeble run in Pennsylvania or why he could not carry the coal miners with him. I do not know what the local issues and talking points were in California, but it is evident that Mr. Roosevelt did not greatly impress the California Democrats as a national figure. For if he had had a real hold upon the popular imagination, if his actual strength were truly reflected in his paper strength, that fact would have been registered in all the primaries. As matters stand now the opposition can fairly claim that in all the real tests Mr. Roosevelt has failed.

The fact that he grows weaker the longer his candidacy is considered will not astonish those who have observed closely his career in New York. When Governor Roosevelt was nominated and elected Governor in 1929, he stood very high among the people of the state. The first shock came in his opening message to the Legislature. It transpired there that he had got himself very much muddled up about the water power issue and was in fact floundering with the idea of a compromise which would have surrendered the principle for which Governor Smith had fought and to which he was pledged. So serious was his wobbling and confusion that only after severe attacks by the New York World during the very first fortnight of his term as Governor did he pull himself together and decide to stand firm on the power issue which ever since he has been making so much of.

This almost forgotten incident put many of his strongest supporters and admirers on their guard as to the quality of his intellectual processes and of his moral courage. They received their next shock when they discovered that in making political appointments in New York City he was taking his advice from the Curry-Walker machine and was in fact helping it with patronage to consolidate its victory over the honest and enlightened group around ex-Governor Smith who had for a time made even Tammany an agency of good government.

This disappoinment turned into a sense of outrage when, as the tale of corruption in New York began to be unfolded, it appeared that Governor Roosevelt was preserving an icy distance to the exposure. Not only did the citizens fighting to expose corruption get no moral support from him, but in the actions he was compelled to take he leaned over backwards in order to give Tammany the benefit of every legalistic doubt. As this happened on the eve of his re-election in 1930, and as he received an immense vote from Tammany, there were a great many who concluded that Franklin D. Roosevelt could get no moral support from him, but in the actions he was compelled to take he leaned over backwards in order to give Tammany the benefit of every legalistic doubt. As this happened on the eve of his re-election in 1930, and as he received an immense vote from Tammany, there were a great many who concluded that Franklin D. Roosevelt could get no moral support from him, but in the actions he was compelled to take he leaned over backwards in order to give Tammany the benefit of every legalistic doubt.

His calculations were correct. His re-election in 1930 by an enormous plurality made him a Presidential candidate.

Yet nobody who went through that election, or will now study the returns, can doubt that the size of his plurality—and it was a large one—was the plurality that impressed the politicians in other states—was accidentally inflated. What happened was that Mr. Tuttle, the Republican candidate, announced himself a vet. The vets nominated a candidate of their own who took from Tuttle 134,000 dry Republican votes. An other large bloc of Republican votes went to vote and another bloc voted for Roosevelt so as to make sure that the wet Republican would be punished. Mr. Roosevelt would have been elected anyway. But he would not have been elected by such a record-breaking plurality.

The best proof of these comparisons is to be found by assessing Al Smith's victory over Ogden Mills in 1930. Roosevelt received 216,000 votes more than Smith, and Tuttle received 230,000 votes less than Mills. The presence of a dry Republican candidate and the defection of the drys from Tuttle go a long way to explain the difference. But for these extraneous factors Roosevelt would have won handsomely but not by a vote which amazed the nation.

What has been happening in the last few weeks is that the inflated strength of Roosevelt is being deflated as the voters learn more of the record in New York and take their own measure of the candidate. Those who have observed the progress of this candidacy since 1928, and are now opposed to Mr. Roosevelt's nomination, believe that if he is nominated at Chicago his inherent weaknesses will develop so rapidly during the campaign, that unless

High school girls who took part in the Colonial dancing at the Appleton school day celebration and the choir, directed by Miss Lenora May, high school instructor, also will be among the Colonial group.

Queen Gets Crown

In the afternoon and evening comedy bands, and the clowns will help to keep the carnival spirit abroad in the community and at 9 o'clock another climax occurs when the Queen of the Jubilee and her two ladies of honor will be presented with valuable gifts and the Queen will have a coronet placed upon her head by Mayor Goodland, following more picturesque ceremonies. Lesters, Ltd. Chicago costumers to numerous producers, and big road shows including the annual Harvest-foot production have provided the robes of court for her majesty and attendants and the coronet promises to be one of brilliant glamour.

The coronation ceremony will be followed immediately by a triumphal procession in which the popular choice will nod her appreciations from a courtly "float" and the city's champion high jinxers, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will appear in the roles of masters of ceremony with a truck load of confetti, ticker tape, horns, squawkers, and whatnot and the mayor will show the police out of the way while the closing hours of Appleton's greatest sustained civic demonstration are spent in noisy serenade. Judges will award prizes for the funniest costumes and then as a grand climax, another street dance will be held on S. Oneida-st in front of the city hall.

RESERVES LEAVE FOR MILWAUKEE MEETING

A delegation of Appleton reserve army officers left today for Milwaukee where they will witness an anti-aircraft demonstration late this afternoon. Tomorrow they will attend the annual roundup of state reservists. Saturday's program consists of several branch conferences and exhibitions at the state fair grounds.

ABOUT THAT "SKY CAR"

What the specifications of the U. S. Army's "sky car" in which an observer will be lowered below the clouds while the dirigible rides above them, have been sketchily reported. It is said that the car's equipment will include a parachute and a rubber boat for the observer's use in case he has to leave his post. The car resembles a small airplane fuselage without wings.

This is a year when any Democrat can be elected, Franklin Roosevelt will be defeated. The truth is that he has not a good enough grasp of the issues nor the power of quick and firm decision to withstand the withering fire which the Republicans would subject him to.

A STANDARD IS RAISED

The petition presented to the President and Congress by Captain Archibald B. Roosevelt on behalf of the National Economy Committee is by all odds the most impressive move yet made toward a real reduction in Federal expenditure. The petition strikes at the heart of the most expensive abuse in the Federal budget—at the enormous sums, amounting to $2,000,000,000, which are being paid to veterans of the World War and of the Spanish-American War who suffered no injury while in the service of the country.

These payments are about 10 per cent of the budget. They are equal to half the money which is to be raised by the laying of new taxes. They represent no moral obligation of the American people unless it is to be assumed that any man who ever wore a uniform is forever entitled to special privileges.

The petition is a demand that Congress return to the fundamental principle which the whole country approved when the war was in progress; that it undo the mass of legislation which in the course of ten years has fastened upon the country the necessity of enormous payments for men to whom it is no financial obligation whatever. Not only is this a true economy, but it is also something much more important—it is a challenge to a system of legalized privilege which is unjust and is corrupting both to public men and to the voters.

It was high time that a standard of resistance was raised by the voters themselves. Now it has been done by Captain Roosevelt and his associates. We shall now see whether the American people, when they are offered strong and unimpeachable leadership, will rally to the defense of their rights and of the national integrity.

MEETING IN AFTERNOON IS CALLED OFF

Small Attendance at Chapel Results in Cancellation of Coen Talk

Due to the small attendance, the public mass meeting scheduled for Thursday afternoon at Lawrence Memorial chapel as part of the Fraternal day program of the joint celebration of the city's diamond jubilee and Washington bicentennial was called off. The principal address of the afternoon was to have been given by John R. Coen, Sterling, Cal., grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

The success of the day's program, and thanks for the cooperation extended by the many fraternal organizations of the city, is expressed in an open letter to the public by Gustave Keller and Joseph P. Kerrigan, chairman and secretary, respectively, of the Fraternal day committee. The letter follows: "The Fraternal day committee begs to express sincere thanks to each organization and to each member thereof and to each band and drum corps that participated in the events of Fraternal day and particularly in the illuminated fraternal parade.

Expresses Thanks

"The committee also wishes to express its profound appreciation to A. A. Arens and his aids in forming and controlling the parade, and to Police Chief George T. Prum and members of the Appleton police force and to members of Company D, 127 Infantry, Wisconsin National guards, for the very successful clearing of, patrolling and maintaining order on College-ave.

"The committee also conveys thanks to the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. for its kind cooperation in the matter of light on College-ave during the parade. Last but not least, the committee thanks the citizens of Appleton and surrounding communities for the wonderful order maintained."

One of the largest street dances ever conducted in Appleton was held on S. Oneida-st between College-ave and Lawrence-st following the parade Thursday evening. It is estimated that approximately 3,000 participated in the dance. A special dance program was played by the 120th Field Artillery band under the direction of E. F. Mumm. The band was seated on a special raised platform in front of the city hall.

The street was jammed to capacity with dancers and the sidewalks on the east and west side of the avenue were packed with spectators. The evening's festivities continued until about 11 o'clock when rain halted the program.

MARKED BILLS AID SOLUTION OF THEFTS

Two Chilton Youths Arrested for Burglaring Grain Elevator

Marked bills which were "planted" in the cash drawer at the Knauf and Tesch grain elevators at Chilton Tuesday night has enabled Sheriff Gerhard Jensen of Calumet-co to clear up a series of burglaries at the grain plant. It is believed that Clayton Lock, 13, and Walter Dietz, 15, Chilton youths, were arrested by the sheriff Wednesday noon at a Chilton store where they attempted to pass one of the marked bills. They were arraigned in justice court Thursday afternoon and were bound over to the May 16 term of circuit court at Oshkosh where they will appear before Judge Fred Beglinger.

Questioned by Sheriff Jensen after their arrest at the store, the youths confessed to the series of burglaries, according to the sheriff. They said they entered the place on various occasions during the past few weeks by climbing through a rear window, and obtained a total of $14.20.

VOTE MERGER OF MILK POOL, DAIRY UNION

Committees from Both Organizations Approve of Amalgamation

BY W. F. WINSEY

Assisted by a local board of referees, the Wisconsin Cooperative Milk Pool and the Wisconsin Dairy Union, two of the largest milk cooperatives in Wisconsin, merged Thursday at a hearing conducted by a board of referees in Conway hotel.

The amalgamation was effected through the unanimous adoption by the committees representing both organizations of a resolution proposed and introduced by Judson G. Rosebush, chairman of the board of referees, after the differences of the aims and methods of both organizations had been ironed out by the referees and the similarities emphasized. It was found that the differences are few and slight and that the similarities were many and pronounced. The amalgamation united 6,000 members of the milk pool and 1,500 members of the dairy union in a campaign to enroll the majority of the dairymen of Wisconsin in the new Wisconsin Milk and Dairy Union, Cooperative.

The chief difference between the two organizations is that the Wisconsin Dairy Union proposed to control the price of all dairy products through the control of the price of cheese, and that the Wisconsin Cooperative Milk Pool proposed to control the prices of all dairy products through the direct control of the prices of milk. The local of the dairy union has the cheese factory as a center and the local milk pool has the township or community as a center. Their main, outstanding point of similarity is governing the price paid to the producer for milk.

Meet Again Today

The details of the amalgamation were to be worked out at a meeting of joint committee representing both organizations at the Y. M. C. A. today. The amalgamation resolution will be submitted to the directors and members of the local of both organizations before becoming effective.

The members of the board of referees that really brought about the union are: Judson G. Rosebush, chairman, Seymour Gmeiner, and M. M. Bohrer, professor of economics at Lawrence college.

Members of the committee representing the Wisconsin Cooperative Milk Pool are: H. E. Holmes, Walter E. Singler, I. M. Whight, E. R. Bowerman, Jr., H. G. Graupman, Edwin R. Jahnke. The members of the committee representing the Wisconsin are: Anton Loehr, Herman Vetter, Henry Fassbender, Henry Vandeyne, W. E. Daniels, and H. P. Auldy.

The members of the joint committee appointed to work out the details of the union at the Y. M. C. A. today are: Wisconsin Dairy Union—Anton Loehr, W. E. Daniels, and Herman Vetter; and Wisconsin Cooperative Milk Pool—H. E. Holmes, E. R. Bowerman, Jr., and Walter E. Singler.

The importance of the increased prosperity of farmers to manufacturers, business men and all other classes of people, Seymour Gmeiner, in a talk Thursday, declared: "I am just selfish enough to realize and to know that if your amalgamation program does not go over at once, I shall not be able to continue my manufacturing business. Industries of all kinds are dependent upon the prosperity of farmers for their success. The timber man, the miner, the manufacturer and the dealer cannot make a living after farmers are forced to the wall by low prices for their products."

"You must hang together in your marketing program or you will have your heads cut off by the hands of M. M. Bohrer, 'Bankers, manufacturers, and business men are all more compactly organized than are farmers.'"

Here Is Resolution

The following is the amalgamation resolution unanimously adopted by the joint committee at the Thursday hearing:

"Resolved, that it is the sense of this gathering after an exhaustive examination of all the facts, that it would be to the best interests of the dairy farmers of Wisconsin to effect a merger of the Wisconsin Milk Pool and the Wisconsin Dairy Union, and in the interests of expediting such merger, be it further

Resolved, that the committees of three be appointed by each group to meet at 9 o'clock Friday morning in Appleton to compile the details of such merger for submission to the respective governing bodies of each organization.

COUNTRY WILL RECOVER FROM SLUMP -- COEN

American Citizens Have Faced Greater Trouble Before, He Declares

If more people had spent more time studying the history of their country during the last few years instead of looking for worthless investments, we would all be better off today, John R. Coen, Sterling, Colo., grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, declared in an address here last night. Before approximately 300 Elks at the Appleton Elks' lodge, representatives were here from 10 Wisconsin cities.

Mr. Coen recalled that it was just 150 years ago this month that the United States was battling for its freedom in the Revolutionary war. He said George Washington was the great leader who brought the struggling young country through the trying period—despite criticism of his methods and despite the handicap of being without funds, or enough food for his soldiers. But Washington was a real leader and led the way to the freedom which the people of this United States enjoy today, the speaker stated.

Those Americans back in the Revolutionary war days faced a lot more trouble than we are today and they came through successfully just as we will," Mr. Coen said. The national leader of the Elks scored those citizens who are unfairly criticizing him in public office today and said it was the duty of Elks and all other citizens to back up the men who are honestly trying to lead the country out of the depression.

Sees Recovery

"This country has experienced a succession of depressions at regular intervals during its history with the regularity of a swinging pendulum," Mr. Coen said. "I do not believe that the present depression is the worst we have ever had and I do not believe it is the last we will have. But I do believe our country is fundamentally sound and that we will recover and progress more than ever before."

Mr. Coen declared that there is something wrong with fraternal organizations in America today. He said every fraternal group in the country—including the Elks—is losing its membership. In his travels about the country during the last year, he said, he carefully investigated conditions in all lodges. He said he found that those who are losing membership and who are falling back instead of going forward are the lodges which lack proper leadership and a definite program of service. Lodges which are maintaining their membership and which are advancing, he declared, are those which have capable leadership and which are carrying out a worth-while program.

There is a chance for advancement for leaders of Elks lodges, Mr. Coen said. It is a position of honor which will return profits to the man who gives of his time and energy in fulfilling his duties. It is a position which should be filled only by careful selection.

Pride in Membership

Another fault with the Elks' lodge, he declared, is the lack of pride in membership. He urged that Wisconsin and Appleton lodges adopt a program to reawaken in members a militant pride in their organization. He said membership in the Elks was something to be proud of because the Elks is the only fraternal group in which men of all creeds and religions can join as friends. He said the basic principles of Elksdom—American citizenship, flanked by the virtues of brotherly love and charity—were so deserving that members of the lodge had a right to be proud of membership.

Mr. Coen traced the history of the Elks' lodge, pointing to the fine record of service that the fraternity has won. He pointed to charities which the lodge is carrying and to programs of service being carried out by states and local chapters of the lodge.

Growing tribute to Appleton was paid by the exalted ruler who said that this week's celebration demonstrated that capable leaders are running the affairs of the city. He said the demonstration in Appleton was one of which the city could be proud.

Appleton Elks' lodge also was highly praised by Mr. Coen. He said that in his mind the Appleton lodge ranks first among all lodges in the United States. He also praised the Appleton Elks' band.

In closing Mr. Coen declared there is no excuse for any lodge to go backward at this time. He said that if ever the men of the country needed fraternity it is now when they are in the slough of depression. When riding the crest of prosperity, he claimed, fraternities can be taken as a matter of course, but now every lodge can constitute a refuge for those who are afflicted.

Before the meeting Mr. Coen was guest of honor at a dinner about 300 Elks from Appleton and other cities in the state were at both the dinner and the meeting. Mr. Coen rode at the head of the Elks' delegation in the parade which followed the dinner and preceded the meeting.

PLAN PROJECTS FOR ANNUAL CAMP RALLY

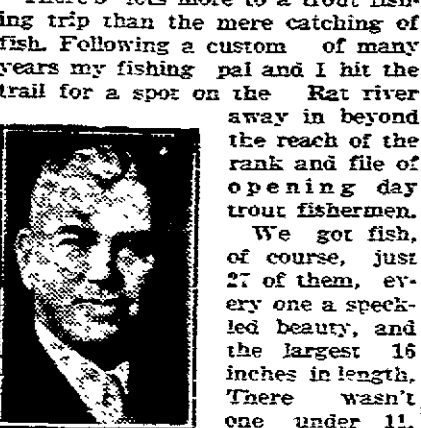

Appleton boy scout troops are busily engaged in project work for the annual Camp O' Ra to be held this year at Clintonville on June 4 and 5, according to various scoutmasters. Approximately 500 boy scouts are expected to participate in this year's program. Last year the rally was held at Menasha park at Menasha, and in 1930 it was conducted at Erb park in this city.

SHAWANO TO BE BANKERS' HOST

Group Three of Wisconsin Association, to Gather on May 16

The twenty-eight annual meeting of group three, Wisconsin Bankers' association, will be held May 16 at Shawano. The meeting will be held at the American Legion hall with registration at 8:30 in the morning. Members have been asked to bring their ladies for whom a special entertainment program has been arranged, including a trip to the Indian reservation at Keshena, followed by a luncheon at the Murdock hotel. During the afternoon, bridge and other entertainment will be provided at the Murdock hotel, which will be the women's headquarters. Delegates will be allowed to play golf at the Shawano Lake Golf club.

The bankers' morning session will be called to order at 10 o'clock by John Powers, president. Music will follow by the Shawano high school band. The welcome to Shawano will be given by Mayor Harry Meyer with a response by W. A. Strassburger, president. Mr. Powers will give his report followed by the report of the secretary and treasurer, S. N. Pickard.

Frank P. McAdams, president of Wisconsin Bankers' association, will give a talk on "Confidence in Bankers," followed by a talk by Ralph M. Hoyt, president of the Title Guaranty company of Wisconsin, on "Why the Banker Needs Title Insurance." The final address will be given by Theodore Christianson, ex-governor of Minnesota, now vice president of C. B. McClintock company of Minneapolis. His subject will be "Defeating the Government."

At the luncheon to be held at 12:30 the program will open with community singing led by Max Stieg, cashier Dairyman's State Bank at Clintonville. This will be followed by an address on "Dreams in Days of Depression," by Dr. Silas Evans, president of Ripon college. Reports of the resolution committee and nominating committee will follow with a summary given by Wall G. Coapman, secretary Wisconsin Bankers' association after which adjournment will be had.

Officers of the group are J. W. Powers, cashier First National bank, Neenah; president; W. A. Strassburger, treasurer; First Trust company, Appleton; vice president; S. N. Pickard, vice president; National Manufacturers bank, Neenah; secretary and treasurer. The executive committee is R. L. Buboltz, cashier Farmers and Traders bank, Wrightstown; Ira J. Weeks, cashier First National bank at Shawano.

er that we visited last Sunday and catch all the big ones we wanted with no more effort than to take a position at the head of some rapids, let our line of different length, each time and haul in the big fellows, we worked hard on our recent trip to get the dozen apiece. That was simply because the fish are not there as they once were. And it now requires covering much more water and considerable more skill and knowledge of conditions to get them.

However, I started out to say something about the other things besides fish that go with a trip such as we made. Particularly, I want to speak of the wild game we saw. It was a revelation. Actually, land species of many kinds were much in evidence.

Deer Plentiful

I haven't for years seen so many signs of deer, in fact, not since the days when we used to hunt in the wilds east of Cavour. On every trail leading to the small creeks fresh tracks were plentiful. In one thicket we came onto three of the animals, sleek, beautiful specimens of the wild places. It's a crime to kill them. It is not necessary, and I for one am perfectly willing not ever to hunt them again.

We saw many partridges. They are coming back in fine shape. A few years of protection would bring these "kings of game birds" to every corner of the north country. And why is it necessary to kill them? We saw dozens of them, the cocks in their spring nuptial dress out on the highways, strutting about with great bravery.

Time and time again we flushed prairie chickens along the roads. They, too, are coming back. A few years of protection would do wonders for them.

Woodcock, a bird that everyone knows has become scarce, flushed at intervals from the creek bottom, their shrill whistle as they fluttered above the tree tops called back the days of old when they, too, were plentiful.

And rabbits—we saw literally hundreds of them. After all isn't it better to see game of all kinds in their native haunts than to kill, kill, until the last one is wiped out?

Spectacular Torchlight Parade Impresses Appleton Citizens

THOUSANDS SEE MARCHERS MOVE ALONG AVENUE

Floats Are Chiefly Patriotic or Symbolic of Organizations

With the flickering light of red and green torches casting soft shadows over bright colored robes, metal helmets and shields, and sharp-pointed spears, the torchlight parade Thursday night offered a striking contrast to Saturday's parade. When bright sunlight flashed on the shining silver and brass of band instruments, and the blue, red and gold of the scores of bands and floats were thrown into sharp relief by the brightness of daylight. The parade, which took 45 minutes to pass a given point, was one of the most spectacular ever held in Appleton. The efficient manner in which the scores of units fell into the line of march, and the regularity with which they progressed up and down the avenue was proof of the enthusiastic cooperation of the fraternal organizations and the capable management of the chairman of the fraternal day committee, Gustave Keller, Sr. and his helpers.

Where Saturday's parade was featured by historic floats, the fraternal day parade floats were chiefly patriotic or symbolic of the organizations represented. Elaborately garbed drill teams provided the color for last night's parade that the band uniforms gave to the first one.

Floats Are Impressive Particularly impressive were the Knights of Pythias float, depicting the court scene where Pythias was about to be executed; the Knights of Columbus float, showing Columbus planting the Spanish flag on American soil; and the American Legion float, with its helmeted soldier standing amid the crosses of Flanders fields. The soldier, the sailor, the Red Cross band, and the Red Cross band, all in the parade, as did the ancient knight, the Indian and the modern. Even the fraternal float was there, peeping from the log cabin of the Modern Woodmen of America float.

The step of the first section was set by the police escort and the 120th Field Artillery band. The Marshal, August A. Arens, and his staff were followed by the massed colors and color guard, Mayor John Goodland, Jr., and city officers, and the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. Members of the Elks Assembly and the Elks' Picnicking Council of the Knights of Columbus, in full dress suits and top hats, preceded the Knights of Columbus float, and other Knights in gleaming mail, capes, helmets and spears, followed.

The blue, gray and gold of the hussar-like uniforms of the Little Chute band heralded the approach of the second unit. Hundreds of boys and girls, dressed in their best, came the Royal Order of Moose and the Women of the Moose with their float representing the aid given children and old folks at Mooseheart. Liberty holding high her torch over the heads of three members of the Grand Army of the Republic made up the float of the Women's Relief corps. The elaborate purple and gold float of the Royal Neighbors of America, scheduled for the second section, was unable to appear in the parade after a breakdown near Memorial chapel. However, the members in their white satin gowns, blue caps and mortar boards, marched. The float of the Catholic Daughters of America, with its purple-robed nun and other characters portraying the aims of the society, completed the second unit.

Band Leads Division The third division included the Appleton high school band, the Appleton Legion and auxiliary and the Flanders float, and the Women of the Moose float. The latter, with its white and gold uniforms, the Equitable Reserve association with its blue and white streamer float, and the Catholic Order of Foresters, in their var-colored robes, followed by their float, a forester's hut in the woods.

The Eagle drum and bugle corps led the fourth section. The colorful array of Eagle and auxiliary uniforms preceded the Eagle float, which represented the three of the movements sponsored by the lodge—the stabilization of employment, the old age pension and the widows' pension. "The Spirit of 1898," the float sponsored by the United Spanish War Veterans and auxiliary, was followed by the J. T. Reeve, Jr. float and United Commercial Travelers float. The latter showed Washington and the white horse.

Junior Band Play The fifth section stepped to the music of the Junior high school band. The Knights of Pythias in their green and red satin robes, their helmets, shields, and swords, flanked their float, which was followed by the float of the Pythian Sisters, garden scene. The St. Joseph society carried the original banner purchased when the organization was formed in 1853, and with the group rode 12 aged members whose combined age is 659 years. Nearly all have been members for 50 years or more, and six of them have celebrated their golden wedding anniversaries. The Catholic Eastern of Wisconsin and the Modern Woodmen of America completed the parade.

Through the efficient work of the police department and Company D, 127th Infantry, directed by Captain Lloyd Schroeder, College Ave. was cleared of all cars before the parade, and burning torches were placed at intervals along the street. During the demonstration Company D members and police officers patrolled the street.

WILPOLT FREED IN KIDNAPING CASE

Former Kaukauna Man Exonerated of Any Blame in Matter in East

Alban Wilpolt, Kenosha, formerly of Kaukauna, was released early this week on suspicion of having been connected with the kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby. Relatives at Kenosha received word from Wilpolt by long distance telephone from Washington, D. C., where he went following his release. He said that police released him because they could find no evidence to connect him with the case.

Wilpolt was arrested with five other men in Norfolk and held when police found a notation "Lindy" in a booklet taken from one of the men. Wilpolt was picked up at a hotel some time after the other men had been arrested. Police found a gun and some bullets in his room. It was said that he satisfactorily explained the presence of the gun and bullets and that he had been exonerated of any guilt in the kidnaping.

The gun which police found, Wilpolt explained, was a rifle designed for a hunting trip, in northern New York, which he was contemplating. The "dum-dum" bullets, he said, were some he procured to take along on the hunting trip to "have some fun" with his hunting companions.

Building Permits Four building permits were issued Wednesday by John N. Weiland, building inspector. They were granted to J. A. Merkle, 922 W. Eighth-st., one car garage, cost $109; and William Horne, 1015 W. Elsie-st., residence and one car garage, cost $4,000.

BIRTHS A son was born Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Van Roy, 715 W. Spring-st., at St. Elizabeth hospital.

A son was born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Seager, 608 N. Clark-st., at St. Elizabeth hospital.

A son was born Thursday to Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Luskens, route 2, Kaukauna, at St. Elizabeth hospital.

NORTH OSBORN SCHOOL PUPIL HIGH SCORER

Russel Burt Wins 2 Firsts, One Second—Marguerite Wagner Leads Girls

Winning two first places and one second, Russel Burt, North Osborn school, was high individual scorer and helped place his school ahead of the field in the tenth annual Outagamie-co field program held in the gymnasium of Wilson Junior high school this morning as part of the Rural day program of the joint celebration of the city's diamond jubilee and Washington bicentennial. One hundred and twenty-one boys and girls from 48 rural schools in Outagamie-co participated in the track and field events.

Miss Marguerite Wagner of Isar school won two first places in the events for girls to win high individual honors in her group and for the school which she attends. First, second and third place honors in three other events were divided among various girl contestants.

Burt took first place in chinning the bar by reaching the bar 18 times, and topped first honors in the running broad jump by leaping 16 feet, 8 1/2 inches. He took second place in the standing broad jump with eight feet, nine inches.

Bray Wins Dash First place in the 100-yard dash was won by Donald Bray of Little Chute school; second, Ivo Arnoldussen, Pioneer school, and third, Max Krueger, Isar school. In the base-ball throw for accuracy, Victor Diederich of Hermen school won first place; Orville Wanle, Seymour school, second; and Melvin Hegner, Under Hill school, third.

Second honors in chinning the bar went to Norbert Vosters, Fernwood school, and third to Joseph Fitzgerald of Cloverdale school. Normal Simpson of Fernwood school won second place in the running broad jump and Robert Jonsson, Leeman school, third.

Alvin Kasper of Shiocton school topped first place in the standing broad jump by leaping nine feet, and third place went to Claude La Merche of Seymour grade school.

Miss Veronica Ritchie, Maple Corners school, threw the horseshoe 127 feet, six inches to win first place in that contest. Second place went to Miss Evelyn Hanson, Elder Row school, and third went to Miss Cecilia Van Elsin, Combined Locks.

Wins Potato Race First place in the potato race was awarded to Miss Alice Beschta, Elm Grove Center school; second, Miss Florence Vissers, Fernwood, and Miss Agnes Justins, Ebben school, third. Second honors in the standing broad jump went to Miss Gladys Mc Nutt, Knowledge Hill school, and third to Miss Marie Lemke, Elm Grove Center.

Second honors in the 50-yard dash for girls was awarded to Miss Helen Schabore, Valley View school, and third to Miss Virginia Schultz, Seymour grades. Girls who completed the balancing-test were the Misses Ila Abel, Idlewild; Ruth Schneider, Hortonville grades; Isabel Miller, Shiocton, and Iva Christensen, Black Creek grades.

Medals for first, second and third places in the various events were awarded at the close of the tournament this noon. The preliminary contests were held last Thursday and Friday in six districts.

Wisconsin Weather Occasional rain, with local thunderstorms probable tonight and Saturday; warmer tonight east portion; cooler Saturday southwest and south central portions.

General Weather A low pressure area which is now centered over western Iowa this morning has caused general showers over the la-cie region, upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys and the western plains states during the past 24 hours, and thunderstorms over the lake region. The rainfall was quite heavy over sections of Wisconsin, with 1.78 inches falling at La Crosse and 1.33 inches at Wausau. Continued fair weather prevails over the eastern states and over all sections from the Rocky Mountains westward. Temperatures are rising slowly over the central Mississippi valley and lower lakes, but elsewhere the changes have been unimportant. Showers and thunderstorms are expected in this section tonight and Saturday, with rising temperature.

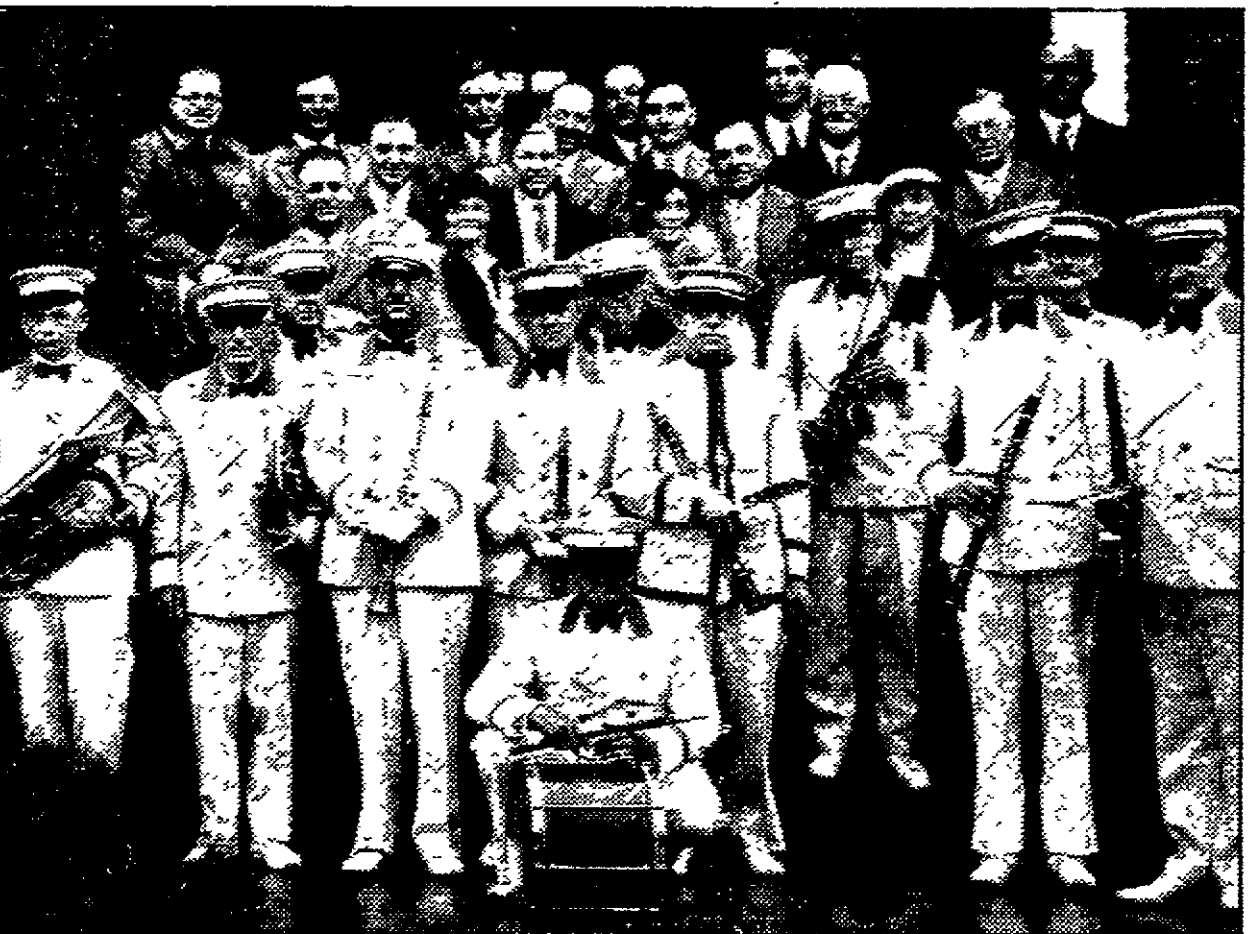

College Host Tomorrow To High School Seniors Lawrence college will aid Appleton in assuming a festive air tomorrow as approximately 200 high school seniors from Wisconsin and neighboring states visit the Lawrence campus in the first student supervised recruiting project in the history of the school.

Students will be entertained on the campus by the college students and will be conducted about the campus by student guides. A complete program, extensive enough so as to include almost every type of interest, has been arranged by the committee in charge. There will be a concert for students interested in music, a group of one-act plays, numerous athletic events, including the Lawrence-Ripon track and tennis meets; faculty conferences, a tea dance, smokers and "cozies."

Many of the students who live at distance from Appleton will be accommodated at the college dormitories Sunday, when they will return to their homes. All visiting students will be guests of the college at meals.

It is expected that the event may become an annual affair, and every effort is being made by the student body to make the day a success.

Welcome National Ruler Of Elks Here

In the upper picture, taken at the banquet in honor of John R. Coen, Sterling Colo., grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, at Conway hotel yesterday noon, Mr. Coen is standing between his wife and C. E. Broughton, Sheboygan publisher and past exalted ruler of Wisconsin Elks. At the extreme left is A. A. Grizmachner, past exalted ruler of the Appleton lodge, and next to him is Alfred S. Bradford, exalted ruler.

Picnic Here Tomorrow For Blind Residents

Miss Alice Otto, Appleton, representative of the State Agency for the Adult Blind, will give a picnic Saturday at Eagle hall for blind people in the district, which includes 19 counties. Activities will begin at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, and a picnic lunch will be served at noon and in the evening. A program will be presented by the guests during the afternoon.

It is expected that about 100 persons from Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Stevens Point, Marinette, Omro, Potosi, and other places in the district will attend.

The program will be as follows: Theme song by the Waikiki club; vocal solo, Mrs. Anna Hubert; guitar trio, "Bells of Avalon" by Mrs. Ralph Dorn, Mrs. Fred Tank, and Miss Alice Otto; reading, Miss Anna Rasmussen; guitar solo, "Soutn Sea Memories," Mrs. Ralph Dorn; guitar selections, "Helena Waltz" and "Beautiful Hawaii" by the Waikiki club; "Red Wing" vocal solo, Miss Anna Rasmussen; guitar selection, "The Old Rugged Cross," Mrs. Ralph Dorn, violin solo, Joseph Goehy; guitar trio, "Luhua Waltz," and readings by Miss Alice Otto. The program will close with the theme song by the Waikiki club.

CHILD, BURNED, IS DEAD OF PNEUMONIA

Small Son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Jansen, Leeman, Succumbs

Merlin, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Jansen, Leeman, died Wednesday from pneumonia which he contracted following burns received in an accident last Friday. The child was badly burned when his clothes caught fire as he was standing near a rubbish fire in the yard of his home.

The Jansen family, which lives on a farm about six miles south of Leeman on County Trunk B, moved to Leeman from Kaukauna about a year ago.

Leonard Jones, 3-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, who lived in an accident last Friday, died in an accident last Friday. The child was badly burned when his clothes caught fire as he was standing near a rubbish fire in the yard of his home.

APPLETON MAN PLEADS GUILTY OF 3 CHARGES

Henry Van Ryzin to Be Sentenced This Afternoon by Judge Berg

Henry Van Ryzin, 22, 730 E. Atlantic-st., pleaded guilty when arraigned in municipal court before Judge Theodore Berg to one charge of burglary and two charges of breaking into buildings with intent to commit burglary. Judge Berg is to sentence Van Ryzin this afternoon. Raymond Kant, 17, 220 E. Winnebago-st., who was implicated by Van Ryzin, is at the county jail with injuries, but Police Chief George T. Prim said this morning that as soon as the youth is released he would be returned to the Industrial School for Boys. Kant formerly was in the school, the chief said, and his implication in the burglaries will automatically result in his return to the school where he must remain until he is 21 years old.

Van Ryzin was charged with breaking into the Blatz Brewing company offices on April 14 and stealing merchandise valued at $5.53. He also was charged with breaking into the office of the S. C. Shannon company on April 18 and into the Appleton Pure Milk company offices on April 22.

Van Ryzin and Kant were taken into custody Wednesday morning in connection with an automobile accident on the Lake-rd Tuesday night. The car which figured in the accident had been stolen from Edwin M. Marheime, Oshkosh, and the license plates were taken from the car owned by Howard W. Lochm, Menasha. Van Ryzin also admitted stealing the car and the license plates. When Van Ryzin was arrested police took from him a .32 calibre revolver.

The accident, in which the car was demolished, occurred about a half mile north of Waverly beach. Bloodstained clothing, an empty holster and several cartridges were found in a clump of bushes near the scene of the accident, leading police to believe the occupants changed clothes after the accident. Two leather coats and two letters, which were seen with the pile of clothing by nearby farmers are missing.

Henry Rosenow, route 1, Menasha, who took Van Ryzin and Kant to Appleton after the accident said they refused to go to St. Elizabeth hospital. The two men were taken to the home of Lee D. Hinks, 730 E. Atlantic-st., where they were later apprehended by police.

MORGAN QUOTED BY MELLON IN SPEECH TO BUSINESS MEN

London—(AP)—J. P. Morgan's four word sermon "Never sell America short," was preached again today by United States Ambassador Mellon to a gathering of bankers and business men at a luncheon in London's city hall.

"A great and patriotic American who lived much in England and loved his country once said to a compatriot, 'Never sell America short,'" said Mr. Mellon.

"I would reiterate what Mr. Morgan said then, and I would apply it to England no less than to my own country."

"None of us has any means of knowing when or how we shall emerge from the valley of depression in which the world is now traveling. But I do know that as in the past a day will come when we shall find ourselves on a more solid economic foundation and the onward march of progress will be resumed."

President Hoover, he said, "has shown leadership of the highest order," and when the full effect of the legislation he has inspired is felt, "banking and business organizations will be in position to take advantage of any improvement in the general situation when it comes."

DEATHS

MRS. BERTHA SCHROEDER Mrs. Bertha Schroeder, 68, died early Friday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alvin Rehmer, town of Center. Born in Fomerberg, Germany, she came to America at the age of 21, settling in New York. Forty-three years ago she moved to the town of Center. Survivors are two daughters: Mrs. Elsie Colber, Withee and Mrs. Rehmer; seven sons, Gustave of Appleton; Arthur, Reinhardt and Edwin of Center; Alfred of Neenah; Louis of Cheyenne, Wyoming; Fred of Black Creek; 15 grandchildren; one brother, Otto Lemke, Liberty; and three sisters, Mrs. Thilo Scheidermayer and Mrs. August Bartz of Appleton and Mrs. Thomas Welbes of Hancock. The funeral will be held from the Rehmer home at 1:15 Monday afternoon, with services at 2 o'clock at Zion Lutheran church, Appleton. Burial will be in the cemetery at Twelve Corners.

EDMUND KASPAR Edmund Kaspar, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kaspar of Oshkosh, and nephew of the Rev. Leonard Kaspar of Greenville, died at the home of his parents Thursday morning. The youth had been studying for the ministry at Northwestern college at Watertown for the past eight years, and was to have been graduated this June. The funeral will be held from the home Sunday afternoon, with the Rev. B. Schuetter of Grace Lutheran church at Oshkosh in charge of services at the home, and Prof. E. Kowalka, president of Northwestern college, preaching the sermon at the church.

MAJOR PARTIES COME OUT BOLDLY FOR PROSPERITY

Pretense of Any Fundamental Difference. Becomes Funnier

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Washington — Day by day, in every way, the pretense that there is any fundamental difference between the two major parties becomes funnier and funnier.
Ask a Democrat the difference and he will quote you the increase in unemployment and bank failures and the decreases in foreign trade, car loadings, commodity prices and pig iron production during the Hoover administration.
Ask a Republican and he, bearing his breast, will point to the glorious achievements of Herbert Hoover, explaining how, if any other man had been at the helm to steer the Ship of State, the crash would have been complete and savage hordes of Bolsheviki would be overrunning the land, burning down steeples, rearing up street car tracks and uprooting all the other grand old American institutions.

Other "Differences"
In case you are so ungrateful as not to be satisfied with such explanations, you may, if you persist, extract further illumination.
Any Democrat, if pressed, will hark back to the days of Thomas Jefferson and Alexander Hamilton. Citing the records of those two statesmen, he will invoke the shade of Jefferson to demonstrate that the Democrats are the party of the people and will prove by the past performances of Mr. Hamilton that the Republicans are the party of special privilege and big corporations.

Any Republican will assert that the really fundamental cleavage between the parties is to be found in the fact that Abraham Lincoln, soiled rails, served as president during the Civil War, freed the slaves and died a martyr.
By way of invidious comparison, the Republican will recite the horrors of the depression that smote the country during the second administration of Grover Cleveland.
There is no point in asking for further elucidation because that is all you'll get.

Both Favor Prosperity!
In 1928 the important issue was the "prosperity" issue. But it was a partisan issue only to the extent that the Republicans said they could guarantee prosperity and the Democrats denied it.
The Republican candidate then said there would be a chicken in every pot and a car—or was it two cars?—in every garage. In 1932 the Democratic candidate will point derisively to the fact that there is not a chicken in every pot or a car in every garage or a garage behind every home.
You can hardly call prosperity an issue, because both parties are for it and the only argument is as to which party is the best qualified to nurse it with tender care.

Prohibition Prospects
Prohibition is an important issue, surely. But in 1928 the party platforms were as one about that and, although the Republican candidate was dry and the Democrat wet, 1932 finds us wet. The two almost equally divided branches of Congress.
And the politicians of each party are disagreeing among themselves as to how wet they dare be in their 1932 platforms.
Passage of "reconstruction" measures this session not only has failed to reveal a partisan division; it has found both parties scrambling to get the credit for the same measures. And in the hot Senate fight over direct federal unemployment relief the leaders of both parties combined to defeat the LaFollette-Costigan bill while minorities of each party favored it.

FINI LA GUERRE
Hawaii is Asiatic and from our Oriental territory we must learn to expect the bizarre, the quaint and sometimes the grotesque.
The Occidental who stays too long in the Levant finds a peaceful sluggishness creeping over his muscles and extending into a languor or heaviness of mind. From a life of aroused activity he now discovers that his greatest purpose becomes the avoidance of trouble and the courting of the placidity of rest, reverie and dreams. That is why the tropical East is adored by the lotus eater. Perhaps it was fashioned by nature as the land of Morpheus, the kingdom of Nod.
This dawdling and listless attitude toward all things serious is bound to find its way into government. The governor of Hawaii dealt out pardons like a satrap in the Arabian Nights, like a gracious prince-in-medieval days, even like a few unstable governors our states occasionally elect. So far as he is concerned the remission of the sins of Lieut. Massie and others is entirely consistent. The governor doesn't like to hurt anybody's feelings and jails are awkward and unpleasant affairs. Who could think of prison cells without a shudder while watching the swish of the reed dress on a hula-hula dancer?
So the result is a bit of compromise about like this: Five men commit a brutal crime but cannot be convicted because juries in Hawaii are too sleepy to take such an offense in a serious vein. Thereupon the husband of the woman, naturally outraged at the hypnotic idling of justice, kills one of the alleged culprits. This wakes Hawaii up. Murder apparently is the only offense that can overcome its heavy opium lethargy.
Now a jury, wide awake at last, properly convicts the killers. But the sleepers on every hand, dismayed at the unpleasant interruption of their otherwise tranquil life, vision more troubles ahead, disturbances to slumber. So the governor of our lotus eaters commutes the sentence of ten years to one hour and the killers agree that they will get the outraged woman not to prosecute the four remaining rapists.
It is a strange bedlam of ideas. It is an eccentric and outlandish conception of justice. Yet it is strictly Asiatic. And if that won't satisfy the Hawaiian mind nothing can.
Indeed Hawaii may now assume again that inscrutable smile which it has heretofore carried on its polyglot face.
The rumpus is over. The waters are quiet again except for an occasional dive by one of the beach boys. Nothing approaching justice has been administered, which ought to suit everyone. Who wants justice anyway? Justice is a harsh thing at best and they only like the soft and velvety in Hawaii.
Lord and Jones, described as common seamen, who were convicted along with Lieut. Massie and Mrs. Fortescue, present a problem worthy of more attention than they received.
They were not personally interested in the black swish and whirl of the crime waters in Hawaii, yet their active participation is not difficult to understand. They were in a service that makes for warm comrades, death-do-us-part friendships, and their attachment to Lieut. Massie to the extent of voluntarily risking their own lives in his behalf, is a great compliment to that officer. It indicates that he has the attributes essential in an officer who must rule over men who think for themselves, and that he knows how to exercise the authority vested in him with dignity and justice.
There was never a hint of coercion upon these seamen. They probably would disdain as much as the officer would refuse, the use of any influence other than their opinion of the necessity of action in order to arouse justice to the enormity of what had been going on.

Despite the crime, the shot, the gaping human wound, the clotting blood and gasping death rattle, their conduct partook of that determined and gallant even if mistaken, nature that forever throws a glow and a glamour over the uniform they wore.
CREATING ANOTHER WARD
Whatever the reasons actuating petitioners for division of the Fourth ward into two wards, it is at least a start toward a much needed revision of all ward lines. The petition, originated by Fourth ward residents west of Madison-st., seeks to have that street designated as the eastern boundary of the new ward.
The present Fourth ward is the most extensive in area in Appleton, although its population is much less than four of the other five wards. It includes all the territory south of the Fox river between the eastern and western city limits. Even with two polling precincts many voters must travel long distances to vote. Because of this extensive area it is not surprising that residents in one part of the ward have widely different interests than residents of another and sometimes it is difficult to obtain proper representation with two aldermen for these divergent views.
The same thing is true, in a lesser degree perhaps, of some of the other large wards in Appleton. Not only is it difficult to obtain adequate representation on the council, but also on the county board. Recently the First Ward Civic league revived the movement to bring about revision of ward lines with the view of doubling the number of wards, but nothing further has been done about it.
It might be well to make a start toward this revision by granting the Fourth ward petition. It is probable the experience will indicate the difficulties surrounding a general revision of ward boundaries. Nothing much can be lost by this step and a great deal may be gained.
CLASSIFYING OUR CREDIT
Tell a hard-boiled credit man your occupation and into his "morgue" you go, labeled and ticketed. The Credit World has published a list of 34 occupations ranked according to credit rating.
Are you a school teacher? If so, front and center. The statistical blue ribbon is yours for being the best risk, or number one on the credit list. Painters and decorators—artistically forgetful no doubt—are pegged as tail-enders when it comes to paying and how soon.
Chain store-managers rank next to school teachers, while barbers listed as No. 32, lead by a hair or two the waiters and cooks. Physicians and dentists in that order are high rankers, being separated only by railway trainmen. College students, without embarrassment of guile, are far down on the list among automobile mechanics, brick masons and janitors. Lawyers lead traveling salesmen by a nose but are outranked by farmers. Railroad track workers are better pay than firemen; and policemen and domestic servants rate just above carpenters. Coalminers are reputed better risks than tenant-farmers who in turn outrank automobile salesmen and truck drivers.
Editors fail of classification, through lack of space perhaps, to add further to the list or perhaps some better reason.

Opinions Of Others
RUSSIAN WAR FEVER
The Russian military policy has assumed new importance with the refusal of the Soviet government to take part in the preliminary disarmament discussions or to send representatives to meet with delegates from European powers to work out an economic agreement designed to improve the position of all European industry. The Soviet interest in the differences of Japan and China, particularly in the league's denial of the opportunity to show which way it faces in Asiatic political affairs, its attitude can hardly be construed as anything but a pose for domestic effect. The leaders apparently feel that they can not afford to create the impression among their people that there is any weakening of reliance on the force of arms.
Soviet Russia has today the strongest army, numerically, in the world. Its equipment is good as far as it goes, but it lacks the combat resources of armies organized as they came out of the world war. Its field guns are for the most part antiquated, and its air army is hardly a match for any first-class army; but it has the men, and its reserve strength is almost unlimited. Under the five-year plan, the country is building factories which could be turned to arms manufacture with almost as much celerity as the United States found possible when it rose to the great war emergency. The power of the army, both actual and potential, is undisputed. It is the matter of fact that encourages the political dream of the Soviet theorists.—Indianapolis News.

PIONEERS
The pioneers of early days were men of courage rare. They battled long with hardship and with suffering and care. They felled the forests for their wood, and plowed the land for grain. From day to day and week to week they coped with hurt and pain; But looking back across the stretch of life which we have known, I'd say the gut of pioneers we, too, have often shown.
We parents of this modern age have lived as pioneers. With mental suffering and pain we've built these better years. We pioneered the telephone. In days when that began. On messages of love and haste the owner of it ran. His home became a bureau for his neighborhood daily news. And strangers came from blocks away his telephone to use.
We pioneered the phonograph! The first recorded speech Brought to our tender eardrums nothing sweeter than a screech. "The ravings of McCullough" which commenced: "They say I'm mad!" Was a record filled with horror which all gramophones had. We were a brave and patient race until the ills were cured. With all the pluck of pioneers great tortures we endured.
We pioneered the motor car! Oft in the evening gloam Brave men were seen along the road pushing their cars toward home. We motored into mire and mud! Ours was the faith to go. When would the engine last the day no living man could know. So thinking of the horrors borne and braved along the years There isn't any doubt at all that we've been pioneers.

Looking Backward
TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Friday, May 10, 1907
The following week two marriages were to take place at St. Joseph's church. Miss Lazz Schumacher, Appleton, was to become the bride of Frank Osharski, Kaukauna, and Miss Agnes Becher and Julius Wickersberg, both of Appleton, were to be married the following Tuesday. Mrs. Paul Schroeder, 346 Atlantic-st., entertained the Jolly Twelve club at her home the previous afternoon.
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hackbert left that morning for Fort Atkinson where Mrs. Hackbert was to spend two weeks with friends and relatives while Mr. Hackbert was to attend the annual convention of the Order of Railway Telegraphers at Minneapolis, Minn.
William Scheer left that day for Grand Rapids where he was to remain for several days on business.
Miss Neida Schneider had gone to Milwaukee to take a position as kindergarten teacher for the balance of the year.
Mrs. J. L. Bloom and daughters, Carol and Elizabeth, of Butternut, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schneider, 718 N. Division-st.

Personal Health Talks
BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author
PLASTER CASTS ARE ANOTHER OLD SPANISH CUSTOM
I have referred repeatedly to the radical operation for removal of tonsils (by snare and guillotine) as an old Spanish custom, meaning that it is a fine old method but rather crude and tortuous compared with the modern method by diathermy. I estimate that for every time I have uttered this seeming slander a score of nose and throat specialists have wished me some place where newspapers don't circulate. But on the other hand, I really believe that every time I have uttered the seeming slander one good man somewhere has stopped scoffing and arranged to receive technical instruction in the new method by some master who demonstrates the technic in clinic.
Every little while we hear that some friend has suffered an injury of some kind and is now in a plaster cast. It sounds a lot worse than it is, if you are not familiar with such matters. But at best it is pretty bad. It is so bad that I think I am scientifically justified in saying that a plaster cast in any stage of the treatment of fracture, dislocation or orthopedic deformity or defect is another old Spanish custom which ought to be discarded some time in the present century, but probably will not be. And when I say cast here I mean a casing entirely surrounding the limb or body, rigid and unyielding. I am not referring to plaster of Paris splints or molds.
The purpose of plaster casts was to immobilize the injured or defective limb and to retain the structures in the position desired by physician or surgeon.
That purpose is always accomplished quite as effectively by suitable splints. Either the original cast should be cut into two removable splints as soon as it has set or else it should be applied only two-thirds or three-fourths of the way around the limb or body; if it is not intended to remove it daily for inspection, gentle massage and passive movement of the joints near the injury.
When a doctor applies a cast encircling the limb and leaves it undisturbed for days and even weeks he may be following fine old tradition but he is certainly not giving the victim of fracture the benefit of modern surgical treatment. If he were not an old fogey he would cut the cast into two splints the first day, and remove at least one for inspection of the limb every day, and begin gentle daily massage and passive bending of the joint or joints in the first week and probably keep only one splint (one-half of the cast) on the limb after the second week, and that for not longer than six weeks. Of course circumstances alter cases—I am giving fair average rules.
It is the old timers in the profession who establish what the courts would call good standard practice. So that any doctor who still follows old established standards in the treatment of every day fractures would have no trouble at all in aligning all kinds of eminent expert witnesses to testify that the old Spanish method is all right, just as plenty of the medical elders today are still making a major operation out of the removal of infected tonsils.
But I'm telling you what's what, and let me know if you find a physician of standing who dares to contradict me.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
The Grade of Milk
What is the difference between Certified milk and Grade A pasteurized? Which is more nourishing? (G. S.)
Answer—Certified milk is the finest available milk for any one and especially for the baby. Any milk is pasteurized if it has been heated to 145 degrees F. for 20 or 30 minutes, this parboiling being for the purpose of killing off disease germs which are not unlikely to be present in ordinary market milk. Although no milk is superior to Certified in nourishing value or in butter fat, any other grade of milk is likely to be inferior to it in purity. If Certified milk is available and one can afford it, it is the best for infants, children or invalids. But any milk that has been pasteurized is safe to feed them. Certified is the only grade of raw milk whose purity may be relied upon at all times.
Hippokrates Now Obsolete
Several times you have implied or asserted that graduates in medicine take the oath of Hippokrates when they receive their degree. I graduated in 1895 and no such oath was administered to me. I doubt whether 90 per cent of the physicians know what it is all about or have ever read it. (C. T. M., M. D.)
Answer—I assumed that all physicians took the oath on receiving the degree. They should. The man who takes that oath and keeps it is a true physician.
Tattoo Designs
Would like to have all the information you can send me on removing tattoo designs. (G. O.)
Answer—A physician skilled in the work may improve the cosmetic appearance or make the mutilation less noticeable by further tattooing. Discoloring out the mutilated skin and filling the defect with a graft from some other part of the skin, is the only remedy in many cases.

The Tynymites
By Hal Cophran
THE boat began to look real fine. "The task of steering will be mine," said Duncy. "I am pretty good at doing things like that." "If we're to sail across the sea, you all will be real safe with me. I wish, for this occasion, that I had a sailor's hat."
Then Scouty said, "If you're to steer, you'll shortly fall us all with fear. Let Windy do that task because he's tried it in the air."
"We'll let you hold the sail in tow, if you are sure you won't let go. At least we all will have a share to do that will be fair."
On wooden horses stood the boat and Copsy said, "How will it float? I don't think we are strong enough to lift it to the ground."
"And, also, when we start away upon a merry trip today, I'd like to have a skinny tell us just where we are bound."
"Don't worry," said a skinny. "You will soon discover something new. The boat will sail along until you land upon an isle."
"Then pull the boat up on the sand and shortly you'll see something grand! I'd like to be along with you so I could watch you smile."
"Now, if you'll do just as I say, we'll have this boat upon its way. All shove real hard. The boat will sho and fall into the sea."
The Tynies did as they were told and off the big boat shortly rolled. Just one more shove and then it floated, slick as slick could be.
"Get in, you Tynymites! Get in!" And when the Tynies hopped aboard the skinnies gathered 'round. They shoved and shoved as best they could and shortly Scouty shouted, "Good! We're floating on the water now and off to sea we're bound."

Seen And Heard In New York
BY WILLIAM GAINES
New York—Dita Parlo, one of the piquant personalities who followed her foreign movie reputation to this country, is a well-informed and diverting conversationalist.
Her English is ample for her continuous line of party chatter, spiced with shrewd observations and sometimes tart wit.
Not exactly what you would call a beauty, the Parlo, like other of her screen sisters from overseas, leaves an indelible impression with you when you've seen her once. That is, in person; I confess to having missed all of her pictures brought over here.
Her sales points are extraordinary eyes, an exquisite mouth, grace and poise. If you begin to think you don't quite admire the oval, pale face, your thoughts at once are turned to flattery by some fascinating play of her hands.
Something of a big shot in German silent pictures, her opportunities here have been limited. She made her first stage appearance in New York—her first time on any stage, she says—but the show didn't click.
She did some German-version work in Hollywood and recently connected with an independent producing firm which is using an old Fort Lee, New Jersey, studio.
Offhand, she says she believes the person she most admires among those she knows here is Mayor Jimmy Walker.
"Ah, from the woman's standpoint, he is just about what a man should be," Parlo exclaims.
Then she mimics a dozen or so of his Honor's characteristic attitudes, and you realize right off why her pantomime was so highly regarded.
Once Upon a Time
There was a time when Park avenue appeared one of the least promising of New York's thoroughfares. Trains rumbled through the tunnel beneath it, but drawn by steam engines.
There was a great opening down the center of the avenue, bridged at the cross-streets. Smoke billowed from the caverns and spread across the way, blackening everything in its path. Nauseous gases and noise from the engines made the street an impossible place of residence.
Electrification of the railway approaches to the city and the closing of the aperture made Park avenue's reformation a reality. Aggressive real estate exploiters seized upon the property and convinced the wealthy of the advantages of exclusive addresses, within easy reach of the business areas.
Hot Tamales!
Mrs. Malcolm R. Jameson, of Laredo, down on the Rio Grande, has come to the rescue of those suffering for want of a genuine Mexican meal. Mrs. Jameson has arranged to take over a Greenwich Village cafe every Saturday evening, and that's where you may find any number of enchilada and tamale hungry Texans.
Lupe Velez every now and then is seen on the street wearing smoky glasses. Lupe says it's no disguise, a la Garbo—she wears 'em because the sun hurts her eyes.
Here are some other facts about the little Mexican jumping bean: She was born in San Luis Potosi, July 10, 1909. She is extremely superstitious and likes prize fights.
She revels in her new success on the New York stage, but her friends who have known her long say she is more excitable and jumpy than ever before.

AUSTRALIANS ADVANCE
On May 6, 1918, Australian troops drove the Germans back near Moenjaourt, between the Ancre and Somme rivers, in a day of heavy fighting.
The advance relieved the pressure on Amiens and was regarded as an important gain, although it was of a local nature.
Canadian troops in the same sector of the western front made slight unimportant gains. Americans brigaded with the British were shelled heavily by the Germans, but no attack was made. Countless mustard gas shells were dropped in the American sector.
The Third Liberty Loan drive, for $2,000,000,000, was oversubscribed, it was announced in Washington.
Removal of John K. Caldwell, U. S. consul at Vladivostok, was demanded by the Soviet government. The State Department in Washington immediately announced that he would not be removed.

CLOSED STATE BANKS CAN'T SECURE LOANS

Court Ruling Affects Situation Already Muddled by Conflicting Laws

BY C. B. UPHAM
Copyright 1932, by Cons. Press
Washington (CPA)—The first court test of the right of closed state banks to borrow from the Reconstruction Finance corporation for the purpose of paying liquidating dividends to depositors has resulted in a denial of their right to do so. The supreme court of Utah has granted a writ of prohibition against the state bank commissioner, as liquidator of the closed Sugar Banking Co., of Salt Lake City, from making application to the federal agency for a loan, and pledging the assets of the bank as security therefor.

There has been considerable difficulty about the extensions of loans by the reconstruction finance corporation to state banks. While the congressional enactment is clear on the subject and the power of the corporation to make such loans is unquestioned, in many states doubts have arisen about the right of state banks to pledge their assets for that purpose.

Many Opinions
There has been a series of opinions by the attorneys general of the various states, some holding one way and some the other. In a few states, where regular or special sessions of the legislature were in progress, emergency enactments have clarified the statutes in this respect. In others it is still impossible for either operating institutions or closed banks to take advantage of the federal law. The bank commissioner of one state has characterized the congressional action as "just another instance of a law being passed by congress, affecting the states, with no concern given as to whether it fits in with state laws or not."

Chief Justice Cherry of the Utah court wrote a dissenting opinion, in which he referred to the federal government as a "magnanimous and friendly lender." The scheme is designed, he says, so that the depositors of the bank have everything to gain and nothing to lose.

The majority opinion, however, declares that "correct conclusions with respect to the matter in hand may not be aided by exigencies of the hour, or by mere sentiment or desire," and adds that "these principles are not dependent upon nor controlled by the character or supposed generosity of the lender."

No Authority
In overruling the lower court, which had authorized the application for a loan, the Utah supreme court declared that the district court was without authority to authorize or direct the receiver of the closed bank to borrow money and secure it by mortgages or pledges on assets in his custody, to become paramount liens, "except on clear necessity to preserve the existence of property or to save it from destruction."

Some doubt has been expressed, in view of the Utah decision, of the effectiveness of the proposed federal liquidating corporation, and important part of the clearing bank bill as a permanent agency for making dividends available promptly to depositors in closed banks. Legislation in many states may be necessary before state banks may take advantage of that agency, it is pointed out. Some observers see in the tangled situation a potent argument for a single unified banking system.

FAVORS REDUCTION IN FUNDS FOR VETERANS

Washington (AP)—A frontal attack upon the expenditure of vast sums of federal money for the benefit of war veterans was made Thursday by Archibald B. Roosevelt, a son of the former president, while the house ways and means committee was deferring action on a measure for full payment of the bonus.

Roosevelt, representing the national economy committee, a private organization, put an appeal before the president and senate. He urged a drastic cut in the billion dollars he said was spent yearly for veterans' benefits and proposed that action be taken to cut off payments to veterans suffering from injuries not incurred in war service.

The house ways and means committee put off until Friday a vote on the Paumotu plan to issue additional currency to redeem the two billion dollars outstanding on soldiers' bonus certificates.

Your Birthday

WHAT TOMORROW MEANS TO YOU
By Mary Blake "TAURUS"

If May 7th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:10 a. m. to 11:15 a. m., from 2:30 p. m. to 4 p. m. and from 10 p. m. to 11 p. m. The danger periods are from 8 a. m. to 9:30 a. m. and from 6 p. m. to 7:35 p. m.

Very disturbing planetary conditions are augured for May 7th, and the complexion of many preconceived plans to set ideas will change color through startling disclosures of the day. Attention will be called to financial matters, and quick thought and action will be called to save the loss of property or investments.

The child born on this May 7th will have every reason to thank its lucky stars, as the planetary aspects on this date are most favorable. Neither character or brain will be lacking, and life has many rich opportunities in store for it. It will earn the love of all its associates.

Your character, if born on May 7th, is made up of temperamental traits. You are always your natural, unaffected self, as you do not know how to put on any bright trappings or make-believe in order to attract. This, however, is not necessary for your naive ways are different and refreshing. Your artless way of calling a spade a spade both shocks and pleases, and you are always unconsciously selling your personality without any forced effort on your part.

You are not a drone by nature, and whether it be necessary to earn your salt or not, you will not be an idler. Many times you will put away your toys of amusement in order to concentrate on some longed-for goal. You are interested in scientific subjects, and in a sense of the word will be a student all your life—never too old to learn. You do not hoard your knowledge, but make use of it in your everyday contacts, conversation and travels. It rather pleases you in fact, to spill information wherever there is a likelihood of its soaking in.

You are impassioned on the heart more than the physical side, and should seek intellectual companionship above all else in your marriage partner.

Successful People Born On May 7th:

1. Robert Browning, poet.
2. Lord Rosebery, English statesman.
3. Joe Cannon, former speaker of congress.
4. William Bainbridge, naval officer.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

by Ely Culbertson
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

THE JUMP OVERCALL AND RESPONSE

Participants in the World Bridge Olympic game conducted by the National Bridge Association, were confronted by Hand No. 9 with the use of the Jump Overcall as an effective means of reaching a game contract, after opponents had opened the bidding. This bid, in the Approach-Forcing System, discloses a very strong hand, containing more than 3 honor-tricks, and a strong two-suiter, or a powerful single suit. In other words, it shows a hand with which the overcalling player is justified in asking his partner, with a weak, but not a bust hand, to give him another opportunity to bid, even in the face of an adverse Opening bid.

The par for the East and West players was a contract of three spades, made by the opponents. The par for the North and South players was a bid, with their strong holdings, of four spades, regardless of the outcome.

The hand and bidding were:
East—Dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

1—While ordinarily the higher ranking suit should be preferred as the Opening bid with distribution such as 6-5-2, the six-card club suit should be preferred because of its immensely greater strength.

2—South's hand is ideal for a Jump. Overall, requiring partner to continue the bidding if he holds as much as 1 honor-trick.

3—North shows his six-card heart suit in preference to an immediate Raise in spades.

4—North's hand now clearly calls

Study the hand, decide how you would bid and play it and then compare the results you obtain with those shown in tomorrow's article.

CATLIN HEADS HARESFOOT CLUB

Appleton Youth at University Is Honored by Selection

Madison—Several University students, whose homes are in Appleton, have received mention during the first half of the semester for participation in campus activities.

Mark S. Catlin, Jr., who last year played regular end on the football gridiron was elected president of the Haresfoot club this week for the coming year after having previously been chosen the most popular member of the troupe which made a tour of 14 midwestern cities, including Menasha, during "Lucky Breaks." This year's show was a revue, in which all parts, male and female, were taken by men students. In winning the honor, Catlin tossed out Francis Flynn, the leading "lady," by a single vote.

Catlin, a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity, is pitcher for his team in interfraternity baseball. Alois J. Liothen and Frank A. Murphy represent Delta Upsilon on the diamond.

Wilfred H. Tock has been mentioned as a candidate for a berth when the varsity crew races at Marquette, O. May 21.

During the early part of the semester, Leo P. Solinger played interfraternity basketball for Phi Epsilon Pi fraternity.

STATE REFORESTATION PROGRAM UNDER WAY

Madison (AP)—The state conservation department's spring planting program, calling for 5,000,000 trees on 5,000 acres of state lands, is underway, Paul D. Kelleter, conservation director, announced today.

Trees are being set at six foot spacing which requires approximately 1,000 trees per acre. Work is in progress in six places Mr. Kelleter said. A crew of 35 men is at work at a nursery near Trout Lake in Northern State Forest, lifting trees and making seed beds.

At the Oxley camp a crew of 48 men is planting trees while at the Nebish camp in Northern State Forest a crew of 31 men is at work. A crew of 28 men is planting at Trout Lake. Fifty-two men are at work in American Legion State Forest in Oneida-co and in the same area is a prison crew working under the joint direction of the state board of control and the conservation department. A crew of 30 men is at work planting trees at Brule State Forest and a prison crew is engaged at Gordon in Douglas-co.

More than a half million trees will be planted in Junior Forest Ranger forests and school forests, Mr. Kelleter said. In addition to lifting trees for planting on state lands, the crew at the Trout Lake nursery is lifting trees for demonstration plantations under the direction of F. B. Trenk, extension forester, and for Junior Forest Ranger and school forest plantations under the direction of Wakeelin McNell, extension club leader.

Gives Talk On Training In Worship

TRAINING Children in Worship was the topic given by the Rev. W. R. Wetzel at the meeting of the Women's Union of St. John's church Thursday afternoon in the sub auditorium of the church. The constitution was read. Thirty-two members were present.

An announcement was made of a prayer meeting for missions at 7:30 next Sunday evening at the church. The Mother-Daughter banquet will be held at 7 o'clock Tuesday night. The members will attend a regional conference of the Fond du Lac district May 25 at St. Paul Evangelical church, Oshkosh.

Hostesses at the meeting were Mrs. Peter East, Mrs. H. Ezer, and Mrs. L. Brinkman.

Arrangements for the annual May tea to be sponsored from 3 to 5 o'clock next Friday afternoon by the crews of Mrs. Mell Buxton and Mrs. W. E. Dutcher were made at the meeting of the crew of the San Cristobal Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harwood Finkle, 2315 E. College-ave. A program will be given in the little theatre of the church, and tea will be served in the dining room.

It was announced that 40 members of the crew will go to Green Bay for a 1 o'clock luncheon on May 24. This was the last regular meeting of the San Cristobal, but a picnic will be held sometime in June at the O. P. Schlafer cottage on Lake Winnebago.

The Social Union picnic will take place the first Tuesday in June at Pierce park.

Arrangements for the Mother-Daughter banquet to be held next Sunday were made at the meeting of the Missionary society of Trinity English Lutheran church Thursday afternoon in the sub auditorium of the church. Mrs. Harry Cameron will have charge of the program, and Mrs. Herman Kotke, Mrs. J. Hilde, and Mrs. A. E. Briggs will direct the ticket sale. The Brotherhood will serve the dinner at 6:30.

Mrs. J. Homblette led the devotion. The topic on "Korea, Land of the Dawn" was given by seven members and one visitor were present. Hostesses were Mrs. Lloyd Fumal, Mrs. John Hoffman, Mrs. Carl Hassel and Mrs. George Johnson.

A Mother and Daughter's program will be given at 7:30 next Wednesday at First Reformed church. A social hour will follow the program.

There will be a special Mothers' Day program at the church Sunday morning.

Zion Lutheran Brotherhood of Zion Lutheran church met Tuesday night at the parish school auditorium. The committee in charge of the meeting included Robert Brinkman, August Buehler, George Buehler, and Max Buske.

Plans for distributing carnations to the sick and shut-ins on Mothers' Day were made at the meeting of Women's Christian Temperance Union Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Emma Hubbard, 824 E. Franklin. The next meeting will be in two weeks with Mrs. C. J. Glasser, 527 N. Superior-st.

Chapter J. of Trinity English Lutheran church will meet at 2:30 Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter Quandt, 1312 W. Spencer-st. A social hour will follow the business meeting.

Eighty members attended the meeting of Ladies Aid society of St. Paul Lutheran church Thursday afternoon in the church basement. A social hour took place after the business session.

The meeting of the Mission band of First Reformed church scheduled for Saturday has been postponed because of the jubilee and bi-centennial celebration. It will be held a week later.

PLAN MUSICAL PROGRAM FOR SUNDAY NIGHT

A musical program will be given at Emanuel Evangelical church at 7:30 Sunday evening under the direction of Mrs. Nic Zylstra. Miss Marian Uebels will serve as organist and Miss Marjorie Polzin as pianist.

A mandolin and guitar quartet made up of Clarence and Benjamin Merkle, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Polzin will present two numbers, the choir will sing three anthems, and a male quartet including Forest Jabas, Robert Potter, Arthur Erdmann and Ray Saiterich will sing one selection. B. Gibson will play two violin solos, "Liebestreu" by Fritz Kreisler and "Romance" by Rose Eversoll; Miss Rosetta Selig and Mrs. Zylstra will sing the duet, "You and the Sea and All My Days"; Earl Dehart will play "Serenade Basine" by Gabriel Marie; a saxophone solo; and H. Brochhouse will sing, "O Little Mother of Mine by Burleigh." Miss Selig, Mrs. Zylstra, R. Potter and A. Erdmann, a mixed quartet, will sing "O Lamb of God Still Keep Me," by E. L. F. Wolcott.

DISCUSS REPAIRS AT DIRECTORS MEETING

Plans for repairs and renovation of the school building during the summer were discussed at the monthly meeting of the Appleton vocational school board of directors at the school building Thursday afternoon. A luncheon served by pupils of the home economics department of the school under the direction of Miss Mable Burke, instructor, preceded the business session. The board also heard a report of Fred Doelke, Chicago, on his recent main-tenance inspection of the school building.

ENGAGEMENT OF APPLETON GIRL IS ANNOUNCED

The engagement of Miss Gertrude Adrian, daughter of Mrs. Nicholas Adrian, 728 N. Fair-st., to marry T. Jordan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jordan, Hayward, was announced at a 7 o'clock dinner Thursday night at the home of Miss Adrian's sister, Mrs. Earl D. Miller, 597 E. Summer-st. Covers were laid for 12 guests. Cards were played and prizes won by Mrs. T. E. Coate, Miss Mabel Kuether, and Miss Lorraine Hansen. Out of town guests were Mrs. T. E. Coate, Davenport, Iowa, Miss Ione Van Derel, Green Bay, and Mrs. Joseph Williams Oshkosh.

Call Valley Meeting Of Eastern Star

ABOUT 250 Past Matrons and Past Patrons of Eastern Star of the Fox river valley are expected to attend the meeting and dinner Saturday night at Masonic temple, at which Appleton and Kaukauna Matrons and Patrons will be hosts. Activities will begin with a 6:30 dinner which will be put on by Fidelity chapter, No. 94, Eastern Star, after which there will be a program. The business meeting will conclude the program. Decorations for the event will be elaborate, according to the committee in charge.

Visitors are expected to be present from Neenah, Menasha, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Berlin, Ripon, New London, Chiltonville, Chilton, Green Bay and other cities.

A meeting of Appleton Past Matrons was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Ada Myers, E. Lawrence-st., after which dinner was served at Candel Glow tea room. Covers were laid for 14 persons. The next meeting will be the first Thursday in June.

INDIANA PASTOR WILL SPEAK TO CHURCH SOCIETY

The Rev. George Link, Indiana pastor, will be the principal speaker at the Mother's Day program Sunday morning of Holy Name society of St. Joseph church at St. Joseph hall.

Immediately after the program the delegation will leave for Shawano to attend the Diocesan Holy Name convention. Delegates to the rally include Max Bauer, John A. Bergman, Ray Dohr, Robert Ebbesen, Frank Groh, R. T. Gage, Louis Schweitzer, Harry Tillman, Gustave Keller, Leo H. Rechner and the Rev. Father Crescentian. At Stogebauer will attend as diocesan secretary.

Father Link, who addressed boys scouts at their annual rally in Appleton last year, will follow the Mother theme in his speech. Five sweet peas will be worn by members of the society.

The breakfast at St. Joseph hall will be served by the Young Ladies of the Sodality with Miss Catherine Oudenhoven in charge.

ENVOY MELLON DOESN'T SHUN WHISKY AND SODA

London (AP)—Guests at a luncheon of bankers and business men where United States Ambassador Andrew W. Mellon spoke today observed that the ambassador drank whisky and soda during the meal.

When he first came to London, recently Mr. Mellon, questioned as to whether there would be a cellar in the embassy, said he would follow the custom of the country.

IS GUEST HERE

Miss L. Maude Wheeler, Peiping, China, is the guest of Mrs. Wilson S. Naylor, 417 N. Durkee-st. Miss Wheeler is a graduate of Lawrence college and is well known in Appleton. She is a teacher in the Mary Porter Gamewell school in Peiping.

Louisiana's Governor, No Huey!

Here's the first woman governor of Louisiana in the history of that state. Alice Lee Groves, 25, is acting chief executive of the Creole state during the 10-day absence of Governor Alvin O. King, who is attending Louisiana's secretary of state by Senator Huey Long when he was governor. She still holds that office. As Paul Cyr has vacated the post of lieutenant governor, Miss Groves automatically stepped into the governor's chair at Baton Rouge when Governor King, Senator Long's successor, went away.

Lead May Day Exercises

The History of the Dance, an original pasant written in verse depicting the Greek old fashioned, Colonial, and modern dances in all their beauty, will be given for the May Day exercises at Carroll college, Waukesha, on the campus Friday afternoon, May 27. Miss Helen Smith, Milwaukee, above, will be the May queen. She was elected from the senior class by popular vote of the entire school. This honor is conferred upon the girl who has been the most outstanding in her class. She has been active in social, forensic, athletic and journalistic circles, having been a member of the debate team for two years and editor of the college paper in her junior year. She is a member of Beta Chi Theta. Miss Agnes Grottinger, Milwaukee, inset, also active in debate work and a social leader on the campus, will be the crown. She was elected by popular vote from the sophomore class. Miss Grottinger is a member of Alpha Kappa.

Mothers' Day Luncheon Is Next Monday

A MOTHERS' Day luncheon, at which American Legion Auxiliary will entertain Gold Star mothers, will be held at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon at Knights of Pythias hall. A program will be given after which cards will be played.

W. F. Bradburn will present a group of songs, Miss Maxine Fraser will give several readings, and Mrs. A. F. Fisher will talk on her recent trip to Washington, D. C. Mrs. H. W. Miller will give the address of welcome, and Mrs. Gustave Keller, Sr., will respond for the mothers.

Auxiliary members who attend are to bring a dish for the table and rolls for two persons. The committee in charge of arrangements includes Mrs. Josephine Versteeg, Mrs. Henry Bauer, Mrs. Clarence Baetz, Mrs. Henry Griesner, Mrs. Carl Gorroff, Mrs. Percy Heaney, Mrs. Harvey Klittner, Mrs. H. L. Playman, Mrs. Blanche James, Mrs. August Arens, and Mrs. Earl Ballard.

Court whist was played at the meeting of the G. G. G. club Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Walter Kettenhoven, W. Third-st. Prizes were won by Mrs. Elmer Rehmer and Mrs. Ed Piette. Mrs. Rehmer, Mrs. Piette, and Mrs. John Kettenhoven were guests. The next meeting will be in two weeks with Mrs. Frank Couchrane, 299 S. Summit-st.

CLUB ELECTS MRS. HELLER AS PRESIDENT

Mrs. Harold Heller was elected president of Town and Gown club at the meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Olin Mead, 424 E. Pacific-st. Mrs. Earl Baker was chosen vice president, and Mrs. Louis A. Boettger was named secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. G. W. Carlson discussed "De Falla as the Interpreter of the Spanish Soul" and Miss Almee Baker talked on "Biographical Sketch and Selections from the Operas of Isaac Albeniz." Mrs. William Wright illustrated the composers works on the piano. Seventeen members were present.

Programs for next year will be distributed at the next meeting, May 18, at the home of Mrs. Frank W. Clippinger, E. Alton-st. Mrs. Baker will have the program on Mac Dowell.

COUNCIL TO SELECT BOYS FOR 1932 CAMP

During the next few weeks the valley council of boy scouts will select two of its Eagle scouts who will attend the 1932 Eagle scout forestry camp on Nebish Lake near Trout Lake station, August 22 to September 3, according to M. G. Clark, scout executive.

William Stemmler, Jr., assistant executive of Milwaukee-Co council, assisted by at least two other commissioned scout leaders will be in charge of the camp. Their project will be carried on by Wisconsin scout councils in cooperation with the Conservation department.

DAVIS RESIGNS AS ITINERANT MENTOR

D. S. Davis, itinerant instructor in the pulp and paper industry in Appleton, Green Bay and Menasha, resigned yesterday morning. Last evening he left for the last where he will be employed by an engineering firm. The program of itinerant instruction for the remainder of the year and in 1933 will be conducted in conjunction with the Wisconsin river valley circuit, according to Herb Hollis, director of Appleton vocational school where Mr. Davis made his headquarters.

Don't Pick On Boys In Their Teens

BY ANGELO PATRI

When Donald came home from school his mother was entertaining Mrs. Doollittle, a near neighbor. Mrs. Doollittle was talking most of the time. Mother seemed to be listening, a bit uneasily but still courteously. Donald paid court to the cookies and shared in the listening.

"By and by and at last Mrs. Doollittle rose to take leave and mother went with her to the door. She held the door wide open and watched her visitor down the walk, through the gate and down the lane. "There," said she. "If I hadn't held on to the door I would have banged it hard."

"Why, ma?"

"Why? Didn't you hear? For the last hour I've had to listen to 'Why do you do this? Why don't you do that? Nothing I do seemed to suit her. I think it's terrible to be so picky. Can't you let people alone? My goodness, why does she care whether I give the dog brown bread or shredded wheat or dog biscuit? How can she get excited about whether I steam spinach or use a waterless cooker? What's it all about, this picking and picking and niggling?"

"Geese, ma, do you know that's just what I say when you pick on me? I wonder what difference it makes. I wish people would let me alone. Now you know just how it feels."

"I know no such thing. Stop eating those cookies, you've had enough and you will spoil your dinner. Why did you wear that tie? You had pretty of others. I don't see why you say I pick on you. I only try to help you. Don't twist one leg around the other like that. You'll grow that way. I wouldn't think of telling her that she ought to buy her hats in Marline's but she has the cheek to tell me that I ought to have Sam do my hair instead of trying to do it myself. Don't rub your nose with your necktie that way. If your nose itches use your handkerchief. It won't itch if you relax. You hold your shoulders too stiffly anyway."

"All right, ma. Now suppose I begin and tell you what's the matter with you? You say you don't pick on me? How many things have you found wrong with me in three minutes? Count them. I'm almost seventeen, a high school senior, and you count the cookies I eat, you watch the way I sit, you even tell me to blow my nose."

"I did nothing of the sort. You know very well I didn't. I'm only trying to help you and you call it picking on you. I'll never say another word to you again. I'll just let you go on being a greedy, careless saucy."

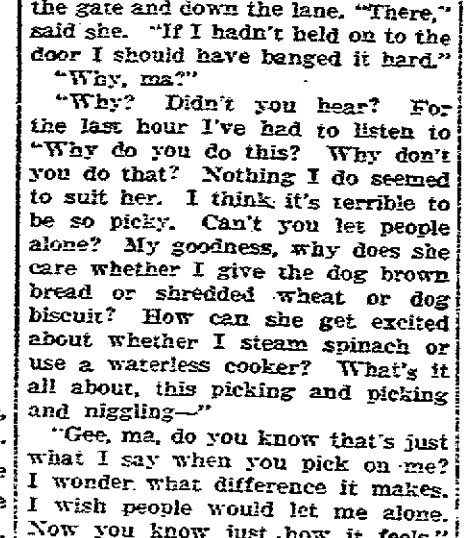

"There you go. Ma, you're all right. The only fault I have to find with you, if it is a fault, is that you want to make me over in your image and likeness, and that was the way I was built. Now if I make Mrs. Doollittle let you alone will you swear off on me? That's what I want to know."

"I do let you alone. You'd better go right off now and start your homework so as to have most of it out of the way before dinner. Then you can finish up early and get to bed on time. You ought to sleep more. Did you eat your prunes this morning? I wasn't sure. Don't laugh at me. I AM letting you alone."

Well, she thought she was, and that's something.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

Guard Duchess

A battery of special policemen is guarding Grand Duchess Marie, niece of the slain Czar Nicholas of Russia, during a visit in Oakland, Calif. The duchess' friends became alarmed over her safety when pamphlets attacking the Romanoff family were circulated in the city prior to her arrival. The pamphlets, 1,000 of which were seized by police, derided the entertainment accorded the royal visitor while "thousands of our fellow citizens" are in acute distress from lack of food, clothing and shelter.

SELL CONDUCTS THREE PLANTINGS OF TREES

Three tree plantings were made yesterday in the county under direction of Gus Sell, county agent. The first took place at the Methodist parsonage, Oneida, yesterday morning. In the afternoon a planting was made at the Silvery rural school, town of Oneida, and at the residence of Phil Engel, town of Seymour. This afternoon Mr. Sell expects to assist with a planting at the Guardian Angels school, town of Oneida. This will be the final planting of a series in which 5,000 trees were set out.

TWO COUNTY BOARD COMMUNITIES MEET

Two county board committees met Thursday at the courthouse. The finance committee, considering the matter of lost tax certificates on property in the town of Liberty, decided to let the matter remain in the hands of the district attorney and county treasurer for investigation. The printing committee, meeting with printers of the county, discussed the county's printing needs for the coming year.

Order Will Convene In Columbus, O.

The eleventh general convention of the International Order of the King's Daughters and Sons will be held June 1 to 3 at Columbus, Ohio. Official headquarters will be at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel. Wisconsin is entitled to 23 voting delegates.

Miss Kate C. Hall, Savannah, Ga., is chairman of the credential committee of which Mrs. Henry E. Thomas, state president of the Wisconsin branch, is a member. Railways have made a special rate for the convention.

This will be an important convention as the International Order has adopted a charter and the by-laws are being adjusted to conform to the changes, which will be beneficial in the administration of the Order's affairs in the future. The convention will be preceded by a central council meeting which is the executive committee of the Order. This meeting will be held on May 31. Prominent speakers from various parts of the country will appear on the program.

Program For Week

The program for the week will include a reception the evening of June 1, an automobile ride followed by a garden party at Woodcliffe June 2, a banquet in the ballroom of the Deshler-Wallick hotel the evening of June 3, and a tea at the executive mansion of Governor White of Ohio and his daughter, Miss Mary White, Saturday afternoon, June 4.

Officers and executive committee of the Wisconsin branch are Mrs. Harry E. Thomas, Sheboygan, state president and council member; George Boss, Milton, first vice president; Mrs. Henry J. Deake, Manitowoc, second vice president; Mrs. F. G. Cochran, Eau Claire, third vice president; Mrs. Henry Schlichting, Sheboygan Falls, secretary; Mrs. E. S. Wierman, Waldo, treasurer; Mrs. P. A. Paulson, Appleton, junior chairman; Mrs. Flora Langsdine, secretary; Mrs. C. H. Zoerb, Bible study chairman; Mrs. Peter Reiss, Sheboygan; Mrs. Robert Markham, Manitowoc; Mrs. C. F.

MAN FINED $10 FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

Arion Ulrich, Appleton, was fined $10 and costs by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Thursday afternoon when he pleaded guilty of reckless driving. He was arrested yesterday on Highway 10 in the town of Dale by Peter Van Oudenhoven, county motorcycle officer.

Notice!

In respect to the memory of our President, John J. Madler, our office will be closed on Saturday, May 7th.

THE STORY OF SUE
By Margery Hale

A KISS OF REMEMBRANCE

RUTH knew that she had let Joe Raynor draw her, unresistingly, into his arms. As his lips pressed her she realized with a swift intuition that he did care. He might not know it himself. But he did. Something triumphant and eager and a little wild went winging through her in sudden exultation. She was returning his kiss. Maybe he had thought that she was just a quiet sort of girl who looked after school children's health. He wouldn't know. But, after all, he had started it.

She thought this in such a fleeting second that it was gone almost before the thought was formed. She forgot everything then but that she was with Joe Raynor. That he had reached out and pulled her to him. Then he let her go. Almost roughly. She slipped back into her chair. Her lips felt bruised. She hoped they were. A kiss for remembrance. Maybe that was all she could have.

"In sorry," he had turned his back to her. "I don't know what was the matter with me. But Ruth!" Now he was facing her again. There was something hopeless, ageless in his eyes. Then he paused. Whatever he had almost said would never be spoken, Ruth knew. His innate sense of chivalry had called it back just in time.

"It's all right," Ruth answered. That breathless, winging feeling was still holding her heart in its grip. And yet she was a little weak. A little shamed. Now, now for fear her own kiss had told too much. But if it had . . . she would not think of that part of it, she told herself.

She thanked him for the pills. He opened the office door mechanically and when he said good night his voice was coolly impersonal.

The danger hour had passed. They were on an impersonal basis again. The door had swung shut on something very lovely. But it had to be that way, for there was no other plane they could find, she knew.

She went down the walk. She wondered if Joe Raynor watched her go. As she reached the sidewalk she half turned her head and she saw a tall shadow move back from the window.

"He does care!"

She whispered it softly. Gladly. And hurried down the street bugging the secret to her heart. She couldn't tell anyone about it. She didn't want anyone to know it. It seemed to her that if anyone guessed it would rub away some of the shyness. Would make it a little soiled and shoddy. But suddenly she wanted to celebrate. To do something with her pleased emotion.

As she neared the Merzmann residence she was afraid that someone would notice the sudden glow in her eyes. She was sure it was there. She slipped her hands into the pockets of her suit coat. The envelope of pills was in her way. Laughingly she tore the paper, and emptied the small blue capsules, one by one, into the street. She put her hands back. Out of them fell something. Something that was stiff and crumbled when it was touched. She pulled it out.

"Two one dollar bills! The money she had left in the office! Had he put it back when he was . . . but oh, no, surely he hadn't been thinking of it then any more than she had!

But her steps were a little slower as she started up the Merzmann walk. Suddenly she wondered how she could explain the handwriting to Sue.

NEXT: Ruth talks to Sue.

LIQUID POWDER COMES IN COLOR THIS SEASON

BY ALICIA HART

Powders, rouge and even creams have changed their colors slightly this spring. Have you changed yours yet?

One of the most interesting new adjuncts to beauty is a liquid powder base that comes in different colors, to match the powder that goes on over it. It is soft, pleasant to use and excellent for all who are inclined to have a dry skin.

Rouge has changed more even than powders. You don't have to match your general tone any more for rouge. Especially for evening. You can make yourself something quite different, if you learn the art of using different make-up for day and evening.

Powders changed this winter and now it is no longer unusual to see a lovely girl dusting green, blue or lavender powder over her face before she steps onto the dance floor.

Daytime powders have a little more tone to them than they had last year. The tendency of clothes to make women seem more fragile and elusive is reflected in make-up. It is your own fault if you aren't a knockout at the next party.

If you have time hanging heavily on your hands, take a day just to look over new beauty products at your local stores. They will gladly show them to you. And explain how this and that should be used. There is something magic about trying out some new beauty touch.

New and very useful is the cream for your hands, available everywhere now.

There are several different brands. Some you use at night, others you work into your hands just before going out for the day or evening. It seems a sensible product. Why shouldn't there be a cream especially designed to answer the needs of busy hands?

Along with other spring house-cleaning, why not go over your beauty shelf? What have you on it that you no longer use? What should you have to do justice to yourself this spring? The only way to answer this is to look the field of new beauty over just as you do spring clothes.

ALMOST TAXI RATES

Sydney—Airplanes for hire are about as cheap in New South Wales as taxicabs. The prevailing rates, as present run about twenty cents a mile for a single person and about 23 cents a mile for two passengers.

Women said:
You can't keep suds like that
But that was before they used the New Oxydol

Why don't you try this amazing soap—see how its suds last till dishes are sparkling clean—how they float dirt out of clothes and hold it out so clothes are cleaner and whiter without rubbing? Softens water. Never hells up.

WARN GRADS AGAINST "SUPER" SALESMEN

Madison—(AP)—High school students who graduate in June were warned against high pressure salesmen of commercial schools by John Callahan, state superintendent of public instruction.

Supt. Callahan warned of "fluent-tongued individuals who at this time of the year seek out high school graduates with offers of exceptional educational opportunities."

Students were urged to seek information about vocational school or university and college courses before paying money to agents of commercial schools.

"Do not pay any money nor sign any contract before the term for which you are paying begins," he said. "Payment of the fee at the time of beginning the course is all that should be required."

WE WOMEN
By Virginia Vance

BOY-CRAZY DAUGHTER CAN'T BE CURED BY PROHIBITIONS

Dear Virginia Vance: Some mothers worry about their daughter's lack of social success but I seem to have an entirely opposite problem. My daughter is, if anything, too popular and it's all her father and I can do to keep the boys from coming to the house constantly. She is sixteen now and much too young to be going with boys all the time. I forbid her to go out at all but she invites these young men to come and see her and I feel I am turning her against me with my opposition. There used to be nothing but peace in our home. Now there is nothing but trouble. I try everything I can think of. I deliberately try to turn my daughter against these boys, refusing to give them my approval, and hoping to influence her in this way. Can you suggest what may be done? I don't want to have my daughter a spoiled boy-crazy girl?

MRS. N. R. F.

If your daughter happens to be the popular kind—if she is bound to attract the attention and admiration of all the beaux in the neighborhood, then you'd better accept the fact with some resignation and prepare to make the best of it. Forbidding her to entertain perfectly nice boys in her home certainly isn't making the best of it. Neither is it fair to talk against her admirers. What's the use of filling her mind with fears and suspicions of young men you know to be quite all right and whose only fault is that they have chosen to admire your daughter? You must try to make her realize that it's perfectly normal and natural to have boy friends—that they're nothing to get excited about or make a fuss over. You can do this best by letting her see her friends in your home.

Forbid her to have anything to do with boys, close your doors to them, and the whole masculine sex becomes a matter of economic importance. She'll go to any lengths to see the very man you'd want her to see. She'll manage somehow to keep up her friendships behind your back.

She won't really be nearly as boy-crazy if you make her friendships with men a normal and easy part of her life—and not a forbidden pleasure. Keep her from accepting too many invitations while she is still young but don't dream of cutting her off from the good times she is due to have soon.

And don't despair if at first she seems to be all wrapped up in the man-quest. Lots of girls go through this phase of their middle teens and fond parents look on with doubt and fear, wondering what is to become of their silly, lovesick children. Actually the boy-crazy stage is passed soon by most normal girls. They get used to having men drop in to call on them—they get used to a crowd in the house on Saturday night and constant male visitors for lunch or dinner—and they begin to realize that men are pretty much of an everyday affair on the whole. This attitude is far more normal and healthy than that of the girl who is cut off from masculine association by a careful mother and who therefore develops a complex about men, regarding them as mysterious and wonderful beings. This girl, with no experience to teach her anything at all about the opposite sex and with an exaggerated idea of the importance of all male-beings—will be much more likely to go on swooning with love over the most impossible men long after the more sensibly-reared girls have got used to boy and girl friendships and put them in their proper places. So give your daughter freedom to see her friends—particularly in her own home and she won't collect romantic notions about every Tom, Dick and Harry who comes along.

CALLS FOR END OF REPARATIONS AND WAR DEBTS

Lloyd George Sees World Crash in Offing, Demands Cancellation

When the World War came to a close, David Lloyd George was breathing forth fire and smoke at a prodigious rate. The Kaiser was to be hanged, the Germans were to pay through the nose, and the victors were soon to find the world made comfortable and prosperous for them. In that frame of mind he went to help shape the Versailles treaty, crying that Germany must pay for war damages to the very limit of her ability. It is to his credit that he never deluded himself about what that limit might be as grossly as most of his colleagues did; but he helped, nevertheless, to produce the atmosphere in which the sky-high reparations totals were fixed.

Ever since then he has been cooling off and now, in a little book entitled "The Truth About Reparations and War Debts," he announces flatly that the world depression will not have a chance to end until reparations are canceled.

Nor is that all. If reparations are to be canceled, he says, the war debts must be canceled too; and the nations of the world must lower their tariff barriers and give a free play to international commerce.

He makes out an excellent case for his argument. Reparations, he says, and consequently war debts, have been paid so far on borrowed money—money borrowed from the United States. They cannot be paid that way any longer. But to let Germany's export trade rise to a point at which they would be paid in actual cash would mean ruin for trade and industry in all the creditor nations. Hence—cancellation is the only way of avoiding a crash of the existing economic order.

His book is published by Doubleday, Doran and Co., and sells for $2.00.

Aluminum pots and pans, which have become dull or blackened, can be cleaned by rubbing them with a cloth dipped in lemon juice. Then rinse them well in warm water and they will look as bright as when new.

How Old?

He doesn't look a day over fifty. And feels like forty.

At the age of 62.

That's the happy state of health and pep a man enjoys when he gives his vital organs a little stimulant!

When your system is stagnant and you feel sluggish, headachy, half-alive—don't waste money on "tonics" or "regulators" or similar patent medicines. Stimulate the liver and bowels. Use a famous physician's prescription every drug store keeps. Just ask them for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin.

This appetizing syrup is made from fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. One dose will clear up almost any case of headache, biliousness, constipation. But if you want to keep in fine shape, feel fit the year 'round, take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin every few days. You'll eat better, sleep better and feel better in every way. You will never need to take another laxative.

Give the children a little of this delicious syrup two or three times a week. A gentle, natural stimulant that makes them eat and keeps the bowels from clogging. And saves them from so many sick spells and colds.

Have a sound stomach, active liver and strong bowel muscles that expel every bit of waste and poison every day! Just keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin on hand; take a stimulating spoonful every now and then. See if you don't feel new vigor in every way. Syrup pepsin isn't expensive.

OUTLINES PLAN FOR PREVENTION OF DIPHTHERIA

Proposed Program Discussed by Dr. Gudex at Legion Meeting

Menasha — The desirability of measures to protect children against small pox and diphtheria was outlined by Dr. B. A. Gudex of the state board of health, at a meeting of Henry J. Lenz post of American Legion in Elks' club rooms Thursday evening.

The Legion has been interested in the proposed vaccination of Menasha children against small pox and diphtheria for more than two years, and in conjunction with committees from the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs, recently presented the plan to the common council.

Dr. Gudex, in his talk Thursday evening, discussed the argument that physicians advocated vaccination merely to make money, by explaining that one case of diphtheria would provide more profit for the doctor than a great number of the vaccinations through the use of anti-toxin and toxin anti-toxin, great progress already has been made in the fight against diphtheria, the doctor stated.

J. H. MacAfee, superintendent of the Children's Country Home school at Winneconne, also addressed the legionnaires Thursday explaining the work of the school and pointing out that the Legion could do much for the children attending the institution. A committee to outline plans for such action was appointed, and is headed by Earl Hill.

Delegates to the state Legion convention at LaCrosse in August are Earl Hill, Dr. G. N. Pratt, and C. B. Anderson. Alternates are Harold Brand, A. Clausen, and Ben Hart.

The public schools harmonica band appeared as an additional feature of the meeting, and played a short concert.

GEAR PRESIDENT OF BOTTLE EXCHANGE

Twin City Milk Dealers Complete Steps in Organization

Menasha — Organization of the Neenah-Menasha Milk Bottle Exchange was completed at a meeting of 19 twin city dealers in the Gear Dairy garage building on Washington-st Thursday evening. The exchange, in which the dealers bring all foreign bottles to a central station for redistribution to proper owners has been in operation for about three weeks and has proven successful.

H. L. Gear of the Gear Dairy company was named president of the exchange; Ben Cherkasy of the Twin City Dairy was elected vice president; Harvey Knorr of the Meadowview Dairy, secretary; and Floyd Wilms of the Windmere Farm, treasurer. The board of managers includes all officers and August Strohmeyer, Joseph Track, and Oscar Swatscheno.

Because each dealer is required by law to use his own bottles for milk distribution, the exchange solves a difficult problem, the dealers have explained. Creation of a credit information bureau, for use by members of the organization, also is planned and definite action is expected at another meeting within a few days.

BLANK ELECTED HEAD OF AERIE OF EAGLES

Neenah — Charles F. Blank was elected worthy president of Neenah aerie of Eagles Thursday evening. Other officers elected were Walter Williams, past worthy vice president; William Tullis, worthy vice president; Anton Peterson, chaplain; Harry Korotef, secretary; Stephen Heup, treasurer; Joseph Beisenstein, conductor; David Drews, inner guard; J. B. Schneller, outer guard; N. D. Nielsen, trustee for three years; Dr. J. P. Canavan, physician.

It was decided not to send the Eagle drum corps to the state convention at Madison this year. The aerie will hold a joint installation with the Ladies' Auxiliary, the incoming officers to serve as a committee to make arrangements for the event.

The annual Mothers' Day program will be given at 2:30 Sunday afternoon at aerie hall, the Auxiliary assisting in making arrangements. The speaker will be Judge Fred V. Heinemann of Appleton.

HIGH SCHOOL TENNIS SQUADS CARD MATCH

Menasha — The Menasha high school tennis team has scheduled a match with the Lawrence college freshman squad at Appleton May 14. The Menasha team, coached by O. Johanson of the high school faculty, is composed of James Beck, Sylvester Boachowski, Clement Massey, Ronald Rogers, Joseph Liebl, Earl Tews, Dwight Chandler and Paul Jury.

PLAN APPLICATION FOR FREE FLOUR

Menasha — Application for free flour, issued by the state, was to have been made by city officials Friday following a conference with a state official. The flour, when received, will be distributed to poor and unemployed families in Menasha.

Garden seeds, also issued by the state, were received here recently and the entire shipment of 200 cartons has been distributed under the direction of John Sensenbrenner, superintendent of the poor.

LUTHERAN CHILDREN TO OFFER CANTATA

Neenah — Trinity Lutheran school children will present the cantata "George Washington" this evening at the school hall as its part in the bi-centennial observance of Washington's birthday anniversary. The performance will be repeated again Monday evening. The program will open at 7:30 with a piano duet by "Stars and Stripes" by John Phillip Sousa. This will be followed by the cantata in 10 parts and by another piano duet and singing of "Star Spangled Banner" by the audience. The children will take part in the performance.

PLAN SPECIAL SERVICE

Neenah — Twin Cities Commandery Knights Templar will join with other commanderies of the valley in a special Ascension Day service at 10:30 Sunday morning at Oshkosh Trinity church. The delegations will meet at 10:15 at the Oshkosh Masonic temple and march to the church in a body.

Neenah Chapter R. A. M. will hold its May meeting Friday evening at Masonic temple.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

Menasha — The poor committee will meet at the city offices Monday evening to consider applications for city aid. John Sensenbrenner, superintendent, will preside.

SCOUT TROOP MEETS

Menasha — Boy scouts of Troop 14, under the direction of Robert Schwartz, scout master, met in the Congregational church parlors Thursday evening. Preparations for the Valley Council camp-out at Clintonville in June were continued.

MRS. ALBERT ELMER

Menasha — Funeral services for Mrs. Albert Elmer, 24, 447 Oak-st., were held at St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock Friday morning. The Rev. W. P. Mortell officiated and burial was in St. Margaret's cemetery.

START WORK SOON

Menasha — Preparation of Menasha park properties for the summer activities will be completed before May 31, officials have announced. Work on several softball diamonds, delayed by inclement weather, will begin within a few days, and work on other park grounds is under way.

FELT IS PRESIDENT OF BOWLING LEAGUE

Neenah — Frank Felt, Appleton, has been elected president of the Mid-West Bowling League, which is composed of teams from Fond du Lac, Appleton, Oshkosh, Hartford, Kaukauna, Appleton, and Neenah. Other officers were Walter Pierce, Menasha, vice president; A. Scannel, Fond du Lac, secretary and treasurer.

The meeting suggested an expansion next year to possibly 15 teams instead of 12. Prize money was distributed during the meeting.

LEGION POST PROTESTS PENDING LEGISLATION

Neenah — James P. Hawley post American Legion, at its meeting Thursday evening, entered a protest with the United States senators and congressman at Washington, D. C., by wire, against pending legislation affecting ex-service men and urged them to oppose any such legislation, particularly that affecting the disabled soldiers.

The Wisconsin department was petitioned by resolution to provide some check on delegates attending state conventions, in order to get a line of their stand on the various questions brought before such gatherings.

Other business was of routine nature followed by a social and lunch which was served by Auxiliary members.

An effort is being made by post and auxiliary members to have two or more disabled veterans come to Neenah to demonstrate the making of poppies which will be offered for sale later in the month. It is planned, should the request be granted, to place the veterans in some downtown window where everyone can watch them while they construct the poppies.

A racing track for horses is to be built around a thirty-two-acre lake at Miami Beach, Fla.

COEN PLEADS FOR SERVICE AMONG LODGES

Membership in Societies Brings Added Responsibilities, He Says

Approximately 150 fraternal members gathered at Conway hotel Thursday noon to welcome at a joint dinner meeting John R. Coen, Sterling, Colo., grand exalted ruler of Elks, who made an appeal for service in fraternalism.

National, state and district officers of various fraternal in Appleton also were speakers on the program, representing the different groups participating in the week's jubilee festivities.

Mr. Coen pointed out the interdependence of organizations and of life today, appealing to lodge members to see fraternity as a contact in the common agencies of service, a discharge of obligations of citizens and a part of the great brotherhood of man.

"Membership in a society does not set you apart," he said. "It gives the fraternal man added responsibility. The measure you give in service will determine whether you carry on."

Mr. Coen expressed his faith in recovery from the depression, declaring that man should view events of today from a comparative viewpoint.

"We must remember," he said, "that we have always gone through certain periods of depression and we must remember the pendulum always swings back. Our country is fundamentally sound, always was and always will be and as conditions change this nation will see greater accomplishments, greater attainments and greater prosperity than ever before."

Higher Living Scale
"We must remember, if we are matured, that all of us are living now at this very time in a period superior to our immediate fathers. Our luxuries and mode of living are far better than his."

Mr. Coen was introduced by Mayor John Goodland, Jr., toastmaster at the luncheon. The program was opened by Gustave Keller, Sr. The Rev. James Mesinger and Rev. F. C. Reuter gave grace and thanks for the luncheon. The music program was presented by Earl L. Baker of Lawrence Conservatory of Music.

In view of the fact that the after dinner program got a late start the speeches were exceedingly short. Mrs. Vern Crockett, Menasha, state regent of the Catholic Daughters of America, presented the ideals and purposes of the organization which she represented.

Dr. William Doyle, Fond du Lac, state president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, declared that the good any organization achieves is always obviously before the people, where by praise reveals itself.

Praising the courage of the frontiersmen and pioneer women, Mrs. Clara Hoyt, Antigo, supreme receiver, Royal Neighbors of America, presented her message from state-wide organizations.

Discussing the great changes that have transpired in transportation, John A. Kuyper, De Pere, state chief ranger, Catholic Order of Foresters, declared Appleton to be the gem of the Fox River valley as a seat of learning and culture, a center of business and industry, a place of activity and contented people.

Mr. Kuyper pointed out that human understanding, neighborly sympathy and above all an American spirit of forbearance is needed today, which might be accomplished through fraternalism. Referring to the strife and devotion of the pioneers, Charles Broughton, Sheboygan, past president of Wisconsin Elks, declared that by visualizing the lives of our pioneers through these relics, we as citizens should enter our places of business and homes with a new spirit.

Other speakers on the program included E. A. Huebner, Bear Creek, district deputy, Modern Woodmen of America; Mrs. Clara Miller, Appleton, Woman's Relief Corps; Dr. Orin Thompson, Neenah, supreme vice president and treasurer, Equitable Reserve association; and G. A. Ziegler, Appleton, president of the Aid Association for Lutherans.

CITY FINES TOTAL $107 DURING APRIL

But County Collects Only $50 as Result of Two Violations

An increase in city fines and a decrease in county fines during the month of April is shown by the monthly report of William R. Kreiss, municipal court reporter.

The city fines totalled $197, court costs $24 and officers' fees $11.95. County fines totalled $35 for two cases; court costs were $9 and officers' fees $7.55. Court costs in civil cases during the month totalled $52.75.

Speeding topped the number of offenses against the city of Appleton. 13 drivers being booked on that charge. Offenses were drunkenness 4, drunken driving 2, jumping arterial 1, reckless driving 2, and abusive language 1.

Six charges of game law violations topped the county cases. Others were drunkenness worthless check, forged endorsement, disturbing peace, and operating car without proper license.

PERFECT RECORDS MADE BY 16 PUPILS

Sixteen pupils of the Maple Grove rural school, town of Freedom, were not absent or tardy during April according to a report from the teacher Miss Gladys Zuilches. Following are the pupils: Lucille, Clarence and Erna Severt, Ovil Stern, Wallace and Milton Maass, Helen and John Muenster, Leonard Wiesse, Arlene and Ruth Groat, Gladys and Clarence Jones, Allen and Bernice Groat and Delores Wendt.

FUND MEASURE NEAR PASSAGE IN MICHIGAN

Legislature Expected to End Special Session Before Night

Lansing, Mich.—(AP)—With the administration highway finance bill needing only the formality of senate approval, and a prolonged deadlock over Governor Brucker's budget proposals finally broken, the legislature today was speeding toward adjournment. Leaders hoped to end the special session before night.

The highway finance bill passed the house Thursday in virtually the form previously accepted by the senate. It returns the entire $200,000,000 weight tax to the counties starting in 1933. Appropriations under the McNitt law for the absorption of township roads will be taken from gasoline tax revenues and will reduce the state construction fund rather than the payments to the counties.

Governor Brucker's budget bill, recommending an average 15 per cent cut in departmental and institutional payrolls and operating expenditures, was freed from a legislative jam last night. Finally administration and anti-administration leaders agreed that a compromise must be sought.

A conference resulted in a measure, prepared for submission to the senate this morning, containing part of the minority groups demands. The administration 15 per cent bill will stand, according to the compromise, save for three items. State police revenues will be materially cut. Instead of an appropriation of $557,000 from the general fund, plus all revenues from automobile drivers' licenses, that department will receive only the $557,000 and that must be met from drivers' license revenues.

Cut Prison Costs
Maintenance costs for inmates of Jackson and Marquette prisons, according to the agreement, will be reduced approximately $200,000.

The compromise conference accepted the insistence of the minority group that appropriations for the operation of state parks and for forest fire fighting be restored to a figure higher than recommended by the governor.

The net production will approximate $3,700,000 in expenditures in the fiscal year starting July 1. Total cuts including other bills carrying reductions in university and Michigan state college mill taxes and in other special appropriations will be about $5,500,000. All state employees getting more than $1,200 a year will receive pay cuts of from 10 per cent in the lower brackets to 25 per cent in the higher.

The highway finance bill passed the house by a vote of 79 to 13. The membership voted the return of the entire weight tax under the cry of "bread or cement for the people." Upper peninsula members fought a losing battle for a larger construction fund.

Representative Gus T. Hartman, administration floor leader, pressing for a larger construction fund, said only 9.5 per cent of the roads in the upper peninsula were paved compared with 98.5 per cent in Wayne county. He charged southern Michigan counties had engaged in a "drunken orgy of road building and are now waking up with a headache." A final attempt by Hartman to set aside from construction money $2,000,000 for the upper peninsula and $2,000,000 for the northern part of the lower peninsula met defeat. The measure provides that each section be given one-fourth the amount available for construction.

The Horton bill limiting county road taxes to one-fourth of their present restriction was adopted. A vote of two-thirds of the supervisors, the limitation could be raised to meet current obligations, general county bond, or for obligations already incurred. The Dykstra bill amending the weight tax law to conform with the highway finance measure also was passed and sent to the senate.

SLAYER EXECUTED IN QUEBEC PENITENTIARY

Sherbrooke, Que.—(AP)—Convicted of murder in an international liquor running plot, Albert St. Pierre of Hereford, Que., was hanged today.

St. Pierre was charged with being the author of a plot which resulted in the death of Rene Malloy of Norton Mills, Vt., on Nov. 11, 1930, when Malloy, his brother and another man were discovered seeking a cache of liquor on a farm at Hereford.

The prosecution did not contend that St. Pierre fired the shot that killed Malloy, but maintained he deliberately sought to give Malloy the appearance of being a thief so he could be shot in apparent defense of property.

Kindergarten Students Build "Boat" As Project

With a kindergarten floor for a rough sea and the blackboards for flying bits of scenery, Jefferson school kindergartners go a-sailing every day in their modern launch, "Drifter," off to imaginary ports for a whole afternoon of make believe. "Drifter," the jolly wooden boat launch which nearly takes up one side of the kindergarten cottage room, is a very modern boat made entirely by kindergarten students. It is equipped with an American flag, paper life savers on the sides and roomy seats to take many kindergartners on one trip.

Captain William Schuch is piloting the boat in the picture with Margaret McLaughlin and Russell Vanderloos on either side. In direct view along the window are David Earl, Ruth Otto, James Lopez and Joan Riedl. Other passengers include from front to back, Mary Beth Berry, James McKenzie, Donald Van Dinter, Colleen Garvey, Nicholas Schellhabel and Marian Evans.

Other kindergartners who can boast of trips in "Drifter" are Charlotte Nenachek, James Tierney, Susan Wort, Patsy Borsche, Donald Delfosse, Junior Kaufman and Mary Ellen Kools.

In connection with the boat trip, the youngsters have learned a large vocabulary. They know the difference between the various uses for launches, barges, sailboats, steamboats, motor boats and row boats. They know the parts of the boat such as the stern, the bow and rudder and they also have held discussions on how to sit in a boat, what a lighthouse is used for and the different kinds of buoys.

Occasionally the passengers on the "Drifter" go fishing over the side of the boat with large cardboard fish dangling on a colorful line. The children named the boat by vote in the classroom, choosing "Drifter" because the kindergarten launch is to be used for pleasure trips.

This is one of the six buildings projects of the kindergarten constructed from Happy Builder blocks that are made in Appleton by the Appleton Wood Products Co. The class has constructed a train, a grocery store, a large bus and several other projects.

MAY DROP PLEAS FOR PARDONS IN HONOR SLAYING

Darrow Advises Massie and Three Others to Abandon Their Efforts

Honolulu—(AP)—Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, his socially prominent mother-in-law, Mrs. Granville Fortescue and two navy men, may not seek a pardon for their conviction of manslaughter in the slaying of an Hawaiian.

The sentence of each, 10 years at hard labor, was commuted to one hour by Gov. Lawrence M. Judd of Hawaii. They served the hour in custody of the territorial high sheriff and were not at any time confined in prison. Then came the announcement a full pardon would be sought for the four who were tried for lynching a native who allegedly had confessed participation in a criminal attack on the naval officer's wife.

Mrs. Thalia Massie. Indications were today that upon the advice of Clarence Darrow, their adviser and defender, they would discontinue their efforts to obtain a pardon.

Darrow denied he had ever asked Governor Judd to pardon the convicted quartet, explaining that newspapermen had "misunderstood" a statement in which he said "they ought to have a full pardon."

Minimizing the importance of a pardon, Darrow advised them late last night to let the matter drop. He told them to accept Governor Judd's commutation of sentence, without seeking further relief at this time. He suggested the restoration of their citizenship rights—rights which they did not regain by the commutation—be taken up later.

Although indicating that Massie, Mrs. Fortescue and the two navy enlisted men, E. J. Lord and Albert O. Jones, were anxious to be pardoned, he also indicated that they would be guided by what he said.

The veteran defender denied he had ever asked Governor Judd for a pardon after the local newspapers, attributing to Darrow a statement he had asked for a pardon, printed at the same time a statement by Governor Judd that the attorney had merely discussed the possibility of one.

"The governor's statement is correct," Darrow said. While saying he was inclined to permit the matter to drop, the Chicago criminal lawyer has made an appointment with Governor Judd for Saturday to discuss the subject further.

The governor was emphatic yesterday in saying he did not want to ask on him in granting the commutation and in denying Darrow's implication that commutation had been forced on the defendants when they were seeking a pardon.

Lose Right to Vote
As the matter now stands, Massie and his associates have lost their right to vote and to hold office in Hawaii. Their status outside the islands, however, is not affected.

Should Governor Judd decide on pardons, he almost certainly will do so in the face of criticism from the native element and a portion of the white population.

To the displeasure expressed by the natives to the commutation of sentence was added yesterday the protest of A. G. M. Robertson, former chief justice of the territorial supreme court.

The Citizens' Organization for Good Government, made up largely of white women, has circulated petitions "demanding" a pardon.

It became practically an accepted fact today that the four men accused of attacking Mrs. Massie would not be brought to trial again. With her husband ordered transferred to another assignment, Mrs. Massie and her mother, Mrs. Fortescue, have booked passage on the Maalo, which sails Sunday.

With Mrs. Massie gone, the territory has no case, since she is the key witness, Public Prosecutor John C. Kelley said he would not try to force Mrs. Massie to testify. However, Attorney General Hewitt said the territory was anxious to try the men again and indicated an effort would be made to induce Mrs. Massie to stay.

The first trial last November, ended in a jury disagreement. Kihaha was also one of the defendants then.

Mrs. Massie is leaving on the advice of Darrow. He told her it perhaps would be futile to testify again, since retrials seldom ended in a verdict.

MEANS JAILED ON CRAFT COUNT IN LINDY CASE

Accused of Obtaining $100,000 Through False Pretenses

Mrs. Edward B. McLean, wife of the publisher of the Washington Post, by falsely representing that he could return the missing Lindbergh child.

An extraordinary tale was unfolded by an attorney, Mrs. McLean and by two men who assisted her in negotiations through which Means allegedly got the money, led the prominent woman on a fruitless chase to Aiken, S. C., and to the Mexican border, and then failed to return either child or money.

Means would not tell his side of it. He was arrested by agents of the department of justice, after a secret investigation. Before United States commissioner he pleaded not guilty and bond was set at $100,000. On failure to post it, he was jailed. Preliminary hearing was set for next Tuesday.

"I wasn't surprised," he told newspapermen, "I had been told they were discussing taking me."

The warrant answers that, he said, with a grin. When asked if he had been named among the Lindbergh case but he would not elaborate. "A good many people have said a good many things about me, but you will always notice I always stand pat and I never break a confidence until they do—then I do, quickly."

Story of Arrangements
The story told by close associates of Mrs. McLean, is this:

Mrs. McLean originally approached Means early in March to find out if he knew anything about the kidnapping. He said he thought he knew who did take the child as a former cellmate at the Atlanta penitentiary had just before the child was taken proposed that Means join him in kidnapping a prominent baby. Means then said he had verified this connection and that the kidnapers demanded $100,000.

After conferring with Captain Emory S. Land, U. S. navy, who is a cousin of Colonel Lindbergh, and the Rev. Francis J. Hurney, a Catholic priest, she turned over the $100,000 in $100 and $50 bills to Means in the presence of Father Hurney. Through Captain Land she had advised Colonel Lindbergh of her desire to help find the child and received his approval. The money, however, was hers and she had no arrangement about it with the Colonel.

In mid-March Mrs. McLean with a nurse, Miss Elizabeth Nelson, and three servants, went to Aiken. Means joined them and said he was in contact with the kidnapers. Then he said the infant was in Mexico and at his suggestion the group went to El Paso, Texas. Stories of more contacts with the kidnapers and their representatives were told her there but finally Mrs. McLean became suspicious and left.

Asked to Return Cash
In the middle of April she asked Means to return the money. He promised to do so, saying it was at his former home, Concord, N. C., and that he would have it here on April 21. That day, the account goes, Father Hurney was told by Means that while driving up with the money, he was signalled to halt by a man on the road near Alexandria. This man gave him the code number used for communication between Means and Mrs. McLean, whereupon he turned over the money.

At this point Mrs. McLean called in the justice department, its investigators went to work, and finally Means landed in jail.

Means first came to national attention as an alleged confidential agent of German Ambassador von Bernstorff and Captain Boy-Ed of the German secret service, prior to America's entry into the World war.

In 1927 he was indicted, tried and acquitted in Salisbury, N. C., for the murder of Mrs. Maude A. King, widow of a wealthy Chicagoan, whom he had been employed to shadow.

In 1921 he became a special agent of the department of justice and then a confidential aide to the late William J. Burns. He was conspicuous witness in the senate investigation of Harry M. Doherty's administration of the department of justice. Later he was sentenced to the Atlanta penitentiary for a prohibition conspiracy and a case of attempted bribery. He came out in 1928 and published the lurid book "The Strange Death of President Harding" which since has been repudiated by his co-author.

ECONOMICS MINISTER RESIGNS IN GERMANY
Berlin—(AP)—President von Hindenburg today accepted the resignation of Hermann Warmbold, minister of economics whose resignation was predicted several days ago.

Dr. Warmbold has been in ill health and already it was understood. Chancellor Bruening has decided tentatively to name Dr. Karl Goerdeler, the mayor of Leipzig, as his successor.

Dr. Goerdeler is a member of Alfred Huxenberg's opposition nationalist party.

There have been predictions that this will be one of several shifts in the cabinet. The chancellor, who has been acting as foreign minister since the retirement of Julius Curtius several months ago, was expected to turn over that post and also to relieve General Wilhelm Groener, who now serves as minister of defense and of the interior, of one of those offices.

Constantin von Neurath, now ambassador to Great Britain, is most prominently mentioned as candidate for foreign minister, but Dr. Bernhard von Buelow, state secretary, and Count Rudolph Nodolny, ambassador to Turkey, also are possibilities.

STATE IS FINE TOURIST AREA, SAYS 'BROWNIE'

Wide Variety of Scenery
Available in Wisconsin,
He Points Out

Kaukauna—W. W. Rowland, Milwaukee newspaperman, better known as "Brownie," was the principal speaker at a meeting Thursday evening in the high school auditorium under the auspices of the Kaukauna Rotary club and the Kaukauna Advancement association. The talk was illustrated with motion pictures. Mr. Rowland also spoke to the high school students Thursday afternoon on travel.

Mr. Rowland was introduced by Robert Knoff. In the introduction it was pointed out that "Brownie" makes an annual inspection trip of Wisconsin roads. Each winter he makes a tour of the state, covering an average of 300 miles a day during his travels and about 60,000 miles a year.

Pictures were shown from the trips he made last season. The first pictures were taken from highways, showing how close the motorist can come to nature without extra trouble. The new road that penetrates the Everglades of Florida, with only two turns in an 85 mile stretch was shown.

Pictures of Indians

Pictures of scenes of activity including the famous bathing and driving beach were shown. The village life of some of the Seminole Indians was shown by the camera. The movies then showed "Brownie" back in his native state in early spring.

"Wisconsin has an entire change of scenery every 100 miles," "Brownie" said. "It is not necessary for the tourist to go out of the state for rugged scenery, as it can be found in the northern part of the state. Wisconsin has 8,000 lakes, rivers with dams and many beautiful water falls."

Some of the bad roads were shown. As were some of the beautiful drives in the state. Many of the better known water falls in the northern part of the state were also shown. Pictures were shown of scenes taken on a trip into the northwestern part of the state. The international locks were shown, with the great ore ships passing through carrying more tonnage than passes through the Panama canal. Some excellent scenes of fishing in Florida, Wisconsin, and Canada were shown. The illustrated lecture was concluded with a short comedy reel.

JOSEPH MURPHY IS DEAD AT KAUKAUNA

Succumbs Thursday Morning at Residence After Brief Illness

Kaukauna—Joseph Murphy, 61, died at his home on Depot-st. at 10:30 Thursday morning following a two week's illness.

Born in Covington, Kentucky, Murphy came to Kaukauna at the age of 11 years, residing here since. He was employed at the Union Bag and Paper Co. for the past 31 years. He served on the fire and police commission for a three year term, and was a member of Fraternal Order of Eagles, Kaukauna Aerie No. 1416.

Survivors are one brother, Tom, of Kaukauna; two sisters, Mrs. Frank McGinnis, of Newburg, and Mrs. Margaret Robinson, Dodge City, Kas.

Funeral services probably will be held at 9 o'clock Monday morning in Holy Cross church with Rev. Alfred Schmitz in charge. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery.

SPECIAL SERVICES IN CHURCHES AT KAUKAUNA

Kaukauna—Special services were held in three churches here Thursday in observance of Ascension Day. At Holy Cross Catholic church masses were said at 5:30, 7 o'clock, 8:15, and 10 o'clock Thursday morning. Rev. Philip Gamache of St. Xavier's college at West De Pere, assisted at the services.

Cross. At St. Mary's masses were said at 5:25, 6:30, 8:15, and 10 o'clock. Both of the 10 o'clock services were high masses.

At Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church German services were held at 10 o'clock in the morning with English services at 7:30 in the evening.

MUSICAL PROGRAM AT SCHOOL NEXT WEEK

Kaukauna—Miss Arlene Rehfeldt of the Lawrence College Conservatory of Music will be the guest artist at a musical program at the high school auditorium at 7:30 Wednesday evening, May 11. Miss Ludelle Austin, musical director of public schools here, is directing rehearsals for the program, which is being sponsored by the Kaukauna Women's club. Music students of the high school also will participate.

Kaukauna people who attended the services were Mrs. J. Merritt Black, a niece, and her two sons, George and Merritt.

LIBRARY OFFERS BARGAIN MONTH

Seeks to Facilitate Collection of Fines and Overdue Books

Kaukauna—In order to facilitate the collection of fines and the return of lost or long overdue books, the month of May has been designated as bargain month at the Kaukauna Free Public Library, according to Miss Bernice Happer, librarian.

Fines of fifteen cents or less are to be paid in full, but on fines over that amount discounts will be allowed. A discount of five cents is allowed on all fines between fifteen and fifty cents inclusive, and a discount of ten cents is allowed between fifty cents and one dollar. All fines will be remitted on the return of all books recorded as lost, long overdue, or taken without proper charge. Anyone finding overdue or lost books in schools, public buildings or at home are urged to return them to the library during the month. Students and parents are especially requested to use the bargain rates in paying fines accumulated during the school period, according to Miss Happer.

Amnesia Victim Recovers; Recalls World War Days

BY PAUL L. HARRISON
NEA Service Writer

Philadelphia—The clouds of forgetfulness have shifted across the muddled memory of Tobias J. Burke. Today the World War veteran, who for the past eleven years has been a victim of amnesia, is able to recall his life prior to 1921.

But in reaching back to grasp his pre-war identity, Burke has lost, in turn, all recollection of the past decade.

And so, out of the strange twist taken by a shell-shocked mind, Toby Burke lives again. But "Joe Bond," the man he was during all those intervening years, is dead.

So far as Toby Burke now is concerned, it might have been only last night that he walked out of his home to get some headache tablets at the corner drug store.

But the problem is not so simple as that. Burke disappeared on his way to the drug store. He wandered far, took the name of Joe Bond, finally settled down in Chicago as manager of a filling station. There he married 23-year-old Mabel Schild, who died in 1930, leaving a son named Joe Bond, Jr.

The child, now 3, is in the care of his maternal grandparents and is awaiting his father's return. But neither "Joe Bond" nor Tobias Burke is going back to Chicago.

"Toby is home, and home to stay," declared Mrs. Patricia Burke, his mother. "These years of waiting and searching have been a nightmare to Carrie, who is Toby's wife, and to me. But now we'll start all over again."

"Maybe we'll provide for the boy in Chicago, or else we'll send for him and bring him up here with Johnny, Toby's boy, who is ill. It will all depend on how much Toby can remember of the life he lived away from us."

Carrie Burke, a plain little woman, whom the anxious years have marked more than they have her husband, has been seriously ill and will not speak of the strange turn her life has taken. For some time after Burke's disappearance she worked to support herself and her son. More recently she has been living with a sister in Germantown.

For some time after Burke's disappearance she worked to support herself and her son. More recently she has been living with a sister in Germantown.

Burke could have been declared legally dead, and she might have remarried. But she guessed what had happened—that something had snapped in her husband's memory, and that some day he might be restored.

Year after year, she and Burke's parents, and his five brothers, traced clues that ended only in disappointment. When Mrs. Patrick Burke seemed near death from a heart ailment, messages were broadcast throughout the country. But if any of them reached "Joe Bond" it struck no responsive chord.

But he did know that there was a mystery to be solved, and that his name probably was Joe Bond. So when a wartime buddy called him

BY WILLIAM WEEKES

Associated Press Sports Writer

Chicago—(AP)—If the St. Louis Cardinals send their American association junior varsity club at Columbus some good pitchers, the Red Birds are likely to become extremely tough to beat.

The talent, other than hurlers, sent to Columbus by the Cards, is providing base knocks in large quantities, enough to offset rather indifferent fielding, but the pitchers have not measured up. Ten of the throwers on the roster have participated in four or more games, but Columbus took them in fifth position with eleven victories and ten defeats, and none of the pitching records was particularly impressive.

Paul Dean, Dizzy's younger brother, and Al Grabowski looked best in the records, the former having won and lost two in five games, and the latter having won two and lost one in five games or parts thereof.

Walter Miller and Ken Ash each have won one and lost none, but the former had been in four skirmishes, and the latter in five.

The Red Birds yesterday outhit Milwaukee, 11 to 8, but took a 7 to 4 beating when the Brewers clustered their blows. Ted Gullic headed the Milwaukee assault with a homer and two singles, and Earl Caldwell, who did the pitching, contributed another home run. Bevo Le Bon's three singles led the Red Birds to bat.

Kansas City regained sole possession of first place by defeating Toledo, 9 to 5, in the opening game of the series. Belve Bean was left in the box all afternoon and was pounded for 13 hits by the Blues, of which six were doubles and one a triple. Hal Smith worked the whole game for the Blues and was thumped for 19 hits.

Rain caused postponement of the Louisville-Minneapolis, and Indianapolis-St. Paul games, permitting Kansas City to break its three way tie with the Millers and Indians.

SONNENBERG TOSSES LUTZE AT MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee—(AP)—Gus Sonnenberg last night threw Nick Lutze two out of three falls to win the headline event of a wrestling card here.

Sonnenberg took the first fall in 26:20 with a flying tackle; Lutze won his fall with a reverse body slam in 27:15; and Sonnenberg wound up by throwing Lutze with a back body fall in 26:15.

In preliminaries, Yassif Mahmoud, Turkey, defeated Pietro Baccio, Chicago, in 29:30; Frank (Man Mountain) Leavitt, New York, defeated Vic Soldat, Chicago, with a body slam in 7:38; Ernest Scharpege, Milwaukee, beat Angelo Lorenz, Milwaukee, in 5:37, and Karl Zyzszo, Chicago, and Lou Talaber, Chicago, went 30 minutes to draw.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Hughie Criz, Giants—Drove out double and three singles, scored two runs and batted in two against Cardinals.

Ernest Lombardi, Reds—Accounted for four runs against Braves, with home run and triple.

Bill Clark, Robins—Scattered Cubs' nine runs and beat them, 2-1.

Lin Storti, Browns—His four singles drove in four runs against Red Sox.

A son of Fritz Pollard, famous negro All-American football player at Brown in 1916, is a star hurdler of Senn high school, Chicago.

Washington Holds Edge Over Yanks, Athletics

BY JOHN B. FOSTER
Copyright 1932

NEW YORK—(CPA)—In the first round robin of games played between the Washington, New York and Philadelphia teams in the American league, Washington has been triumphant—which is much stronger than merely to say the Senators have won.

The success of the Senators has been quite overwhelming against Philadelphia; not so much so against New York, although they made a clean sweep of the present series by taking Tuesday's game. The Yankees are second in the competition among the three teams and the Athletics last. It has not been a balanced series, partly because of the weather and partly because the teams have not been scheduled against one another exactly alike.

Most of all to be considered is the quality of the games. The Senators have been playing championship ball, and a little better. Had New York not won six games from the Boston team, the Yankees would not be as high in the race as they are. Washington has won five games from Boston. Philadelphia hasn't had much of the Boston diet yet, but it is as successful as the team of 1931 it will gain some weight from Boston in time.

Nats Not Afraid

"My boys are not afraid of the Athletics," said Clark Griffith, when he conversed with his observer at their Blox, Miss, training camp. "We didn't win the championship last year because we had some bad luck and played some bad ball, but we had a lot of our bad luck against the Athletics. We gave them a start in the spring because the breaks of the games between us all went their way. The eastern team that we will have to fight hardest this year is New York. The Yanks can hit further than the Athletics."

ENGLISH IS READY FOR DUTY WITH CUBS

Chicago—(AP)—Woody English, the Cubs' shortstop, who has been out of action since the training season because of a fractured finger, is ready to go back to work.

English got into yesterday's game with Brooklyn as a pinch batsman, but Manager Rogers Hornsby has not decided to remove Bill Jurges while the club is going well.

Tick On Favored To Win 58th Renewal Of Kentucky Derby

BUDDY ENSOR, EARL SANDE HAVE MOUNTS

Field Wide Open; New Three Year Old Sensation May Be Crowned

BY ALAN GOULD
LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(AP)—It's still the one horse race in America that really grips the imagination of the sports-following public this Kentucky derby, but its fifty-eighth running tomorrow around the picturesque oval at Churchill Downs lacks much of its customary glamour and most of its usual thoroughbred class.

For the very reason that the field is more wide open than in years it may be a better and more exciting

DERBY DOPE
Time and place — Churchill Downs, Louisville, about 5 o'clock central standard time, May 7.
Weather — probably showers, warm.

Conditions — for three-year-olds $50,000 added, of which $5,000 to second, $3,000 to third and $1,000 to fourth, owner of the winner to receive a gold trophy.

Probable starters—12 to 15.
Favorite—Tick On, owned by Mrs. Louis G. Kaufmann of New York, at odds of 2 to 1. Second choice, Bradley entry, Burgo King and Brother Joe, 4 to 1.

Record—2:01 4/5 for the mile and a quarter, by Twenty Grand, 1931.

Most winners, jockey — three each by Isaac Murphy and Earl Sande.

Most winners, owner — Two each by Harry Payne Whitney, Col. Edward R. Bradley, George J. Long and T. J. Nichols.

Longest price winners—Donerail, $184.90 in 1913; Exterminator, $61.20 in 1918.

Shortest priced winner—1 to 3, on Hinnoc in 1881, Helma in 1895 and Agile in 1905.

race, even if no more than a dozen or so go to the barrier, but the uncertainty and unrest of the times has unquestionably struck this classic of old Kentucky.

Looks Like Rain
Within four days this week, the great filly Top Flight, winter book favorite: Burning Blaze, Western Star, and Universe, winner of the Wood Memorial, all were scratched. And just as though the gods had not already felt the blowcoming, the weather man says it looks like rain for derby day.

Tick On, the handsome black son of On Watch and Star of the Loma stable, owned by Mrs. Louis G. Kaufmann of New York, is the nearest thing now to a standstill, at odds of 2 to 1. Perhaps this eastern colt is the best of a sub-normal field but there are plenty of experts who want to see it demonstrated before they will agree. Probably they figure it's about time for an upset, since the favorites have won five of the last six derbies.

Although good excuses are offered Tick On was defeated in its only previous three-year-old start and won only three of its ten starts as a juvenile. Certainly there is nothing in this record or the achievements of any other colt of sufficient to qualify in the super-horse class to which Gallant Fox, in 1930, and Twenty Grand, last year, belonged.

May Develop Sensation
Run earlier than usual, and prior to the Preakness for the first time in years, the derby may develop a new three-year-old sensation, but the rail birds do not look for anything approaching Twenty Grand's record performance of 2:01 4/5.

While surprises are being considered it may be well to keep an eye on Hoops, a chestnut gelding owned by W. F. Knebelkamp. This horse, not previously considered in the pre-derby calculations, came tearing down the stretch at the Downs yesterday to win a claiming race, at a mile, in the starting time of 1:37-3/5. Immediately its owner announced Hoops would be entered in the $50,000 classic, along with Adole Post, owned by C. H. Knebelkamp and Richard Morris.

Two of the greatest jockeys of all time will ride Mrs. Whitney's entries. Buddy Ensor, making a big comeback, will be astride Stenpetchit, son of the Porter. Ensor has never won a derby. Earl Sande will have the leg up on Over Time. He has won three derbies and will set a record if he boots home another.

The times' D's stable of Fort Worth, Texas, has a long-shot contender in Liberty Limited, but this bay colt's chances cannot be over-looked, despite uncertain workouts and tender feet. It has the speed to beat any horse in the field, if sustained over the full route of a mile and a quarter, but hasn't won a race since derby day of last year.

No-Hit
game hurled on Pacific coast

Sacramento, Calif.—(AP)—The first no-hit, no-run game of the 1932 Pacific coast baseball league season is credited to Tony Freitas, a left hander, of Sacramento.

Freitas blanked Oakland last night to win 2 to 0. No Oakland batter reached first until the seventh, and then on a walk. Another pass was given in the ninth. Freitas fanned five.

Bob Fuss, right fielder for Wichita Falls in the Texas circuit, set a league mark last year with but one error in 146 games.

Burleigh Grimes refuses to throw his "splitter" for photographers, fearing lest he disclose the "secret" of his preparation of the ball.

Chaff'n Chatter

By Gordon R. McIntire

WHEN Notre Dame's spring football practice is concluded with an intra-varsity game Saturday, a sophomore named Roche will play right tackle on one of the teams with Harry Wunsch and Jack Flynn at the guards and Ben Alexander at center. From that it may be assumed those young men have shown Hunk Anderson enough during the spring drills to insure them plenty of action during the 1932 campaign.

March Schwartz, Tom Yarr, Nordey Hoffman and Al Culver, who graduate in June, will occupy their regular positions on the veterans' team just to make competition keen and interesting for the boys who will carry on for Notre Dame next fall. Anderson likely found several embryonic stars in the mob that participated in spring practice but true to the old Notre Dame custom he is giving them no bellyhoo. Opponents will learn about them in due time.

The start of the baseball season in the Pacific coast league has not been very encouraging from the standpoint of attendance. Conse-

Calling the Strikes
New York—(CPA)—In closing their series at Washington the Yanks and the Senators celebrated "gift day" Tuesday. Although no records are available this game evidently set a new record for gifts in the major leagues.

To start the ball rolling, so to speak, pitcher Charles Ruffing of the Yanks was given a doll. It was the gift from Ruffing's Yank team mates, it being the big right-hander's twenty-eighth birthday. The doll was a celluloid one, with a piece of rock of pink, bearing the label "Miss Washington." Catcher Bill Dickey also received a gift. It was a notice of a three-day vacation from the office of the league, Dickey being "set down" for language unprintable addressed to Empire Owens Monday, when Brick called him out on strikes. Marse Joe McCarthy also got a gift. His combined troupe of diamond acrobats gave him a most excruciating headache. The combined hurlers of the two teams gave away 23 bases on balls and 23 base runners died on the sacks, giving away a possible 23 chances to score. Johnny Allen, who came to the Yanks from the international league, took it all too seriously. He pitched 5-2-3 innings and gave neither hit nor run to the Senators. Manager McCarthy of the Yanks promptly gave him orders to retire from the game. He was not given to the spirit of the occasion.

MACKS POUND WES FERRELL; WIN 15 AND 3

Cubs Error and Brooklyn Dodgers Beat Cubs and Charlie Root

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer
WESLEY FERRELL won more games than any right-hander in the American league last season, 22 of them, but he still is just a "cousin" to the Philadelphia Athletics.

The Cleveland ace started against the Mackmen six times last year, was knocked out of the box twice and charged with five defeats, almost half his total of reverses against all clubs. He didn't win one.

Yesterday, flushed from five consecutive victories over western teams, Ferrell was chosen to open the eastern campaign at Shibe park.

When Ferrell finally threw in the sponge in the seventh inning he had been raked for 12 hits and scored was 11 to 2. The final count after the A's had finished up on Pete Jablonowski, was 15 to 3, and the Indians had slipped from second place into third, behind the idle Detroit Tigers.

Ferrell's rout spoiled what had promised to be a pitchers' "natural." Lefty Grove held the invaders to six hits, struck out five and didn't allow a blow until the seventh.

Browns Rally and Win
In the only other American league tussle, the St. Louis Browns rallied to score nine runs in the sixth and seventh rounds and defeat Boston, 11 to 3. Bump Hadley, much traveled right-hander, held the Red Sox to seven hits.

Thanks to two errors by their opponents at crucial spots, the Brooklyn Dodgers opened their tour of the National league's western points with a 2 to 1 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Mickey Vernon, who took the outfield gave the Dodgers their first run off Charley Root in the sixth, and Stan Hack's fumble put Lopez on base with the winning run in the seventh. It was Root's first defeat this year.

Ernie Lombardi, big catcher, returned to the Cincinnati lineup to knock in four runs with a home run and a triple and prove a big factor in the Reds' 9 to 6 defeat of the Boston Braves.

Led by Bill Terry and Hughie Critz, the eighth place New York Giants slugged Bill Hallahan and three other Cardinal pitchers for a 10 to 6 victory in their opener.

The Phillies were rained out at Pittsburgh.

MACHINES SCORE 17 TO 2 VICTORY OVER CHAIRS-INTERS

Score Nine Runs in First Two Innings and Take Easy Victory

APPLETON Machine company softballers last night won their first game of the 1932 season in the American league when they pounded out 17 hits good for 17 runs. The losing team, the Chair-Interlakes got 12 hits good for but two runs.

The Machines scored four runs in the first inning and the Chairs came back with one. In the second five more rallies were shored across the plate by the Machines and one each in the third and fourth frames. Thereafter bats were idle until the seventh when one run was scored and the eighth when five were chased across the rubber. The Chairs got their second and last run in the second inning.

Box score of the game follows:

VIKE GOLF, TENNIS TEAMS MEET RIPPON

Lawrence Squads Both Opened 1932 Season Last Week With Wins

Lawrence college golf team will seek its second straight Big Four victory tomorrow morning when it meets the Ripon college golf team over Butte des Morts course. Last week the Vikes defeated Carroll college team, considered one of the strongest in the league.

The Vikes probably will be represented by the same team that humbled Carroll, Captain Jim McKenney, Carson Harwood, Don Sawyer and Don Farrish. The match is scheduled to begin at 9:30 in the morning.

At 1:30 in the afternoon on the campus courts the Vike net team will clash with Ripon netters. Lawrence netters also started the season with a win in tennis, beating Carroll last week.

John Strange is the ranking netter for the Vikes, and will compete in singles as will Joe Negrescou, Jack Best, Bill Tams, and Kirby Tink. Doubles teams will be Strange and Negrescou, Best and Tink, and Stegath.

LITTLE 9 SOFTBALL TEAMS IN TOURNEY

Kimberly—The Little Nine conference second annual kitten ball tournament will be held Saturday on three courts at Kimberly. The high schools sending teams are Hortonville, Seymour, Shiocton, Bear Creek, Pulaski, Kimberly, Denmark, Reedsville, Brillion, Hibt, Wrightstown, Freedom.

The courts to be used are the high school court, ball park court, and the mill court at the park.

Charley Jamieson, ousted by Joe Vosmik from the outfield at Cleveland, is third base coach when he is not pinch-hitting.

Fred Sington, former Alabama football star, is playing first base with th- Columbus, Ga., team of the Southeastern league.

HILLTOP, BADGER TRACKMEN CLASH

Dr. Clarence W. Spears, U. of W. Grid Coach, Will Be Referee

Milwaukee —(AP)—Marquette and University of Wisconsin track and field men meet here tonight at the Marquette Stadium in a starlight dual meet, giving sports followers an opportunity to see the flying Marquette sophomore, Ralph Metcalfe, Negro dash man, in action.

Wisconsin arrives a slight favorite to take the duel meet because of strength in the field events. Metcalfe, who tied the .5 world record in winning the century dash at the Drake trials a week ago, is expected to lead the Hilltop to victory in the dashes.

While Metcalfe is in top shape, Coach Conrad Jennings reports, it is likely he will not extend himself tonight in attempts to beat any records since he is saving up for the heavy grind of the Olympic trials.

Dr. Clarence W. Spears, University of Wisconsin football coach, will referee the meet. The javelin and discus throws will be held in the afternoon.

MARK HORSES AGAIN BEING PARADED IN DEMOCRATIC RANKS

Republican Stalwarts Gain Heart in Fight for Hoover Nomination

BY BYRON PRICE
Washington (P)—Another parade of Democratic favorite sons and dark horses is beginning, stirring the dust of new uncertainties for the party just as the Republican stalwarts show notable signs of consolidating their position behind President Hoover.

At no previous time since the presidential campaign began has there been a more varied and conflicting discussion of candidates among the Democrats, or greater outward show of hopefulness among the Republicans.

In both cases the California primary is largely responsible. Governor Roosevelt's defeat there is stimulating both his friends and his enemies to redoubled exertion. President Hoover's unexpectedly large vote, coupled with other developments, is greatly encouraging his supporters.

Acknowledgment by Senator Norris of Nebraska, last night that he would support a Roosevelt ticket as against Hoover was hardly a surprise. He deserted the Republicans in favor of Smith in '28.

The Democrats have come to a crucial time. As the California returns rolled up the margin of Speaker John N. Garner's victory over Roosevelt, many of the New York governor's opponents said in their haste and exuberance that this was the end of the Roosevelt boom. The tendency has been to amend that judgment after more careful consideration, but the search for a compromise candidate is going forward with great diligence as the Roosevelt men prepare to fill up the gaps and carry on with more determination than ever.

Among the favorite sons, the present speculation of the anti-Roosevelt leaders centers around Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, and former Gov. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia. There is even more talk, however, of bringing definitely into the field someone with no delegates now pledged to him, and trying out party opinion. There is a revival of discussion about Newton D. Baker, Owen D. Young and Melvin A. Traynor.

One of the greatest evidences of the dominant position still occupied by Roosevelt, however, lies in the fact that nothing like an agreement is in sight on any one candidate to oppose him. Garner's friends seem to have little hope of nominating him, despite California. Few responsible leaders believed Alfred E. Smith can repeat. The talk goes on, but it is largely on the same old lines, getting nowhere in particular.

Unquestionably California was a jolt to the Roosevelt cause. It means there will be nothing cut and dried about the nomination in advance of the convention. It does not mean, however, that the Roosevelt drive has stopped.

While California was giving Garner its 44, and thus making him a real factor in the convention with an assurance of nearly 100 votes, South Dakota and Alabama were presenting Roosevelt with another 34, bringing his total to 112, exclusive of the big disputed delegations from New York and Pennsylvania.

This total the Roosevelt people hope to double within the next month. It is an impressive figure, even as it stands, for this season of the year. The forecast is for very unsettled and trying weather when the convention meets late in June.

The Republican returns from California caused almost as much surprise in Washington as the Democratic. Hoover was unopposed in the primary, yet he polled well over half a million, and more than Roosevelt, Garner and Smith combined.

The party leaders had urged that voters turn out and give their fellow-Californian a vote of confidence, but it hardly was expected the response would be so great. Considered along with the Maryland primary of the preceding day, in which Hoover swamped Dr. Joseph I. France, and the Hoover victory in South Dakota, it suffered up Republican backbones considerably.

The party managers had been very hesitant and jumpy about direct primary contests, knowing what an outburst of criticism had been loosed at the White House on the score of the depression, and recalling what happened at the 1930 congressional elections. Now they feel better.

MANIAC IS SOUGHT IN OHIO WOMAN'S MURDER

Toledo, Ohio (P)—Strangled to death and criminally assaulted by an unidentified man, the body of Miss Winifred Hafferty, 22, detainee at the Robinson hospital, was found early today in an exclusive Toledo residential section.

Police blamed a maniac for the attack, and said the young woman was killed only after a terrific struggle. Almost all of her clothing was torn from her body.

The body was found by Richard Carr, son of W. C. Carr, prominent Toledo banker, on the front lawn of his father's home, only a short distance from the hospital. Carr observed the young woman's form CAMERA PLANE "GUNS" Solbridge Field, Mich.—The First Pursuit Group of the U. S. Army has received twenty camera "guns" to be used in connection with its airplane tactical training. The guns are operated by a trigger on the control stick. Instead of shooting bullets, the guns shoot pictures of the object or plane being attacked. The pictures show the spot where a bullet, if discharged by a gun, would strike the attacked plane.

OPERA COMPANY, FACING DEFICIT, NOW TOTTERING

Metropolitan Company Sees Big Real Estate Loss if It Disbands

BY NOEL THORNTON
New York (P)—The majestic golden horseshoe of the Metropolitan Opera company is tottering as that organization finds itself indeed "between the devil and the deep blue sea."

If Giulio Gatti-Casazza proceeds next year with the fiftieth season of grand opera in New York, a $550,000 deficit must first be removed and enough extra capital collected to guarantee 155 performances, each of which costs from $12,000 to $15,000.

If it is decided to disband the company, not only will it mean the ending of Gatti-Casazza's 25 years of successful reign, but there will be an additional tremendous loss in real estate.

The ancient opera house, hallowed by glorious traditions, has about outlived its use. The location ordinarily is an extremely valuable one, but at present the property would bring far below its real value.

Facies Opposition
The realization that it is in dire financial straits comes at an embarrassing time for the Met, for this ruling company is about to meet the first opposition it has encountered since its historic battles with Oscar Hammerstein's Manhattan Opera company from 1906 to 1910.

An opera house is being erected in the Rockefeller Center on Fifth avenue, and undoubtedly there will be a new company to tenant it. The Rockefellers have never been enthusiastic patrons of opera, but they are determined to bring this classic entertainment to the masses in their new theater.

Otto H. Kahn, who succeeded as chairman of the Met board by Paul Cravath, attempted to persuade the Met to construct a new home farther uptown several years ago, but "the old guard" stood pat on its determination to continue in its old ways in its old home. The suggestion that the Met move into the Rockefeller center also was scorned.

Owned By Wealthy Families
The Met really is owned by 35 of New York's most famous families. Their fortunes could guarantee the continuation of the company, but it is said that all do not desire to carry the burden.

Losses in some personal fortunes have brought about a withdrawal of support.

Until this season, the general public had little opportunity to attend opera because of the difficulty of getting seats. When they did become available, they didn't have the money.

Directors made an effort to popularize opera, even to broadcasting several performances. Stars and employees accepted a ten percent cut in salaries, but these moves did little to encourage the box office.

Programs Criticized
There has been some criticism, too, of the programs this winter. Critics have complained that the Met "hasn't kept up with the times," and they point out that Lily Pons is the only outstanding singer introduced in recent seasons.

The mainstays of the company continue to be Rosa Ponselle, Maria Jeritza, Edward Marshall, Lawrence Tibbett and Scotti.

Although reticent directors have found no solution for their problem, only two paths seem to offer them. One is to discover a new "angel" who is willing to take over most of the financial burden.

The other is to turn the company over to the Rockefeller's opera house, and abandon their present site.

FAMOUS TROPHIES IN GOLD MELTING POTS

Hard Times, Increased Prices for Gold Lead to Disposal of Treasures

London (P)—Thirty years ago the people of Kimberly, South Africa, presented to the late Field Marshal the Earl of Ypres a magnificent sword, its hilt of gold encrusted with diamonds and rubies.

The Earl treasured it as a memento of his Boer war campaign. But with his death hard times and increased prices for gold resulting from Britain's lapse from the gold standard have led to sale of the sword to a London bullion broker.

The broker thinks the trophy too beautiful to melt up and is considering its return to Kimberly.

One of the Ascot gold cups won at the famous track since beginning of the reign of George V, has also been sold to a broker. There is much speculation as to which of the 22 Ascot meetings since 1910 it belonged.

The Gold Cup, a magnificent trophy of the turf, brought $1,500 from the broker. He immediately scratched off its name and date so that unfavorable publicity might not attach to its previous owner.

BADGERS VOTED FOR STABILIZATION BILL

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau) Washington—The 239 votes, which carried the Goldborough bill to stabilize the dollar and restore commodity prices, to victory in the house of representatives included nine Wisconsin "yeas."

Wisconsin Progressive Republicans, a stalwart Republican and the one lone Democrat united to vote for the measure directing the Federal board to regulate currency and credit with a view of establishing and maintaining a commodity price level at the average reached in the years 1921 to 1929.

Only Rep. William Stafford of Milwaukee of the Badger delegation voted against the bill. Rep. John M. Nelson of Madison did not vote.

327 SCALES TESTED BY SEALER IN APRIL

Of the 327 scales and various measuring devices used in Appleton business establishments, Joseph A. Hodgins, city sealer of weights and measures, last month sealed 320, adjusted 23, condemned five for repairs and condemned two for further use. In his tryout work he made 29 visits, finding 110 devices correct and three incorrect. He inspected four computing scales, and one wagon scale, and retested one counter and one computing scales.

MANY FEATURES FOR NEW SHREDDED BISCUIT

Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit Set New Standard for This Type of Cereal

Local grocers are featuring a new shredded biscuit developed by the Kellogg Company of Battle Creek, Michigan, which is a decided improvement in many ways. The improved Kellogg's biscuit is "pressure-cooked" by a special process that retains the complete food value of the whole wheat. At the same time, delightful flavor is baked in.

Other improvements are a biscuit of more convenient, economical size. Two of these new biscuits just fit the cereal bowl. You get 15 to the package instead of the usual dozen. And every biscuit is toasted a rich golden brown on both top and bottom—not just one side. This makes them exceptionally crisp.

These new biscuits have been analyzed by the Medical Arts Laboratory of Philadelphia and found to be so rich in food value that every package is certified. Any mother can now be certain her family is getting a well-balanced food with these new Kellogg's biscuits.

Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuits are tasty for breakfast, lunch, children's suppers. Extra good with fruits or sweetened with honey—in addition to the milk or cream.

You can identify these new biscuits by the name, Kellogg's, and the familiar red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

DEMOCRATS IN FREE-FOR-ALL PARTY BATTLE

California Primary Result Has Tendency to Upset Presidential Race

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1932 by Post Pub. Co. Washington — California, noted for her surprises in national politics, has upset the Democratic presidential race and made it a free-for-all just at the time when it looked as if Governor Roosevelt of New York was practically assured of the nomination.

Speaker Garner, who won the primary, has always had potential strength notwithstanding recent reverses and his difficulties in managing the house of representatives. The true significance of the California result is not that it advances Mr. Garner's candidacy so much as it reveals the underlying resistance to Roosevelt's nomination. It began to be doubtful that Roosevelt would be nominated even before the California result.

For the last several weeks the Republicans have been privately expressing the hope that Roosevelt would win the nomination, because they figured he was the easiest man to beat. This information from Republican sources is interesting as indicating the trend of politics and the strategy of the opposite parties.

Foes Not United
There have been at work various conflicting forces trying to head off the Roosevelt nomination, and while it is too early to say that even the California primary is decisive, the truth is that the groups opposed to the Roosevelt nomination are by no means allied to each other even though they have a common objective.

Thus former Governor Smith has nothing in common with William G. McAdoo, as the famous Madison Square garden convention of 1924 would remind political observers, but Mr. McAdoo is largely responsible for the defeat of Roosevelt in California.

ifornia. The former secretary of the treasury got behind the Garner movement early and has managed to put his own personality and political organization into the field in support of the speaker. The Hearst newspapers in northern and southern California have been whooping it up for Garner for several months. In many respects the fight inside the Democratic party was one of organization, with the leaders of the 1928 campaign divided.

It is obvious that if Garner had not been in the race, many of the votes he received would have gone to Roosevelt as against Smith.

Strategy in Question

A better strategy on the part of the Roosevelt leaders might have been to confine the race to a battle between Garner and South, but here again it is doubtful whether the Roosevelt forces could have afforded to forfeit such an important state as California.

The opportunity for a deadlock has arisen again, as it so often does in Democratic conventions, because a one-third block of delegates can exercise a veto power. Talk of compromise candidates is already in the air, on the assumption that Garner and the so-called favorite sons' group of candidates will prevent the nomination of Roosevelt. Such a result as that in California gives every favorite son renewed hope and causes the managers of the other candidates to stick together in the hope that any one of their number may have a better chance for the presidency or vice presidency.

Veterans politicians here feel that the California primary marks a turning point in the pre-convention battle and that if the Roosevelt strength is of the bandwagon variety it will not grow, but will tend to recede as convention time approaches. Renewed comments about Newton Baker, Owen Young, and Melvin Traylor are significant of a belief that history will repeat itself and that the nominee of the next convention will be a compromise candidate.

CHANGE AIR COLORS

Washington—A new color combination for day marking of rotating beacons on the federal airway system has been adopted by the Aeronautics Branch of the U. S. Department of Commerce. The new colors are orange and white; old colors were yellow and black, and red and yellow combinations.

COMMENCEMENT IS TO FOLLOW CLASS PLAY FOR 1ST TIME

"The King Rides By" Will Be Presented Next Monday Evening

The Appleton high school play, "The King Rides By," scheduled for 8 o'clock Monday night at Lawrence Memorial chapel, is the first senior class play to be given before commencement week.

In former years, the class play was a part of commencement activities which take place the last week of school. In order to relieve the strain of class activities from the seniors in the cast and to hold more regular rehearsals, plans were made for this year's annual play about three weeks early.

Rehearsals are being held daily at the high school under Miss Ruth McKenna, dramatics coach, in preparation for the play Monday night. The entire cast have either appeared before in high school dramatics or forensic activities and the leading man, Emmett Morrell, whose double role is that of a gangster and a prince, is outstanding in high school athletics.

Besides the cast, there is a business staff of eight seniors and Miss Laura Livermore, faculty advisor, and three teams in charge of ticket sales this week which opened Thursday. Students will assist with the entire production of the play, from the backstage settings, lighting to the dramatic acting.

APPLETON GIRL GIVEN DIPLOMA

Miss Florence E. Finger, 1115 N. Drew-st., was one of 19 graduate nurses who received diplomas last week from the Health Service Training school, Milwaukee. Miss Alice McDonnell, Oshkosh, was a classmate of Miss Finger. Mrs. A. L. Blackstone, Waukesha, was the principal speaker at the exercises.

The school is conducted by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association to train nurses for public health work.

The Romance Of Your Milk Supply

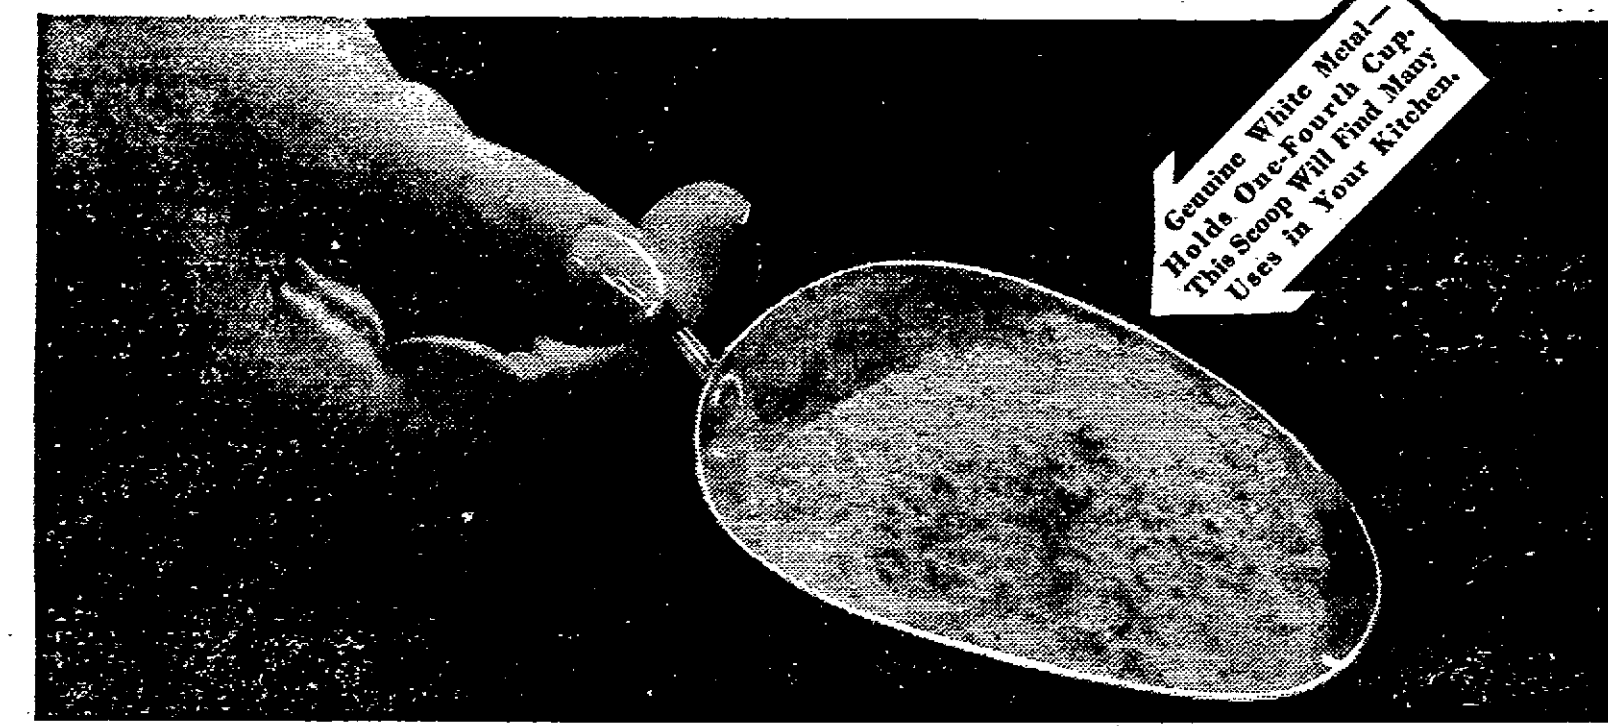

Thanks to Louis Pasteur, the father of pasteurization, modern milk plants are mechanically equipped for proper pasteurization. From healthy cows in green pastures the story of our milk supply is a fascinating one. From the specially selected Dairy Farms the milk is hurried to our dairy. Here it is inspected, for milk must be of standard quality. Butterfat, acidity, and bacteria tests are made by the laboratory experts. Then the milk is thoroughly pasteurized and cooled. After the pasteurization and cooling, the milk is bottled and sealed, and leaves the plant untouched by human hands. Our trucks and wagons then deliver the milk to your door. The extra care taken ... makes Outagamie Milk Extra Good.

Laboratory discoveries prove value of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Here's why ALL-BRAN belongs on your table

IN THE past few months, many new scientific findings indicate that ALL-BRAN is a valuable addition to the daily diet. These laboratory investigations show that ALL-BRAN is an important source of two things needed to overcome constipation. "Bulk" to exercise the intestines. Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. (You will be interested in reading some of the results of these tests in the panel on the right.)

"Bulk" and vitamin B will help protect you from constipation and its effects—the headaches, the loss of energy, the poor appetite, the sleeplessness, the backaches, the wrinkles that so frequently result.

Now, in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, you have both "bulk" and vitamin B in one delicious cereal. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Moreover, ALL-BRAN furnishes iron for the blood. Tests prove that this famous health-cereal provides twice as much assimilable iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

Isn't it much pleasanter to enjoy this appetizing cereal than to risk taking pills and drugs—so often harmful and habit-forming?

Try two tablespoonfuls daily—usually sufficient to overcome most types of constipation. If you suffer from a severe intestinal trouble, we suggest you consult your physician.

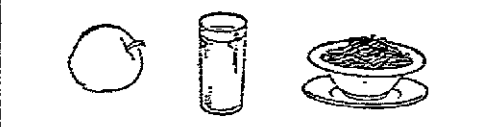

Special cooking and flavoring processes make ALL-BRAN particularly healthful. Tempting recipes on the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Here are some of the results of recent laboratory investigations of bran

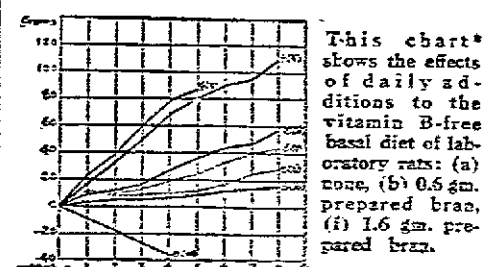

The Bulk in Bran

Laboratory tests show the "bulk" in bran is much like that in leafy vegetables. It may be eaten by most persons who can eat these vegetables.

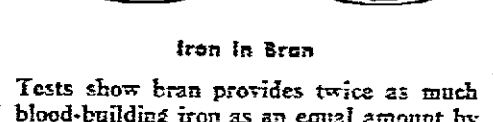

Vitamin B in Bran

One ounce of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains 45 vitamin B units, as much as that in one very large apple or 5 ounces of orange juice.

This chart shows the effects of daily additions of the vitamin B-free basal diet of laboratory rats: (a) control, (b) 0.5 gm. prepared bran, (c) 1.6 gm. prepared bran.

Iron in Bran

Tests show bran provides twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

You Can't Marry
by Julia Cleft-Addams

SYNOPSIS: A plot against George Revell, to discover whether she is the person through which secret information has "leaked" about the overseas department of her employer's business has been arranged by her employer, Matching. He tells his manager, Croze, he has planned a snare, which will prove her guilt or innocence. This test mysteriously concerns Matching's nephew, who, it is implied, is the strange man, Garth Aveney, whom George has just met through Ryder Vale. George has come to Matching's home from Vale's dinner to her and her cousin Jenny, and Aveney has said he would drive her back to the party afterwards. She is doing a rush night job for Matching, and is waiting for his ring when Eddie Townsend comes in. He says she must marry him immediately, as he is going to Mexico to fly for Matching. But if she marries, Matching will fire her.

Chapter 6
WORTH A FELONY
A full, deep tide of color came flushing back to George's face. "I'll marry you before you go, Ed. Tomorrow, if you like."

"Girl!"

"But there's a condition. You must keep our marriage secret so that I can hold this job."

There was a pause. Eddie pushed back the deather helmet and rubbed his head violently.

"How're you going to keep ten days' honeymoon a secret?" he objected. "You've had your holiday."

"There'll be no honeymoon, Ed -- only this weekend and we'll have to spend that in Town in case the Old Man sends for me. But during next week he'll be away. I'm not to go with him this time, so I can shorten my working hours a bit and we shall have a good slice of the days to ourselves. And when your year in Mexico is up --"

"If you think I'm coming back to a wife who won't own to having married me --"

"We can talk about that when the time comes. I'll -- promise nothing." Her voice dropped persuasively. "Come on, old dear, there are hundreds of married women still at their jobs, doubling their husband's incomes for them, giving them a chance of a bit of fun when they get home at night instead of mending the lawn or mending the wireless."

"I get my fun flying. When I'm not flying I want a home."

For a second there hung before George's mind the picture of a little house, windows open to the sun, gay curtains swinging. A home -- And then her vision shifted to the place of all others that seemed most to stand for "her job" -- her own private room at the Matching head-office. She saw again her desk with its telephones and bell-pushes, the pigeon-hole into which she thrust her big weekly check.

It was to the second picture that she clung. After that, how could she find anything but frustration in the little house?

"You'd get your fun flying, Ed. That's the gist of it. For me, there'd be nothing to do but count the pennies while you were away and help you count them when you were home. You can't ask it of me! Especially as I should have to start off with being a grass-widow for a year."

"I think if you read on, sir, you'd find you used the word in the third paragraph." She pointed and her chief, in an access of exasperation, slapped her finger aside. "A provisional loan for which the collateral security --"

"That'll do! That'll do! Shouting out an important negotiation like this -- you realize that there are three men within a mile of us who'd gladly commit a felony to know what's on this piece of paper?"

(Copyright, Julia Cleft-Addams)

He stared at her, rubbing his head, his lips moving in half-audible speech. He looked huge, baffled, rather pathetic.

"Ed!" she whispered tenderly. "We get married tomorrow and then go to some hotel or other here in town?" he questioned. "And I suppose the superintendent at your apartment phones on any message from the Old Man?"

She was shaking her head, laughing softly.

"You innocent! Much chance I'd have that way of keeping my marriage secret! No, it's Jenny who will go to a hotel for a bit and let us have the apartment to ourselves till you go. I can fix it all up." She came round the desk and close to him, laughing up into his silky eyes. "It's so simple, dear stupid, and so -- heavenly nice!"

The blood mounted in his face and he caught at her arm. As she sharply freed herself, a bell rang on her desk; one whirr, long, insistent. She gathered up the typescript, an envelope and sealing wax and made for the door.

"Am I to marry you tomorrow, Ed?"

"Yes," he stammered. "All right. Anything you say. At any rate, until I get back from Mexico. I'll write down time and places and leave 'em here on this desk. Girl -- my girl!"

But, more sharply than before, she pushed past his detaining hands and sped from the room.

As George went across the upper hall the bell rang again and yet again. Her lips tightened. Three years ago she had vowed to herself that never, whatever he did or said, should the Old Man make her lose her temper. Control had become a habit now, but occasionally -- as tonight, after a long, hard day and an emotional evening -- it was a habit that wore thin.

"Good-night, Miss Revell."

The general manager was making his way to the stairs.

"Oh, I didn't see you, Mr. Croze. Good-night!"

She turned down the side corridor and heard the sound of yet another bell. The one was rung by her own hurrying feet as they pressed on the mechanism set in the corridor floor and it warned the Old Man of her approach. All the same, by the time she entered the enormous bed-chamber he was ringing for her for the fourth time.

She came impetuously across to the four-poster and tendered the typescript. Already his withered hand was waiting, twitching and fluttering to snatch the papers from her. For perhaps thirty seconds a blessed calm prevailed. Then --

"Provisionally!" -- I said "provisionally!" His falsetto broke in a jangle of excitement. He glared up at his secretary, his face contorted, his throat working. "This is no good, any of it. It's an imbecile invention on your part. I never dictated any of this. If I weren't surrounded by incompetent, impertinent --"

"I think if you read on, sir, you'd find you used the word in the third paragraph." She pointed and her chief, in an access of exasperation, slapped her finger aside. "A provisional loan for which the collateral security --"

"That'll do! That'll do! Shouting out an important negotiation like this -- you realize that there are three men within a mile of us who'd gladly commit a felony to know what's on this piece of paper?"

KARL HOHLFELD DIES
AFTER CAMPING TRIP

Madison -- (P) -- Karl Voss Hohlfeld, 33, case investigator in the rates and research department of the Public Service Commission, and son of Prof. and Mrs. A. R. Hohlfeld, died early Thursday at a hospital here.

Hohlfeld became ill while on a camping trip Sunday and was brought home by his companions. His parents, and one sister survive. A brother, Rudolph, former University of Wisconsin football star, drowned while swimming a South American river six years ago.

Mr. Hohlfeld was born at Nashville, Tenn., and was graduated from the University of Wisconsin. He worked with a federal geological survey in Santo Domingo and later with the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Company.

Associated Press Financial Editor

New York—(AP)—The best upturn in the stock market in weeks today greeted the fresh drive in Washington to balance the budget. Leading stocks throughout the list advanced from 1 to 5 points or more. Final prices were near the best, and the closing tone was strong. The day's turnover was about 1,500,000 shares.

Issue up to 3 points included American Can, American Telephone, Santa Fe, Air Reduction, Coca Cola, Union Pacific, Public Service of N. J., American Tobacco, U. S. Airmail, and Peoples Gas. Oil was again a conspicuously firm, with gains of a point or more appearing in Standard of N. J., Shell Oil preferred, and Ohio. Pan American "B" was a lightly traded issue, which sold on Tuesday off 6 points, regained its loss today. U. S. Steel and many other prominent issues advanced more than a point. General Motors rallied a major fraction.

While the sharp increase in income taxes proposed by the senate finance committee were viewed with some uneasiness in Wall Street, leading bankers have been so insistent upon the imperative need of balancing the budget as a prerequisite to economic recovery that a hopeful view was taken of the proposed measure. President Hoover's press message to congress urging action upon taxation and economy measures to lift the weight of uncertainty from business was widely construed as a bullish development.

In theory at least, inflationary measures such as the $20,000,000 soldier bonus bill should favor advancing prices for equity shares, but leading bankers in Wall Street have feared that any excessive inflation would be so highly disturbing to the financial structure of the nation as to make any theoretical benefits highly improbable. The more orderly credit expansion program of the federal reserve system has been favored as a "safe and sane" move.

FOREIGN MARKETS AT A GLANCE

London—In view of the holiday tomorrow trading was restricted on the stock exchange. The farthest advance helped fasteners, bonds, and the market closed irregular. Light buying hardened silver and currencies, oil shares and mining issues but others dropped especially Argentine rails. The closing was quiet.

Paris—Prices on the bourse opened weak being affected by yesterday's holiday and Sunday election. Foreign issues were somewhat firmer, and the market closed irregular.

Berlin—The bourse was quiet and closed slightly lower, losses ranging from small fractions to two points.

Central Public Service changed hands at a slight setback. The company's 1931 report showed substantial decrease of profits. It was stated, however, that the company's bank loans have been materially curtailed and been extended to Oct. 1 next.

STEEL CORPORATION TO CUT WAGES, SALARIES

New York—(AP)—The United States Steel Corporation today announced that its employees' wages and salaries would be cut approximately 15 per cent, effective May 15. This is the second wage reduction by the company during the present depression. The first, amounting to 10 per cent, was made on October 1 last.

Reports that this means of further reducing costs was being considered had been heard in financial circles for some time, gaining strength after the corporation's directors last week omitted dividends on the common stock and reported an operating deficit of more than $1,000,000 for the first quarter of 1932.

REBELLION ENDED IN PORTUGUESE COLONY

Lisbon—(AP)—News of a short-lived rebellion on the island of Principe, Portuguese African colony, was received here today.

A gunboat and a force of police from the seat of government on the island of San Thomé restored order. Fifty Europeans and natives were arrested and taken to San Thomé.

REAPPOINTMENTS OFFICIAL

Washington—(AP)—President Hoover today reappointed T. V. O'Connor, chairman of the shipping board, for a new term as a member of that board.

TRADE BUOYANT ON LIVESTOCK MARKET

Traders Unable to Discover Source of Improved Tone

Chicago—(AP)—Evidence of selling resistance was encountered by early traders in the local hog alleys. No development of favorable import could be found to explain the buoyant feeling in the trade, other than that prices have sunk to the point where hogs are a good buy. Receipts of 19,000, only 1,000 lighter than a week ago, carried 10,000 consigned direct to packers, and a liberal state contingency provided plenty of cheap light hogs. While average cost of droves placed at $3.48 on Thursday, second lowest day of the year, was just about half that of a year ago, the current hog-corn price-ratio is the same as it was at this time last year.

Initial asking prices were 5-10c higher and bids followed by odd sales were fully steady with Thursday's average. Strictly choice 350 to 200 lb. hogs were held at $3.85 and above, but hogs scaling 250 lbs. could be had at $3.50.

Slim receipts of bovine stock were in accord with the mood of the trade. Only 1,000 matured cattle and about 500 head of calves furnished the day's working material and most of the regular buyers did not take to the alleys. Steady prices were quoted on a nominal basis for most classes, though a few lots of plain steers were held at firmer figures.

Packers checked in 5,800 head of live muttons which were not quite sufficient to supply their requirements. They were not among early buyers who examined open market offerings. Eastern shippers showed a preference for well finished old crop lambs which gave the trade a firm tone though actual trading was delayed.

MILLIONS CUT FROM WAR FUND BY COMMITTEE

2,000 Officers Taken Off Active List in War Department Measure

Washington—(AP)—Slashed by many millions under President Hoover's budget estimates, the list of the big regular supply bills for 1933—that for the war department—was reported to the house Thursday by its appropriation committee.

Cutting 2,000 officers off the active list and making other sweeping reductions, the measure carries $186,983,000 for maintenance of the army and its non-military activities. It is $58,789,000 below current appropriations and $24,350,000 less than the budget estimates.

The reduction brings to $180,000,000 the amount deducted by the Democratic controlled committee from President Hoover's request for funds for the maintenance of the federal government in 1933. Only the second deficiency appropriation bill remains to be presented before congress adjourns.

Of the total, $291,539,000 is for military activities, while $105,444,000 is for non-military work of the department, including a lump sum of $60,000,000 for the improvement of rivers and harbors and $32,000,000 for the Mississippi valley flood control project.

Not one budget estimate was increased and no item not recommended by President Hoover was included in the measure.

In his report, Representative Collins of Mississippi, Democratic chairman of the sub-committee which prepared the measure, pointed out that approximately $222,000,000 of the amount allotted to the army, goes for the pay, expenses and subsistence of personnel.

Other Economies
Besides cutting from 12,000 to 10,000 the number of officers, the bill proposes suspension of camps for reserve officers training; suspension of citizens military training camps; suspension of 14 day training pay for organized reserves; a $5,555,000 curtailment of transportation of troops and officers; a $3,219,000 reduction in subsistence allowances, and reduction in flying pay totaling $112,500.

Although the amount allotted army air corps activities is $54,798,000, the general expenses, including outlays for work on the five year expansion program, are set at $25,541,000.

The report said this expansion program, authorized in 1926, could not be completed in 1932, because it would require 2,058 airplanes to maintain the 1,800 in active service, there being 12 1/2 per cent un-serviceable at all times. At present the army is 198 planes short of the 1,800.

"Where is the money coming from properly to equip and round out this relatively new but most potent component of the regular army?" the report asked. "It will cost money, and with a limited budget the question becomes serious, and it would seem that for some time to come we must look within the army organization itself to find the necessary funds."

National Guard Funds
The bill carries a total of $31,413,000 for the militia bureau, $1,645,000 less than the budget estimates. Nearly all goes to the national guard. It provided no funds for the national rifle matches, usually costing $500,000 a year.

The allotment for reserve officers training activities was cut to $3,007,611, or $3,684,000 less than the budget.

get and $2,750,000 below current outlays, while the organized reserves were given $4,244,000, or $2,109,000 less than the budget and $2,293,000 less than for this year.

For the military academy at West Point, $2,363,000 was set aside, a cut of $197,600 below the budget and $303,000 less than for this year.

Among important items in the non-military activity section, was the $11,146,000 allotment for the Panama canal, a cut of $3,576,000 below budget estimates, and $151,280 for the Washington-Alaska cable.

Among restrictions proposed in the measure are that the number of army bands be limited to 85; that post officers holding civilian positions shall not receive more than $3,000 a year; that no additional outlays be made for pilgrimages of Gold Star mothers to France to visit graves of their sons because more than $1,000,000 remains unused from last year; and that subsistence traveling expenses of personnel be reduced from $6 to $5 a day.
